INCLUDE SOUTH AMERICA IN YOUR VACATION TRIP ...TAKES ONLY 1½ DAYS

Luxurious comfort, huge 22 and 40 passenger seaplanes, radio-equipped

A THOUSAND people a week did it last year—even more will do it this year—transform a Florida vacation into a trip abroad by means of America's "Merchant Marine of the Air."

These gigantic P. A. A. airliners are a marvelous travel experience. They carry passengers, airmail and express to principal cities of the West Indies, Central and South America. They've made the trip to Havana or Nassau a mere two-hour hop. Countries that once were weeks distant are now only a few hours or a few days away. Here are some examples of P. A. A. speed:

Merida, Yucatan, in 7 hours	Panama in 2 days
Jamaica in 7 hours	Barranquilla, Colombia, in 1½ days
Mexico City in 47 hours	Bogota, Colombia, in 2½ days
Haiti and Santo Domingo in 1 day	Lima, Peru, in 4 days
Port of Spain, Trinidad, in 2 days	Santiago, Chile, in 6 days
Buenos Aires and Montevideo in 7½ days	Rio de Janeiro in 6 days

Reduced round-trip fares now in effect. For information and reservations, see your hotel porter, any travel bureau—or phone our Miami office, 44 Biscayne Blvd. (night or day) Miami 2-4188.

ST. AUGUSTINE

OCIETY attended the second performance this season of the Play Readers in the studio at Dream Harbor. The play was "Loyalties," by John Galsworthy and was produced by Miss Amey E. MacMillen. Mrs. Arthur Buckner Barret, the hostess, was assisted by Mrs. Martin D. Hardin, Mrs. Theodore M. Livesay and Mrs. William T. Durrett. The amateur cast included Mrs. Frederick S. Vail, Mrs. Knight McClintick, Miss Edith Taylor, Mr. T. Rogero Mickler, the Rev. L. Fitz-James Hindry, Col. W. A. MacWilliams, Dr. J. R. Moseley and Messrs. Edward B. Mears, Fred S. Henderich, Bertram C. Mickler, G. B. Lamar, Charles F. Hopkins, Jr., Tyler J. Van Campen, Sterling Marsh, A. W. J. Watt, Malcolm Leslie Stephens and J. W. Hoffman.

The Iris Circle of the Garden Club of St. Augustine held their meeting Monday morning at the home of Mrs. Elbridge Gerry Snow, of New York. Committees were named to work on plans for the annual garden show to be held March 30, in the Alcazar patio.

Mr. Scott M. Luftin was luncheon guest Monday of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Kenan, Jr., at the Ponce de Leon.

Mrs. B. S. Potter, of Minneapolis, motored from Miami and is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hoffman.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Howe and daughter, Betty Ann, of Loon Lake, N. Y., have arrived from New York to visit Mr. Howe's brother, Mr. Bernard R. Howe, manager of the Ponce de Leon. The F. L. Howes will pass the winter at Palm Beach.

Mrs. Sidell Tilghman, of Madison, N. J., gave a luncheon Wednesday at the Ponce de Leon for Mrs. A. M. Day, and the Misses Grace and Mary Thomas, of New York; Grace Walker, of Montclair, and Virginia Callmeyer, of Madison. The party motored from Ormond Beach. Another luncheon was given by Mr. and Mrs. William R. Kenan, Jr., for Mrs. Kara Geffcken and Mr. Scott M. Loftin, of Jacksonville.

Miss Josephine E. Mason, former vice president of the New York State Federation of Women's Clubs, entertained Mrs. F. P. Rathbun, of Hornell, N. Y., a house guest of Miss Mason, at Daytona Beach.

Mr. Warren King Moorehead, author and archeologist, of Andover, Mass., and Mrs. Moorehead, arrived Wednesday at the Cordova. Mr. Moorehead is inspecting various relics here. Other arrivals include Mr. and Mrs. E. F. McKinley, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Brook, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Martin, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Vogel, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Burk and Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Dabury, of Trenton, N. J., and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Heyman, of Philadelphia.

Arrivals at the Ponce de Leon include Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Godfrey, Mr. and Mrs. Mervin L. Lane, Miss M. C. Benn, of New York; Mrs. H. M. Byllesby, Mrs. Maude D. Colson, Miss M. G. Baldwin, of Roselle, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Holman, of Leominster, Mass., and Mr. William C. McConnell, of Shmokin, Pa.

Mrs. John T. Dismukes and daughter, Mrs. Robert Miller, motored to Jacksonville to attend the meeting and luncheon of the Colonial Dames.

The Misses Amey and Ann MacMillan gave a supper recently at their home for Rev. and Mrs. Samuel Tyler, Mrs. Reginald White and Miss Mary Gibbs Smethurst.

the concert Monday night at the Ponce de Leon. In parties were Mr. and Mrs. William R. Kenan, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. W. R. McIntosh, Mr. and Mrs. Everett I. Rogers, Mrs. Homer W. Osborn, Mrs. H. P. Cornell, Mrs. W. H. Pope, Mrs. Marshall S. Thompson, Mrs. George McDonald and Miss Pauline Shepard.

* * * *

Mrs. W. P. Ligon, of Spartanburg, who is visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. A. H. Walker, was a guest Monday at a bridge-tea given at Marviento by Mrs. Henry N. Rodenbaugh. Other guests were Mrs. Cyril C. Spades and Mrs. George W. Jackson.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Philip B. Jennings, of New York, have taken the beach cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Outhwaite. Mrs. Jennings gave a bridge-luncheon there for Mrs. William R. Kenan, Jr., Mrs. Theodore M. Livesay and Mrs. Robert Neil Dickman.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Fownes, of Pittsburgh, gave a luncheon at the Ponce de Leon for Miss F. A. Saville and Miss Margaret McQueen. The party motored to St. Augustine from the Fownes home at Winter Park.

Tennis is unusually popular this season under the competent supervision of Capt. Valerian Yavorsky, who is professional at the St. Augustine Tennis Club. This past week the Alcazar courts were filled with enthusiastic players, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hill, of New York, and the Misses Jean Rodenbaugh, Ethel Grey Rogers, Caroline Spades, Alice M. Robinson, Ida Hoppe, Ann Atkinson, Elizabeth Knight, Winna Goode, Hope Foster, Emily Kaine, Evelyn Causey, Gertrude Calhoun and Esther Mears. Also J. Tyler VanCampen, Fred Henderich, Horace Lindsley, Putnam Calhoun, Charles Henry, Ernest Korst, William Padgett, Irving Friedman, Frank Howatt, George Oliver, Henry Walcutt, William Walcutt, Madison Pacetti, Mitchel Kirtland, Creel Nuzum and Louis Horvath.

Captain Yavorsky has planned an elaborate program of tennis events for the current winter. Outstanding is the tenth annual Southeastern Championship, sanctioned by the United States Lawn Tennis Association, which will be held March 21 to 26.

The Iris Circle of the Garden Club of St. Augustine held its meeting on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Elbridge Gerry Snow, of New York. Mrs. Henry N. Rodenbaugh, the leader, had for her subject, "Gardens of Charleston." The officers include Mrs. Beverly D. Causey, chairman; Mrs. Leonard Outhwaite, first vice-president; second vice president, Mrs. J. Jervy Gantt; secretary, Mrs. Howard Hawkins, and treasurer, Mrs. Rodenbaugh. ## In a Month of Sun Days

* There is nothing sadder than the minor tragedies that can ruin an otherwise happy holiday. Sunburn that stings the joy of living away. Freckles that make it impossible to wear your loveliest gown. A tan...if you're going in for one...that goes ombré when it shouldn't. These are the things that spoil your fun, and they can so easily be avoided if taken in time...or corrected. Elizabeth Arden has the solution.

* Regular visits to Miss Arden's Salon will keep you uniformly tan or uniformly un-tan, as you prefer. Your skin will be kept in condition so that the sun cannot coarsen it and rob it of its smoothness.

* And your shoulders, back and arms will be given their share of attention so that all of you that is visible is equally lovely. Please telephone for an appointment. Palm Beach 8924...Miami Beach 5-2830.

* Miss Arden urges the daily use of her Ideal Sunburn Oil to prevent burn and blisters and to assure even tanning. New case, $6.

ORMOND BEACH

RS. DAVID M. MILTON, of New York, played over the Ormond Beach golf links the other morning with her grandfather, Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Sr., Mr. Milton and the Rev. George D. Owen, of Ormond Beach. She wore a bright red ribbed and white cotton sport dress, the collar of which was high and ended in two short lapels. The dress had three large bright metal buttons both at neck and waistline. A white felt beret, white gloves, tan hose, white anklets and tan sport shoes completed her outfit. Mrs. Milton is the former Miss Abby Rockefeller.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton are visiting Mr. Rockefeller at the Casements. This is the first time that she has been observed on the links this season. Mr. Milton, after golf, swam in the ocean and went riding before joining his wife on the links.

Dr. and Mrs. George S. Fuller, of Canadenville, Pa., are guests here of Mrs. Fanny Evans, a niece of Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Burnham Standish Colburn took Mr. and Mrs. Ellis, of Montclair, N. J.; Dr. and Mrs. Sidney G. Main, of Ormond Beach; Miss Evelyn Colburn and her fiancé, Mr. Frederick Hendrik Fentener Van Vlissingen, of Utrecht, Holland, fishing up the Tomoka river Wednesday. Mr. Van Vlissingen is visiting Miss Colburn at her mother's residence here. They will be married in the spring. Miss Colburn is a granddaughter of Mrs. George A. Pierce. Her fiancé belongs to one of the oldest families in Holland and is identified with the rayon industry.

Among arrivals at the Hotel Ormond are Mr. and Mrs. John Schoenewolf, of Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Ross, of Ardmore, Pa., and Mr. Oswald Ogden, of New Orleans. Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Albrow, of Scarsdale, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Speer, of Englewood, N. J.; Mr. A. D. Pomroy, of Lockport, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Roberts, Mrs. R. H. Moister, Mrs. Cyrus D. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Jones, all of Brooklyn; Mrs. Charles H. Selick, Miss Elsie Selick, of Glen Ridge, N. J.; Mrs. R. R. Bamber, Miss Helen Rand, Mrs. Sophie Regnier, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Appleton, of East Hampton, L. I.; Miss Louise Crespi, of New York, and Mrs. Arthur H. Waterman, of Rye, N. Y.

The Service League of St. James Episcopal Church will hold their annual St. Valentine tea at the Hotel Ormond. Plans were made at a committee meeting held recently to hold the St. Valentine's tea in the Ormond ballroom on February 9. Among those present at the committee meeting were Miss Helen Pool, Mrs. Blake White, Mrs. F. L. Blair, Mrs. W. F. Morris, Mrs. Victor Camp, Mrs. James G. Glass, Mrs. Macon Thornton, all of Ormond; Mrs. R. R. Bamber, Mrs. Herbert Oltmen, of New York; Mrs. E. M. Spear, of Englewood, N. J.; Mrs. H. L. Kaime, of Rochester; Miss Mary Thomas, of Alpine, N. J.; Mrs. H. W. Albrow, of Rye.

Capt. John J. Phelps and Mrs. Phelps, and Mrs. F. J. Lemonme, of Pittsburgh, are among the recent arrivals at the Hotel Ormond. They have been motoring through the state and expect to make an indefinite stay in Ormond.

Among arrivals at the Hotel Ormond are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur T. Safford, who have motored from West Newton, Mass.

SOCIETY OF ARTS

MUSIC lovers from miles around gathered on Monday evening, February 1, at the Paramount Theatre to hear the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra in the first concert of the series sponsored annually by the Society of Arts of Palm Beach. Interest in this concert was keen not only because the appearance of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra is always eagerly awaited but because the reputation of the new conductor, Eugene Ormandy, had preceded him and many in the audience welcomed this dynamic young conductor for the first time.

The program selected was one to try the powers of any leader conducting in the usual manner, but when it is considered that Ormandy conducts entirely from memory without using the score, it is no wonder that he is rated as a genius of the baton.

Beginning with the Prelude to "Die Meistersinger," the program continued through the Nocturne and Scherzo from Mendelssohn's incidental music to "A Midsummer Night's Dream," and the Waltzes from Strauss' "Rosenkavalier," all excellently rendered and leading up to the triumph of the evening, Tschaikowsky's Fourth Symphony, in F Minor, including Andante sostenuto—Moderato con anima—Andantino in modo di canzona—Scherzo: Pizzicato ostinato—Final: Allegro con fuoco.

Ormandy has all the attributes of greatness in his chosen field. Young as he is, he is limited in experience only by his years. Judging from his performance and his reception at the first Society of Arts concert, it is not hard to see why the best-informed men of the country regard him as a serious competitor for first place with the two or three outstanding conductors in the country.

The brilliant performances of the Minneapolis Symphony are proverbial both in this country and abroad. At present the organization consists of 85 talented musicians, many of them with years of experience in the most famous orchestras of the old and new worlds. These have been moulded into a unity that has excited the admiration and praise of the foremost critics and musicians in America. Twenty-eight years ago the first little group of players boldly informed the public that it would give a certain number of symphony concerts. In the Minneapolis Symphony today are two of the members who belonged to this original band of adventurers, and the majority have been connected with it for more than a dozen years. A feeling of unity was evident in the orchestra's playing. It extended to the audience and united performers, conductor and listeners in the bonds of Harmony.

For over a quarter of a century the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra has been music purveyor in general to the great northwest. Due to its many concert tours to all parts of the country it has helped to educate the American public in a larger measure perhaps than any similar organization, to an appreciation of the larger forms of musical composition. There are many sections of the country that would never have heard a symphony orchestra if it had not been for the missionary work undertaken by this body of players.

The Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra has been made possible through the unswerving support of the citizens of Minneapolis, headed by Mr. E. L. Carpenter, president of the Orchestral Association since its foundation, a business man with noble ideals who has spent himself and his money for the benefit of his community.

AMONG THE PALMS

THE Breakers, overlooking the turquoise waters of the Atlantic, is again the mecca for a cosmopolitan group of distinguished guests. The sunken patio and seaside terrace are lovely in their tropical splendor with brilliantly colored blossoms against the intense greens of the foliage. On warm evenings, with a dusky star-studded sky forming a canopy above, the patio is a spot of memorable beauty and the soft rustle of lofty palms and musical splashing of fountains mingle with light hearted laughter and talk of the guests who gather here for after dinner coffee.

Later in the evening, when between the hours of 9 and 11 dancing is enjoyed in the magnificent grand loggia, the patio is a rendezvous between dances for sauntering couples. Sherry MacGee directs the Howard Lanin Orchestra which plays for dancing each evening (except Sunday) This well known orchestra has a seemingly inexhaustible repertoire that includes not only dance hits from the latest musical comedy shows but melodies of months and years ago that are enthusiastically received.

Mr. Charles Sumner Woolworth, of Scranton, Pa., is spending his fourth season at the Breakers. A visitor in Palm Beach for many years, Mr. Woolworth has always been interested in the resort activities. He is a member of the Old Guard Society, the Everglades and Bath and Tennis Clubs. Mr. Woolworth is well known in financial circles and a member of the board of the F. W. Woolworth Company, owners of the world-wide chain of 5- and 10-cent stores.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth C. Warner, of Minneapolis, joined the mid-western colony at the Breakers last week to remain for the season. Mr. Warner has been identified with the winter colony for years and Mrs. Warner came here three years ago as a bride. They are members of the Everglades Club and the Old Guard Society and entertain frequently throughout the season.

* * * *

Among the annual season guests to whom Palm Beach means the Royal Poinciana, is Mrs. William Powers, who has been coming to the hotel for a great many years. Mrs. Powers spent last summer in Atlantic City and her northern residence is at the centrally located Hotel Bretton Hall, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Richard MacRae, of Boston, who made the trip down by motor, are registered for the season at the Royal Poinciana. They were visitors at Palm Beach two seasons ago. Mr. MacRae is a polo enthusiast and attends and participates in the matches at Phipps Field. They have taken a cabana at the Poinciana-Breakers beach and go there each morning. Mr. and Mrs. MacRae have a lovely summer home at Walterboro, Me., which has been in her family for generations. Mrs. MacRae sings beautifully and appeared here two seasons ago in the Kiwanis Benefit.

* * * *

A prominent season guest at the Royal Poinciana is Gen. J. Ernest Smith, of Wilmington, Del., who has been coming to this resort for many years. The General is one of the founders and first board of governors of the Old Guard Society and returns every season to enjoy his favorite game under the ideal conditions that prevail in the resort.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Armand Deutsch, of the Ritz Tower, New York, and the Lido Club, Long Beach, L. I., are at Whitehall for a stay of several weeks duration. They have joined the Sea Spray Club and are noted there daily, and frequently drop by Patio Lamaze for luncheon.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Stahl are members of the New England colony at the Breakers again this season. The Stahls spent several weeks at the New Colonial in Nassau prior to their arrival here. During the winter several members of their family are expected to visit them in Palm Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Chandler, of Interlaken, N. J., are season guests at the Mayflower Hotel. They are annual visitors and have a wide circle of friends in the resort. Their summer home is on the lake at Allenhurst, N. J., but they spent a large part of last summer at Heaton Hall, Stockbridge, Mass.

The sunny days and warm, bright moonlight nights have been greatly enjoyed by the guests who have arrived at the Royal Poinciana. At this hotel, time can never hang heavily on the hands for it is so centrally located that every kind of entertainment is easily accessible. The golf course of the Palm Beach Golf Club is only a step or two away; the Poinciana-Breakers Casino can be reached in a few minutes by wheel-chair and is also within easy walking distance. Tennis courts that are ranked among the finest in the country are almost under its windows; from its front portico one can start by motor to a hundred interesting localities within a few hours ride, or by crossing the street can take a boat from the Poinciana basin for a fishing trip to the Gulf Stream. When the Cocanut Grove is open, guests and their friends have the opportunity to dance at one of the most famous and most beautiful tea gardens of the entire world.

The trustees of the Royal Poinciana Chapel, located on the hotel grounds, especially invite the hotel guests and all others interested to hear the Rev. Dr. William Edward Biedewolf preach at the chapel every Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

The Royal Poinciana Chapel dates back nearly half a century for it is the result of mission work in the county begun in 1884 by the Rev. A. B. Dilly, under the auspices of the American Home Missionary Society, according to a copy of the Palm Beach Daily News published in 1900. "In the early days of this organization, the church and school were one," says this old record, "the first schoolhouse in the county having been built for a house of worship as well. When the church outgrew this home, land was purchased and a church edifice erected. Subsequently this was sold and the present site, near the Hotel Royal Poinciana was accepted as a gift from Mr. Flagler. It was also largely through his interests and assistance that the winter visitors are today able to worship in one of the finest church buildings in the south."

As an increasing number of former guests return to their favorite hotel, the New Palm Beach becomes more homelike, and these days find lounges and lobbies filled with happy groups exchanging accounts of activities during the months when winter visitors summered at their widely separated homes in the north. Among recent returning guests are Mr. Henry J. Upton and his attractive daughter, Miss Hazel Upton, of West Medford, Mass. Mr. Upton joined the first bridge party to be held at the hotel this season, immediately upon his arrival, and won first prize. During the mid-year, the Uptons were at the Englewood in West Yarmouth, Mass.

* * * *

Other returning visitors at the New Palm Beach who are being cordially welcomed are Mrs. Daniel J. Cullinan, of Pittsburgh, Pa., and her daughters, the Misses Katherine, Mary A. and Lillian Cullinan, who made the trip south by motor, coming down the west coast and stopping at St. Petersburg, en route.

The opening dinner-dance at Whitehall was held Saturday night, January 31. Dinner was served on the lake-front terrace and the guests danced on the great out-door dance floor, which is built directly at the water's edge.

The terrace was illuminated with special effects, including floodlights, blue lights in trees and foliage and the novel orange balloon lights which are identical with those at the Chateau Madrid in Paris.

Among the Whitehall guests are Gen. and Mrs. Quincy A. Gillmore, Gen. and Mrs. E. P. Meany, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. B. Frelinghuysen, Mr. H. O. H. Frelinghuysen, Senor Juan Riano, Roderick Terry, Hon. Lindley M. Garrison, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Hamilton, William Sharpe Kilmer and party, Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Adler, Mr. and Mrs. Louis B. Tim, Mr. A. J. Johnston.

The regular February guests at Whitehall are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vance Storrs, Miss Storrs, Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Kessler, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Maltby, Dr. Seth Gregory, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Stafford, Mayor Frank Hague, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Byron C. C. Foy, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Drexel Biddle, Jr., Hon. Grover Whalen and Mrs. Whalen, former Gov. Alfred E. Smith and Mrs. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Armand Deutsch will return from Cuba to Whitehall, as will Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Woolrich, of Montreal, who flew to Havana this week and will come back to Whitehall to remain for the season.

ONCE IN A WHILE, a visiting artist captures the magic of the brilliant Palm Beach sunshine as it turns the palm fronds to emeralds or paints blue shadows in the depths of the tropical foliage. You feel this atmosphere in the sketch of the gates of El Mirasol, Palm Beach home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury, done in water color by the distinguished painter, Mr. Roy MacNicol, who has a studio at the Everglades Club this season. The brilliant color, the boldness of the broad brush-strokes which mark this artist's work are but feebly hinted at in the above black-and-white reproduction.

TASTES AND TOILETTES

CARFS are in this season—gay colored square, triangular and oblong bits of silk in various weaves, and even cotton, too. Brilliant bandannas, St. Tropez stripes, classic Ascots in one-, two-, and even three-color combinations. You can choose your own way of tying them, according to your mood—the knot tells the secret. A triangular scarf in bright red-and-yellow, or red-and-black (there must be red in it to suggest the “buckets o’ blood”) knotted around your throat in the proper manner turns you into a pirate. Place the point on your chest, draw the ends up around your neck and tie them under your chin and that’s the pirate scarf. If you have just returned from a dude ranch, you may favor the cowboy knot like the ten-gallon hat boys wear in the rodeo. You start a three-color scarf just like the pirate knot, only when you have the ends in the back of your neck you tie them there and let them fall nonchalantly towards the front. There is less suggestion of a noose around your neck than in the pirate knot.

The nautical knot has a sailor-boy youthfulness and a two-toned diagonal silk scarf ties it to perfection. Thrown carelessly around the neck and knotted loosely low at the breast, the sailor tie is a symbol of the freedom of the seven seas. Gay and carefree Gypsy scarfs are worn about the waist like Gypsy’s girdle, with long bright ends hanging above one hip. You may choose solid color or Gypsy stripes for this scarf, only be sure the colors are gay.

If your mood is less romantic, the Ascot will appeal to you, but even this classic is now interpreted according to the gay brilliant manner of the times. Ascot scarfs in three colors, the darker one used as a border, will tie in a striking knot. The Park Avenue scarf looks like an Ascot that has grown a little gay. It starts out somewhat the same but instead of hanging down demurely under your chin, one end flaunts back over your shoulder with a come-hither air. You can fly your own colors with this tri-color scarf.

White continues to be in high favor with the smartly clad winter vacationists. Mrs. Harrison Williams, of North County Road, wears a red-and-white striped novelty wool slip-on workshirt with zipper fastenings from the crew neck to shoulders over a white flannel skirt. A red kerchief and matching beret add a piquant touch.

* * * *

The increasingly popular vogue for cottons affects the selection of Mrs. Frederick Johnson’s wardrobe. The former Mary MacKinnon, noted artist, who is dividing her winter between the Johnson home on Via Bellaria and New York, was noted on a recent sunny morning attired in a white madras dress that was given distinction by the new way in which a triangular basque handkerchief was arranged. Caught by one end at the V neckline, it was brought around the shoulder for the wide point, and then caught in surplice fashion at the belt line by the other end.

* * * *

Corduroy, which appeared only modestly a few months ago, is claiming serious attention and is simulated even on the beaches where the effect is achieved in bathing suits and pajamas. In its original state, however, it is seen most often as the material used for topcoats. Mrs. Maurice Fatio, of Via del Mar, strolled along Worth Avenue recently, looking very chic in one of these white corduroy coats, worn over a zebra striped novelty silk sports frock. The coat was raglan cut and featured a scarf neckline.

* * * *

Perhaps because it seems almost part of the moonlight, shimmering white satin is chosen by many dancers who frequent open air restaurants and clubs. Mrs. Robert M. Stewart-Richardson, of El Vedado Lane, was beautifully gowned in a low-cut white satin evening dress at the opening night of the Colony Club. Interest was gained by a large black satin bow on the left hip, and the little stripes of criss-crossed black satin which formed her sandals.

* * * *

Floral designs of palest green scattered on eggshell silk, relieved Mrs. Armand Deutsch’s simply made evening frock from the necessity of any trimming. Cut low, and form fitting, this gown was chosen by the dainty titian haired lady who is wintering at Whitehall for the gala dinner dance which opened the Colony Club.

* * * *

An unusual gown of chartreuse taffeta, its wide skirt trimmed with ruchings of the same material, and edging the short puffed sleeves, was selected by Mrs. Charles Harrington Chadwick, of Chicago, who has recently arrived at her villa in Via Bellaria, for the opening night of Patio Marguery.

* * * *

Mrs. William Woods Plankinton, of New York, who is occupying her new home on South County Road, drew a hip-length black velvet jacket with ermine trimming around her shoulders while dining under the stars at Patio Marguery. Her dress was of gold-shot rose taffeta, made with a wide circular skirt.

* * * *

Miss Norma Talmadge wears the simplest clothes which in some mysterious fashion become the dernier cri in smartness. She was noted last week in a cornflower blue sleeveless sports frock of boucle knit. A jaunty tie of silk crepe in matching blue and faced in polo red, added an interesting note.

* * * *

Lunching al fresco offers the widest variety of southern attire to the interested spectator, and at the opening luncheon of the Colony Ambassador Bath Club every type of daytime apparel, from pajamas to frilly afternoon frocks, was seen. Mrs. Leland Eggleston Cofer, of Southampton and Capricho on Barton Avenue, sat at a canopied table, clad in a three-piece suit of white georgette. Her black hat had a wide straw brim and satin crown trimmed with a flat bow. White kid oxfords piped in black patent leather repeated the color combination of her costume.

* * * *

Mrs. Margaret Myers, of the New Palm Beach Hotel, was noted dining at Patio Lamaze last week in a shimmering eggshell satin dress over which an emerald green wrap-around jacket of hip length and with three-quarter sleeves, was worn.

* * * *

Mrs. Roger Wolff Kahn, the former Hannah Williams, appearing very nonchalant and very gay seated opposite her talented husband on the terrace of the Colony-Ambassador Bath Club, wore white wool pajamas with a jersey shirt of red-and-white stripes. Red kid cut-out sandals and a red-and-white narrow striped pouch bag completed the costume.

Who wouldn't feel self-confident and look charming in this red-and-print?—a Macy copy of a Bruyere model. The wide belt and narrow sleeve ruffles are new notes. The white fabric hat, white gloves and white one-strap sandals contrast pleasantly with the bright print. The new flower bracelet is in red and white.

New in lines and in fabric is this suede Lyolene copy. With it is worn the imported French felt pancake beret. Seen at Best & Company.

Brown and rust stripes are cleverly pointed on the sleeveless vest of this hand-knitted white bouclette suit. The bag is striped in matching colors. From Mrs. Franklin.

COTTAGE COLONY SOCIETY LIFE

ONE of the enjoyable entertainments given for Prince and Princess Vasili, who passed a fortnight as guests at Villa Oheka, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto H. Kahn, was a dinner at which Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Fatio, of Via Del Mar, were hosts. In addition to the honor guests, those who attended were Maj. and Mrs. John C. O. Marriott and Mr. and Mrs. John Barry Ryan, Jr., who are at Oheka for the season; Mr. and Mrs. J. Gordon Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. P. A. B. Widener, 2nd, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Somers Roche and their house guest, Mrs. Joshua S. Cosden; Miss Sarah Jane Sanford, Mr. Joseph E. Widener, Mr. John P. Wemple and Capt. Boyd Rochfort.

* * * *

Mrs. Frederick Richards, of New York, is expected this month to join her father, Mr. Jules S. Bache, noted banker, at La Colmena on Barton Avenue. Mr. Bache's nephew, Mr. Herbert Scheftel, is coming this week from New York to visit at La Colmena.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. George Sykes Wallen, of Greenwich, Conn., have opened their attractive villa in Vita Serena for the winter. The marriage of the former Miss Glenna Collett, five times the champion woman golf player of the United States, to Mr. Edwin H. Vare, Jr., took place this summer at "White Oakes," the Wallen estate.

* * * *

Mr. Harold Stirling Vanderbilt, of New York, who returned to his Lantana estate after a brief visit to the north, has as his house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Fish, Mrs. Joseph Davis and Mr. Douglas W. Paige, all of New York. Mrs. Fish is the former Miss Christine A. Biddle. Mr. Vanderbilt is a member of the Everglades and the Gulf Stream Golf Clubs here.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. David W. Milton, of New York, came over from Ormond Beach, where they visited her grandfather, Mr. John D. Rockefeller, at the Casements, his winter estate, and have been entertained by Mrs. Joseph Moran at her home on Dunbar Road. Mrs. Milton is the former Miss Abby Rockefeller.

* * * *

Sunday seems to be particularly favored among cottage colonists for informal entertainments at home, and one of the interesting social functions of the Sabbath which has become a regular feature of resort life, is the swimming party and musicale at Casa Beata, the home of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Dobyne. Recently, at one of these occasions, Mrs. Mary Miller Trowsell, leader of the Romany orchestra, played the violin and Mrs. Roy MacNicol sang.

Among guests who attended were Dr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Bennett, Mayor and Mrs. John Shepard, Jr., and their house guests, the Rev. Henry V. B. Darlington and Mrs. Darlington; Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Homer, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Farrell, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Vail Brokaw, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Seligman, Maj. and Mrs. Elisha Dyer Hubbard, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vernon Skiff, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Brett, Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Cushman, Mrs. Alexander A. McKay and her house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Mitchell-Henry, of London.

Interesting newcomers to the cottage colony here this year are Mr. and Mrs. John Hay Whitney, of New York, who are occupying Louwana, the Gurnee Munn home on the ocean front, which they have leased for a six-weeks period. The Whitneys divide their time in the summer between Greentree at Manhasset, L. I., and Saratoga Springs. During the fall they pass several weeks at Llangollen, their estate at Middleburg, Va. When in Florida last season they made their headquarters aboard their yacht, "Aphrodite," or at one of the Phipps cottages at Gulfstream, Delray.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Lucius W. Robinson, of Rochester, N. Y., and Indiana, Pa., who are passing the season at their Hobe Sound estate, motor to Palm Beach frequently to entertain friends at the Restaurant Flamingo and Patio Marguery.

* * * *

Mrs. Lorenzo Mitchell-Henry, of London, who is visiting Mrs. Alexander A. McKay at La Casita on Via Bellaria, has been extensively feted during her sojourn here, and one of the interesting luncheons held in her honor was that given by Mrs. G. Horton Glover at Nido de Amor on El Brillo Way.

* * * *

Mr. Addison Mizner, noted architect and designer of the Post Office Building to be erected on North County Road, gave a luncheon during the past fortnight at his studio on Via Mizner. His guests included Mrs. John F. Harris, Mrs. Edward Shearson and Mrs. Henry R. Rea.

* * * *

Mayor and Mrs. John Shepard, Jr., of Casa del Pastor on Dunbar Road, gave a dinner for their house guests, Rev. Henry V. B. Darlington and Mrs. Darlington, of New York. Others who attended were Mr. and Mrs. George Luke Mesker, Dr. and Mrs. Leland Eggleston Cofer, Mr. and Mrs. George Alexander McKinlock and their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Ryerson; Maj. and Mrs. Elisha Dyer Hubbard and their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence S. Wadsworth; also Mr. and Mrs. DeGrimm Renfro.

Subscribers of the Current Events Lecture Course will gather on Wednesday afternoon, February 3, at 4 o'clock at Lagomar, the home of Mrs. Henry R. Rea, to hear the initial lecture of the 1932 series. Sir Norman Angell, well known British author and lecturer, will speak on "Germany and the European Collapse."

Because of the world-wide interest in "The Great Illusion," the best known of this author's books, his remarks on world conditions in general and the European collapse in particular will be of great import. "The Great Illusion" deals with the futility of war. The collapse of Europe, analyzed by this "prince of expositors," will be of vital interest to students of world affairs.

The Current Events Lecture Courses were started seven years ago by Mrs. John R. Bryden, who has directed them ever since. They are a definite cultural factor in the life of the winter colony and the speakers selected are outstanding in their various fields, men and occasionally women of affairs, who think clearly and whose words have weight. Because the lectures are given in the homes of prominent subscribers, attendance is necessarily limited and the number of subscribers is kept down to practically one hundred, each of whom may bring one guest. For many years there has been a large waiting list. Following the lectures, tea is served and the audience has an opportunity to meet the lecturer of the day in a social hour.

PALM BEACH CLUB ACTIVITIES

OLD-TIME southern plantations were brought back into existence for a few moments last week, and transported to the Everglades Club during the song recital given by Miss Marion Kerby and Mr. John Jacob Niles. The concert was given for the benefit of the Community Cannery established under the auspices of the Welfare Bureau, and was attended by a representative group of winter colonists. Miss Kerby and Mr. Niles held their listeners entranced as they crooned folk songs of Kentucky mountains and negro spirituals that grew out of the early days of our country.

Among the patrons and patronesses were Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury, Mrs. Henry Seligman, Mrs. E. H. G. Slater, Mrs. Edmund LeRoy Dow, Mrs. George A. Dobyne, Mrs. Sidney Homer, Mrs. Hugh Dillman, Mrs. Lorenzo E. Woodhouse, Mrs. Elisha Dyer Hubbard, Mrs. Theodore Frelinghuysen, Mrs. Henry R. Rea, Mrs. Alfred G. Kay, Mrs. Harry Oakes, Mrs. Edward B. Randolph, Mrs. James W. Yelverton, Miss Nellie B. Cluett, Mrs. George A. Waterman, Miss Sarah Kirby, Colonel Edward R. Bradley, Mr. Addison Mizner, Mrs. David Hugh McCulloch, Mrs. W. Seward Webb, and Mrs. Joseph Speidel.

The Orange Garden of the Everglades Club has provided the setting for important social gatherings for more than a decade. On a recent sunny afternoon General Quincy A. Gillmore and Mrs. Gillmore, of New York, who are passing the season at Whitehall, were luncheon guests there.

Mrs. George Albert Eddy, of Chicago, who is residing on Sea Spray Avenue for the winter, entertained at the Everglades Club during the past fortnight, having as her guests Mrs. Frederick K. Ream, Mrs. Edward E. B. Adams, and her house guest, Mrs. Herbert L. Boehm; and Mrs. Charles M. Hayes.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. L. Rutherford, of Sea Spray Avenue, were hosts at tea last week at the Everglades Club. Among the guests were Mrs. Frederick L. Ames of Boston, Mass., and Commander Joseph B. Lynch.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Dillman, of Rose Terrace, Grosse Pointe, Mich., who are occupying their magnificent log cabin on their farm, entertained six guests at a recent Sunday night dinner-dance at the Everglades Club.

Among those who chose the Orange Garden of the Everglades Club on a moonlit Sunday evening, were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Richard Cowell, of New York, who are occupying Mi Estrellita on El Vedado Lane, where Miss Alexandra Harvie Aitken is a season house guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Windsor, Jr., of Chicago and El Brillo Way, entertained at one of the recent Sunday night dinner dances at the Everglades Club.

A small number of guests were in the party given lately by Mr. and Mrs. W. David Owen in the Orange Garden of the Everglades Club.

* * * *

Mrs. Harry J. McIntyre, of Canada, who is wintering in Palm Beach, at the Vineta Hotel, entertained at one of the largest and most delightful luncheon parties of the season at the Beach Club. The affair was in compliment to Mrs. James Reeves, of New York, who is passing the winter months at the Breakers.

A drive up the smooth white road that leads to the Seminole Golf Club, an hour spent on the velvety green course spreading out to the sea, followed by luncheon in the clubhouse with its vista of the tropically blue ocean and sky, is the favored Sunday afternoon program of many important winter colonists. Mr. and Mrs. Clifford V. Brokaw, of South Ocean Boulevard, motored to the club recently to entertain guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis A. Shaughnessy, of Villa Felicia on Clarke Avenue, with the younger members of their family, Harry Hood Bassett and Marie Antoinette Bassett, were noted recently lunching at the Seminole Club.

Mrs. Louis F. Stanton Bader, of Windover, Dover, Mass., who has returned to Puertas Viegas on South Ocean Boulevard, had three guests recently at the Seminole Golf Club.

Representing the Breakers contingent lunching at the Seminole recently, were Colonel Thomas A. Murphy and Mrs. Murphy of Philadelphia, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Quentin F. Feitner, of Bayshore, L. I., and Casa Invierno on Jungle Point, drove to the Seminole Club to join luncheon guests there on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Fatio, who are passing the season with her mother, Mrs. Charles Curry Chase, of Via Del Mar, entertained Mrs. Chase at luncheon at the Seminole Club during the past fortnight.

Mrs. William R. Sweatt entertained at luncheon at the Seminole Golf Club, having among her guests, Mrs. James H. Kennedy, Miss Margaret Crowley, Mrs. George A. Dobyne, Mrs. Charles M. Brett, Mrs. George H. Nicolai, Mrs. Elden C. DeWitt, Mrs. Frederick Dwight, Mrs. Edmund LeRoy Dow, Mrs. Nathan D. Bill, Mrs. Harold Sweatt and Mrs. Frank Vernon Skiff.

The tropical garden of the Colony Club, with its cascading crystal waters reflecting pastel shades of Paris gowns and soft tints of illuminated balloons swinging in the breezes, and with the perfect rhythms of Ernie Holst's orchestra filling the air—this was the setting chosen by Mr. and Mrs. Roger Wolff Kahn for the celebration of their first wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Kahn are spending the season at Bellamar on Sunset Avenue after a brief visit at Villa Oheka, the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto H. Kahn.

* * * *

A new club to make its appearance this winter is the Colony-Ambassador Bath Club at the foot of Sunrise Avenue, formerly known as the Ambassador Beach. Swimming pool, cabanas, bath houses, and club house with an inviting terrace where Ernie Holst and his orchestra play during the luncheon hour, are among features which have been attracting large and small groups. The club follows the model of the famous Eden Rock Club at Antibes.

ON SUNNY PALM BEACH SANDS

PERFECT Palm Beach weather finds scores of sun-lovers gathered each morning at the Poinciana Breakers beach to take advantage of the gorgeous sunshine and balmy salt-tanged air. There has been a decided trend of the past few years to linger down on the beach long after the hour set by fashion and a delightful air of informality pervades the Casino and beach during the late afternoon when the real sun- and sea-lovers are still enjoying the beach. Ever-changing and vividly beautiful, the panoramic view from the Casino is fascinating at all hours of the day.

* * * *

The Breakers and Royal Poinciana are well represented each morning, as guests stroll over quite early to lounge on the coral tinted beach, or to visit with friends in the cabanas.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Prufrock, of St. Louis, joined the cabana colony last week. Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Valier, of St. Louis and Sea Breeze Avenue, have also taken a cabana and are neighbors of the Prufrocks. Visiting them frequently are Mrs. Irene Merritt, of the Breakers, and Mr. A. V. Imbs, of Sea Spray Avenue.

* * * *

Mrs. William W. Forrester, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. C. H. Randle, and Mrs. Guy Randle, come over from the Breakers frequently to enjoy the beach activities. They have canopied beach chairs at the south end of the beach.

* * * *

A backgammon game on the sands is in progress nearly every day between Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Rauh, of the Breakers, and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Goodman, of Whitehall.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Stahl, of the Breakers, are partial to the pool and enjoy a swim in the placid waters each day. Also preferring the pool are Mr. Monty Tennes, Jr., and his brother, Mr. Horace Tennes. The former was a member of the Notre Dame swimming team, and Horace is now training for the team at Northwestern University. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Tennes, of Clarke Avenue, frequently watch the aquatic sports from the sidelines.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Durand, of New York and the Royal Poinciana, are daily visitors at the Casino, and also from that hotel are Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Darnell; Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Jacob and their son, B. A. Jacob III; Mr. and Mrs. Richard MacRae who have a cabana; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred T. Haenlein take chairs on the gallery; also Mr. Valentine Braun, of Newark.

* * * *

Mr. Edward T. Stotesbury, of El Mirasol, was a distinguished visitor at the beach recently. He is one of the most popular members of the winter colony and was the central figure in a large group all during his visit. He expressed himself as delighted to be back in Palm Beach again. The Stotesburys are pioneer residents of the resort and their palatial estate on North Ocean Boulevard was one of the first in Palm Beach, of the now internationally known Mizner architecture.

* * * *

Mr. John F. Harris, of El Bravo Way, visits the beach frequently with Mr. J. Leonard Replogle.

Mr. Henry T. Sloane, a well known member of the Breakers New York colony, thoroughly enjoys the sunshine and salt-tanged air at the beach.

At the southern end of the beach, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Lauder and their lovely daughters, Barbara and Nancy, spend hours each day at their cabana. The girls have just started taking swimming lessons from Instructor Norelius. Mrs. Lauder's mother, Mrs. Edward F. Albee, occupies the adjoining cabana and comes down to the beach every day with her sister, Miss Mary E. Smith. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Oakford, of Larchmont, guests of the Lauders, are down every day, too. Newcomers to the above group are Mrs. Everett Horgan, of Pelham Manor, and her young daughters, Betty and Muriel, who play contentedly for hours in the sand.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. William DeMuth, of New York, guests at Whitehall, are noted among the swimmers nearly every day. Also from Whitehall are Mr. and Mrs. Louis B. Tim and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Adler, of New York.

SEA SPRAY BEACH

Cosmopolites coming south for their annual winter vacation find that the Sea Spray Beach Club affords them many of the pleasantest hours on a program filled with superlative diversions. The scene on the sands, which is somehow always the same, yet constantly changing, is one not found in any other part of the world. Whether you have spent the winter on the Riviera or cruising along Egypt's romantic Nile, you'll find that the beaches here hold something quite distinctive, and quite unforgettable. As much a part of the charm of the scene itself, is the good fellowship, the gaiety and the informality, the intangible quality that is felt as definitely as the tang of the salt air and the soothing rays of the sunshine.

* * * *

Among those who have recently joined Sea Spray are Mrs. William Henry Williams, Maj. and Mrs. Elisha Dyer Hubbard, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse A. Smith, Mrs. La Grave Harrison and her house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Drake-Smith; Mrs. Norma C. Stemm, Mrs. Frank Duff Frazier, Mr. and Mrs. George Albert Eddy and their two children, Lorraine and George Alfred Eddy, Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Major, Mrs. Peter A. B. Widener 2nd, Mrs. Carrie Miller, Miss Mary E. Dodsworth, Miss A. F. Shannon, Mr. and Mrs. A. Dudley Dowd, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin M. Knowles and their house guests, Miss Mary Katherine Anderson and Miss Alice A. McDonald; Mrs. John E. Dietz, Mr. and Mrs. Armand Deutsch, Mrs. A. D. Downing, Miss Dorothy Downing, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Windsor, Jr., and their sons, William Tod Hunter Windsor and Henry H. Windsor, 3rd; Mr. and Mrs. Orra L. Brailey, and daughter, Caroline Louise Brailey; Mr. Louis S. Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. Seth Wheeler, Mrs. Benjamin F. Hopkins, Mr. Louis H. Hobbs, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore D. Buhl and Mr. George Lynn.

* * * *

From early morning hours until late in the afternoon, the pool at Sea Spray claims attention.

Among the boys and girls who have been noted in the pool lately, learning to swim and dive, are Charlotte Morrison, Barbara Morrison, Marian Morrison, daughters of Dr. and Mrs. Charles C. Morrison, of Clarke Avenue; Catherine Wait, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther A. Wait, of Wells Road; Betty Stewart-Richardson, daughter of Maj. and Mrs. Robert M. Stewart-Richardson, of London, who are occupying the Lester Corya villa on El Vedado Lane for the season; Marta Sweatt and Bill Sweatt, children of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sweatt, of Minneapolis, Minn., who early this season occupied La Playera, the Sea Breeze Avenue home of his parents, and who are now at the John Emerson residence on Sea Spray Avenue; Peter Dolge and Alfred Dolge, who is seldom called anything but "Kinks," sons of Mr. and Mrs. Karl A. Dolge, of Westport, Conn., who have leased a house on Sea Breeze Avenue for the winter; and Louise Kohl, daughter of Mrs. Henry Kohl, of Rumson, N. J., who returned early in the winter to her Dunbar Road cottage.

Young Neddie Rutherford, son of Mr. John M. L. Rutherford and Mrs. Charles Fair, is seen at the beach frequently, taking his boxing lessons in the sunshine.

* * * *

Senor Juan Riano, of Newport, for many years ambassador to the United States from Spain, takes his morning swim at Sea Spray, and usually appears with Mr. Roderick Terry, Jr., also of Newport. They are passing the season at Whitehall, and have recently returned from a fishing cruise aboard the "Sydney," owned by Dr. Terry, Mr. Terry's father.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Thomas, of Chicago, included a visit to Sea Spray on their brief sojourn in the resort. They were accompanied by Mr. John J. McMahon and Mr. Jay F. Jones, also of Chicago, who stayed with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas at Casa Tia Flora.

Mrs. Roland E. Woodward and her brother, Mr. Alexander M. Stewart, who are spending the season with Mr. Stewart's son-in-law and daughter, Maj. and Mrs. Robert M. Stewart-Richardson, of El Vedado Lane, frequently join the sun-worshippers at Sea Spray.

* * * *

Mr. Stuart Gayle Rosson, of Baltimore, Md., strolls over from his home on Clarke Avenue to enjoy the bathing and sunshine at Sea Spray.

* * * *

Mrs. Oscar G. Davies and her daughter, Miss Anne Askew Davies, of Casa Blanca on Australian Avenue, include a trip to the beach on their morning itinerary, and are frequently noted with Mrs. Frank Quigley, of Miraflores Drive.

* * * *

Among the attractive bathers who grace the sands at Sea Spray is Mrs. Arthur Hammerstein, the former Dorothy Dalton, who comes over from her home nearby with Mr. Hammerstein and their charming daughter, Carol, to pass a few hours basking in the sun.

* * * *

Mr. Harry Skillman, of Detroit, a season guest at the Breakers, includes a trip to the Casino as a part of his daily activities.

* * * *

Mr. Alfred J. Johnson, former City Chamberlain of New York, comes over from Whitehall frequently to enjoy a swim at the Casino.

Pictorial News Service, Inc.

FISHING IN FLORIDA WATERS

SAILFISH appear to be coming south for the winter, or rather north from the Caribbean, and are making their headquarters just off the inlet of the Port of Palm Beach. Anglers are having the time of their lives trying to choose the largest sailfish to land from the hundreds that have been milling around in the Gulf Stream just off shore. According to many fishing authorities, most of them captains of long standing in these waters, that portion of the Gulf Stream extending from Jupiter Light on the north to Hillsborough Light, 30 miles south of us, offers the best sailfish grounds on the North American continent.

Palm Beach, jutting out into the Atlantic 12 miles farther than Miami, is so near the Gulf Stream that its shore is sometimes washed by its waters. This condition makes it the natural habitat for the sailfish, marlin, amberjack, dolphin, bonita and many other game fish, all of which like the warm water, and are attracted by feeding grounds in the deep gully formed by the breaking off of the reef forming Palm Beach just at the edge of the stream, about two miles off shore.

Just as Charlotte Harbor, Ft. Myers, on the west coast, is the favorite spot for tarpon fishermen, so Palm Beach is the premier place to land the largest specimens of sailfish, along the Florida coast. Even Key West, that anglers' paradise, does not have such a frequent run of large sailfish as are caught here. It is a matter of record that two seasons ago, while President Hoover and his party were endeavoring to land sizeable sails at Key West, sportsmen up here were just hauling them in. Sailfish running well over eight feet are frequent catches here.

The sailfish will undoubtedly give an angler one of the greatest thrills of a lifetime, even surpassing the thrill of landing a tarpon or marlin, according to many who have landed all three.

Using his long sword to kill or disable his prey preparatory to devouring it, the sailfish will follow the bait along for quite a distance, tapping it several times. When this occurs the angler immediately lets out the line, giving an impression that the bait is a live fish disabled. Then suddenly the "sail" will make a savage strike at the bait. Line is played out for 12 or 15 feet to allow the fish to run and then the hook is set.

This is where the fun begins. The sailfish goes through all the gyrations in and out of the water that would do credit to a circus performer. Spiral leaps, straight pulling jumps, sometimes fairly skidding over the water on his tail, the fish will go through all sorts of motions in the hope of throwing the hook or breaking free.

When he doesn't succeed he will start out for the bottom of the ocean with the reel spinning, playing out line, the fish making a wide circle only to come to the surface again in a series of jumps. This lasts sometimes for an hour before the fish is brought to gaff.

The marlin, member of the swordfish family, as is the "sail," differs in that it has a short dorsal fin instead of a sail and runs much heavier than the sail, according to length. It is an exceedingly hard fish to whip, especially with sporting tackle.

According to members of the fishing fleet at the Poinciana dock, marlin frequently strike in deep water but they are so savage that they often break the line before the angler is aware of what he has on. Many local anglers have battled for more than an hour with a marlin, and have brought it alongside only to have the line part, permitting the huge fish to swim lazily away to recuperate for another day.

The dolphin, running in weight anywhere from 5 to 30 pounds, is another surface fighter that gives an angler plenty of exciting moments. While it does not jump like a "sail," it plays for a long time, sometimes running right along with the boat or ahead of it. It is extremely fast.

The amberjack, running from 40 to 60 pounds, is an under-water fish and it takes plenty of stamina on the part of the angler to land it. The albacore-bonita is another under-water fish popular with local anglers. Like a tuna, it fights quite a distance off but puts up a savage battle before being landed.

Florida probably has more specimens of fish available to the angler than any other portion of the North American continent. One of the first authorities to recognize this fact was Mr. Barton W. Everman, former ichthyologist of the United States Fish Commission. He stated:

"There is perhaps no state in the Union whose fishes have attracted more general attention than those of Florida. The interest in the fishes of this state is shared by the commercial fisherman and the angler."

who might have been Czar of Russia if fate had shaken different dice out of her box, is justly proud of his prowess as a fisherman. The Grand Duke is shown here with a grand sailfish taken in the Gulf Stream.

"The number of species that are sought because of their commercial value is far greater than in any other section of America. Those that are of interest to the angler are more numerous than any other state can boast, while the richness and peculiarities of the fish fauna of Florida have made this state a fascinating field for the student of fish life. The total number of fishes known from Florida waters is about 600, or about one-fifth of the entire fauna north of Panama. The warm waters of the Keys serve as a more or less effective barrier to the passage of fishes living in colder waters. As a result, many species are found on the east coast of Florida which do not occur on the Gulf coast, and vice versa. In fact both coasts may be regarded as having separate fauna.

"There is no place in the United States where one can study live fishes so satisfactorily as at Key West. Trolling for sailfish, marlin, bonita, kingfish, jack crevalle, bluefish, Spanish mackerel and spotted sea trout off Palm Beach, Key West or Biscayne Bay, furnishes sport of the most exciting kind while still fishing for sheepshead and mangrove snappers at Indian River Inlet; for chubs, porgies, porkfish, yellowtails, snappers and grunts at Key West; or for red snappers, red groupers, and others of their kin on the Snapper Banks furnish sufficient variety to please any angler, in whatever mood he may chance to be."

He concluded, "I have fished in every state and territory but three, and from Siberia and Behring Sea to the Gulfs of California and Mexico, and, all things considered, regard Florida as unequaled in richness and variety of attractions for all sorts of sport with rod and reel. The coasts of Florida, from the head of Indian River on the east to Tampa Bay or Cedar Keys on the west, are about the best cruising grounds for small or medium-sized yacht or cruiser that I am acquainted with. As for the fishing for variety, game-ness, size and quantity of the fish, I believe it to be the best in the world."

Fair weather and just enough ocean swell to make fishing a delight have lured many anglers to the Gulf Stream recently.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Dorland Doyle had an interesting day of it aboard the "Orca" with Captain Herman Gray, Mrs. Doyle, the former Pauline Munn, landing an eight-foot "sail" after an exciting struggle.

Maj. and Mrs. R. M. Stewart-Richardson, who are spending the winter at Palm Beach, both brought in sizeable fish after a day out aboard the "Blackjack" with Capt. Rudy Steinhauser. Mrs. Richardson's catch weighed 55 pounds and measured 7 feet and 8 inches. Although it was her first sailfish, she brought it to gaff in 25 minutes unaided.

Mr. Frank Duff Frazier and party also spent a day recently outside, Mr. Frazier bringing back a hefty specimen of sailfish.

Mr. A. G. Anderson, Mr. R. W. Iverson and Mr. Archie Iverson were out with Capt. Eddie Moore on board the "Osprey" and each brought back a sailfish.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sweatt had a pleasant day with Capt. Eddie Moore on board the "Osprey." Mrs. Sweatt landed a large sailfish after a spirited battle, but brought it to gaff in a most efficient manner. Mr. Sweatt caught an 18-pound kingfish and several large amberjacks.

Mr. John F. Harris, accompanied by Messrs. William and Nelson Warden, took a short cruise on his private boat, "Chelsea."

Mr. John J. Hanson, spending the season in Palm Beach, entered a large sailfish, measuring 7 feet, 3½ inches, in the Sailfish Club of Florida contest. Mr. Hanson landed the fish after a stiff fight while out on the "Two Friends" with Capt. Felix Newbold. It was entered under the heavy tackle class.

Mr. Mortimer Cobb, associated with the Palm Beach Private Schools, had the thrilling experience of landing an eight-foot sailfish while out with Mr. Lorenzo Mitchell Henry, noted English angler and sportsman. Mr. Cobb was using a new rod recently completed for him by Eddie Seesholtz with a six-ounce tip and 12-thread line and most fittingly christened it by landing this beautiful specimen of "sail." An 18-pound bonita was also caught.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Peterson, of Nashua, N. H., had an exciting day of it out with Capt. Eddie Moore on the "Osprey," with Mrs. Peterson landing an eight-foot sailfish. Mrs. Peterson is quite a sportswoman, having shot a moose, two buck deer and a bear while on a hunting trip in Canada last summer.

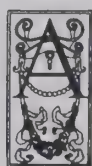

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Smith and guests had an exciting day of it aboard the "Blackjack" with Capt. Rudy Steinhauser and returned with two large trophies of the day's fishing. Mrs. Smith landed a 46 pound wahoo after a stiff battle and Mr. Smith caught a large "sail."

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Williams proved proficient anglers the other day when they both landed large sailfish. Mrs. Harrison Williams brought an 8-foot "sail" to gaff after a thrilling twenty-five minutes bringing it to gaff in a most expert manner.

METROPOLITAN SOCIETY NOTES

PAGEANT of Old New York and the First Inaugural Ball of the United States of America," a brilliant historical spectacle, was presented recently at the Waldorf-Astoria as the annual contribution to the major social entertainments of the season by the Society of Beaux Arts Architects. An account of this lavish entertainment, taken from the New York Herald-Tribune, is as follows:

Dedicated to the observance of the bicentennial of the birth of George Washington, the ball overflowed through every suite and public apartment of the new hotel and constituted one of the most elaborate and colorful entertainments arranged by the architects in many years. Not only were the historical scenes and illusions presented with the utmost fidelity to detail of costume, personnel and circumstance, but the entire ball was characterized by a harmony of color scheme and similarity of historical theme treatment made possible by all participants in the strict rules of apparel and period design laid down by the committee. The period represented was predominantly American Colonial, although within a reasonable latitude any costumes of the era of the United States, England and the Continent were permitted.

In the pageant, which preceded the representation of the inaugural ball of the first President, more than 500 persons prominent in society and the liberal arts and professions, many of them representing ancestors who were present at the original occasion, participated. Among the prominent social, patriotic and military organizations and societies taking part in the various interludes were the Daughters of the Cincinnati, the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Colonial Dames, the Huguenot Society, the St. Nicholas Society, the St. George Society, the New York Historical Society, the Museum of the City of New York, Veterans of the War of 1812, the Putnam Phalanx, Col. Ralph C. Tobin and officers and enlisted men of the Seventh Regiment, N. G. N. Y.

Beginning promptly at midnight, the spectacle began to unfold with a prelude arranged by Mr. Kenneth Murchison, chairman of the society, and performed by Michael Markel's Orchestra, under the direction of Dr. Sigmund Spaeth. Starting in the days when the island of Manhattan was inhabited by Indians, the pageant was divided into four principal interludes—the Indian, Dutch, English, Colonial and American Revolutionary times, which were in turn subdivided into several scenes each, coming to a stirring finale with the inauguration of General George Washington on April 30, 1789, as first President of the United States amid the cheers of the populace. The closing scene depicted the brilliant and colorful opening of the first Inaugural Ball, in the course of which a 1789 minuet as performed by a large corps de ballet under the direction of Mme. Albertina Rasch. Then President Washington, whose character was portrayed by Mr. Murchison, surrounded by his intimate friends and staff, received the guests and the ball was under way.

Mr. James Monroe Hewlett, who is soon to take charge of the American Academy in Rome, designed the sets for the pageant. Messrs. Ernest Peixotto and Joseph H. Freedlander headed the committee on costumes. Mr. Louis E. Jallade edited the souvenir program and yearbook of the society, and Mr. James W. O'Connor and Mr. Arthur Ware were in charge of the ballroom arrangements and publicity, respectively.

The costume is of pale blue taffeta over and underskirt of pink taffeta, with lacings of deep blue velvet.

The characters taking part in the historical pageant and the distinguished members of New York families who portrayed them included the following: Father Knickerbocker, Mr. Stephen F. Voorhees; Henry Hudson, Mr. C. Alan Hudson, Jr.; Peter Minuit, Dr. William Jay Schieffelin, president of the Huguenot Society; an Indian Chief, Mr. William Jay Schieffelin, Jr.; Kiliaen Van Rensselaer, the First Patroon, Kiliaen Van Rensselaer; Melgert Mynantse Vander Poel, Mr. S. Oakley Vander Poel; Vrouw Vander Poel, Mrs. Mildred Vander Poel Becker; Pieter Van Alen and Vrouw Van Alen, Mr. and Mrs. William L. Van Alen; Jacob Janse Schermerhorn and Vrouw Schermerhorn, Mr. and Mrs. A. Coster Schermerhorn; Ryck Suydam and Vrouw Suydam, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick D. Suydam; Jan Weidhaas, Mr. Gustave Weidhaas; Vrouw Kaatz Cornelijs, Mrs. Sigmund Spaeth; Gen. Peter Schuyler and Mrs. Schuyler, Mr. and Mrs. Pierpont Morgan Hamilton; Johannes de Peyster and Vrouw de Peyster, Mr. Frederic Ashton de Peyster, Jr., and Miss Helen Van Cortlandt de Peyster; Admiral Sir Robert Holmes, K. B., Capt. H. R. Burt; Vice-Admiral Sir Christopher Myngs, Capt. John C. Fremont; the Town Crier, Mr. William H. Gompert; officers and crew of the Adventure, Messrs. Lejaren A. Hiller, William Lundgren, Edward Trumbull, Bill Baird, Evelyn Schwartz, Mott B. Schmidt, Don Dickerman, Philip Ruxton, George S. Chappell, Bull Burham, Jeff Machamer, Russell Patterson, John Held, Jr., Edward Sperry, Julian Levi, Archie Morrison and Lee Simonson.

Also William Walton, Mr. Arthur Ware; Mrs. Walton, Miss Mary Nash; Gov. Oliver Delancey, Mr. Frederick Peabody; Mrs. Delancey, Miss Phoebe Foster; William Livingston, Mr. Goodhue Livingston, Jr.; Benjamin Franklin, Mr. James Monroe Hewlett; William Beekman, Mr. William Beekman; Lady Lenora Allen, Mrs. Raymond Allen; Earl of Loudon, Mr. G. Clinton Mackenzie; Countess of Loudon, Mrs. S. Hinman Bird; George Washington, Mr. Murchison; Chancellor Livingston, Mr. James Duane Livingston, Jr.; Gen. Samuel Blachley Webb, Mr. J. Watson Webb; Maj. Gen. Israel Putnam, Mr. George Washington; Maj. Gen. Ebenezer Stevens, Col. Arthur F. Schermerhorn; Maj. Gen. Thomas Nelson, Mr. Francis Nelson; Maj. Gen. Baron Steuben, Mr. Tony Sarg; Maj. Gen. George Shepley, Mr. Henry R. Shepley; Maj. Gen. Henry Knox, Mr. Gordon Knox Bell; Maj. Gen. Jabez Huntington, Mr. M. S. Huntington Watts; Brig. Gen. Anthony Wayne, Mr. Dwight Franklin; Brig. Gen. Chevalier du Portain, Mr. Simeon Shepard; Brig. Gen. Mordecai Gist, Mr. Franklin Benkard; Governor Clinton and Mrs. Clinton, Mr. and Mrs. C. Kenneth Clinton.

Many of the costumes supplied by the Brooks Costume Company were from designs by Messrs. Rene La Montagne, Charles Le Maire, James Reynolds, Russell Patterson, William Henry Mathews and by Mabel Johnston. White wigs predominated. Among the costumes furnished by this establishment was that worn by Mrs. S. Stanwood Menken in a gown made of cloth of gold embossed in a Colonial flowered pattern, dress and headdress introducing bird of paradise as trimming, the feathers being caught together with encrusted and diamond bird of paradise heads. Gold lace with a gleaming tracery of embroidery was used as a trimming on the bodice. Mr. Menken, representing his great grandfather, Major Benjamin Nones, wore the uniform of an officer of General Lafayette's army.

Others of these costumes were worn by Mrs. J. F. Hewitt, shot-taffeta mulberry dress bodice of cross lacings of ribbon and blue embroidered banding; Mrs. A. T. Van Rensselaer, gold satin gown with a cascade of salmon satin ruffles around the overskirt; Mrs. H. LeRoy Whitney (Phoebe Foster), white pannier velvet with silver and blue embroidered banding; Mrs. John White Craig, rose pink dress of embossed satin with a panniered skirt; Miss Natalie Peters, bright chintz ball gown with a white organdie petticoat; Miss Aurlie Murchison, dress of sampler designed taffeta; Mrs. Walter P. Chrysler, baby blue taffeta trimmed with pleated bandings on the bottom of the skirt and an old-fashioned bouquet; Mrs. H. Casimir de Rham, short gown of green taffeta with cream satin petticoat edged in bronze lace; Mrs. Kenneth Van Riper, leaf brown pannier gown with cream satin petticoat; Mrs. Wallace Bird, tomato red maise satin gown with a layer of transparent material caught up by box ruching of frilled satin; Mrs. Walter Ewing Hope, oyster white taffeta decorated with garlands of painted flowers; Mrs. Philip Corbin, chiffon velvet man's suit with a silver satin embroidered waistcoat; Mrs. Louis de L'Aigle Munds, flowered chintz dress with a petticoat of apricot organdy; Mrs. Martin S. Watts, pale biege taffeta with a wreath of green and yellow painted flowers; Mrs. Orson D. Munn, black velvet gown with biege taffeta for underskirt and front bodice and edging of lace below; Mrs. Ottavio Prochet, gown entirely bound with blue pleated velvet; and Mrs. Byron C. Foy, flowered silk gown with orchid as its dominant motif.

Others appearing on the ballroom floor were Mrs. F. Burrall Hoffman as an eighteenth century equestrienne in a striking costume by Henri Bendel with a plumed hat and velvet riding habit; Mr. Christopher H. La Farge, Jr., as Peter Stuyvesant, in a costume by Eaves of brown velvet, with peg leg; Mr. Lyttleton Fox, court costume, also by Eaves, of black moire trimmed with old gold; Mrs. Monroe Hewlett; Mrs. Spencer Turner; Mr. Joseph S. Evans, Jr., as a city merchant, in white and violet; Mrs. Harry Dorsey Watts, court costume of cerise taffeta; Mr. Lucius Beebe, village rustic in puce velvet; Mr. T. Sloan Young, black and silver costume; Mrs. Robert W. Chambers, court costume of blue and silver brocaded taffeta trimmed with silver lace; Mrs. Louis G. Kaufman, organdie gown with blue ruffles, trimmed with cream lace, and a poke bonnet; Mrs. Paul Hammond, Colonial costume of blue flowered chintz; Mrs. G. T. Maxwell, court costume of pink taffeta brocaded in silver and trimmed with pink tulle; Mrs. De Coursey Fales white moire costume, trimmed with white tulle and blue turquoise velvet ribbons; Mrs. Cass Gilbert, court costume of white taffeta.

One of the interesting costumes at the ball was the actual uniform worn by Commodore Tingley at the first inaugural ball which was worn last evening by Mr. Sidney G. de Kay, master of ceremonies of the ball. The uniform was in a remarkable state of preservation and is to be presented to the New York Historical Society by Mr. de Kay. Mrs. Henry Robert Coons wore a colonial costume of turquoise blue taffeta and a large garden straw hat of the period with long velvet streamers. Mr. Walter P. Chrysler, Jr., appeared in the gold and black uniform of a hussar.

Preceding the ball many dinners were given. Mr. and Mrs. Murchison and Mr. and Mrs. Lyttleton Fox gave a joint dinner at the Waldorf for forty. Mrs. Austen Gray was hostess at a costume dinner and others who entertained guests before the ball included Mr. and Mrs. T. Wallace Orr, Mr. and Mrs. Walter P. Chrysler, Mr. Arthur H. Osborne, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Vanderpoel, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Trumbull, Mr. and Mrs. Simeon Shepard, Mr. Henry Shepley, and many others.

ANNUAL LAKE WORTH TOURNAMENT

STAGING a remarkable comeback Friday in the second 18 holes of the Lake Worth tournament finals, William B. Langford, Chicago, defeated Albert R. Hakes, Dunkirk, N. Y. golfer, to win the championship by a margin of 2 up. This is the third time William Langford has been victor in the event but the last win was staged back in 1922, ten years ago. He also won the championship in 1921.

Both golfers played an unimpressive morning match with Langford 1 down at the end of the 18th hole. Both were not up to their usual playing standard with Hakes making a 36-38-74 for the first 18 and Langford turning in 40-37-77.

In the afternoon however they tightened considerably, Langford shooting par golf all through the first 9 holes, and on into the 11th, breaking the 9th with a 35 to Hakes 36.

Trees cost Hakes the match on the final hole just as they did with Tommy Goodwin the day before. On his tee shot Hakes landed almost in the middle of the pine walk and took an extra shot trying to get out on the fairway. The next stroke was on the green but Hakes took a five to make the hole and lost the match.

In the finals of the consolation flight Robert M. Crosbie, Boston, defeated M. A. Carroll, Oshkosh, 3 and 2.

The day before, Tommy Goodwin, youthful golf flash, who has already won two tournaments on the Florida East Coast this season, met his Waterloo at the hands of William B. Langford, prominent Chicago golf course architect, in a stiff match, followed by a large gallery, Langford winning 1 up when Goodwin landed in the trees taking a 5 on the 18th hole.

Albert Hakes, well known tournament player and Palm Beach champion last year, made another par round Thursday and playing the type of golf that made him medalist in the qualifying round, finished four strokes under Johnny Witman, popular Palm Beach golfer, to take the match 3 and 1 which placed him up against Langford in the championship finals.

On the 18th tee Goodwin made a long cross shot, his ball landing in a clump of trees, forcing him to take a 5, while Langford kept to the fairway and won the match with a 4.

The second flight final was won by Robert Crosbie, Boston, who defeated Elmer Jordan, New York, 3 and 2, and H. E. Ferguson, Palm Beach, defeated B. A. Jacob, Jr., Staunton, Va., in the third flight by the same score.

In the consolation championship flight William H. Hyde, Ridgeway, Pa., defeated F. W. Gwynne, New York, 2 and 1, and M. A. Carroll, Oshkosh, defeated Dr. Edward Martin, Media, Pa., 5 and 4.

Before a gallery of more than 200 golf fans last Wednesday Tommy Goodwin, Monroe, N. Y., 18-year-old amateur sensation, battled it out with Arthur "Ducky" Yates, Rochester, N. Y., defending champion, to win 2 and 1, in the second day of match play of the annual Lake Worth tournament at the Palm Beach Golf Club. His score for the match was 35-36-71, while Yates turned in 37-35-72.

Albert Hakes, Dunkirk, N. Y., medalist of the tournament, won easily over George Lynn, New York, the match ending on the 12th green, 7 and 6. Hakes made a 34 for the first nine. He played the same spectacular game that aided him in breaking par in the medal play.

Goodwin, who won the Miami open, and the title in the Miami-Biltmore amateur, as well as both medal and title in the St. Augustine event, played a very consistent game making the same tally as he did in the qualifying event and a stroke less than his score against Butler, whom he defeated in Tuesday's play.

Yates wasn't at all sure of himself the first three holes, which he made in 5-3-5, and rocked along through the second three, 5-4-5. On the eighth, however, he made the most spectacular play of the day, taking an eagle. His tee shot went straight down the fairway to within about 80 yards of the pin. On his second shot which was a mashie niblick pitch, he sent the ball onto the green within five feet of the hole where it bounded once or twice and then dribbled in.

Goodwin appeared unruffled by this feat and kept along playing his regular game and at the 13th standing dormie five it looked as though the match were about over. Yates tightened on the next three, taking them in par, but broke the 17th even and Goodwin had the match.

William B. Langford, Chicago, member of the Old Guard and prominent course architect, turned in the lowest score of the day when he showed a par card of 69 to defeat O. L. Brailey, Toledo. His scores for the day were 33-36-69, the match ending on the 18th when Langford made a birdie. Brailey made an excellent showing and turned in a card of 72.

John Witman, Palm Beach, won over Arthur Brown, Boston, 2 up.

Albert R. Hakes, Dunkirk, N. Y., who broke the course record for medal play the opening day of the twenty-fifth annual Lake Worth tournament with a 65 continued his winning streak last Tuesday in the first match play chalking up a 68, one under par against William H. Hyde, Ridgeway, Pa., winning 4 and 3.

Arthur "Ducky" Yates swung into winning form once more and also tallied a 68 for the 18 holes, winning over Dr. Edward Martin, Media, Pa., 5 and 4. Tommy Goodwin, Monroe, N. Y., and Jack Butler, Palm Beach, battled it out to a sizeable gallery with Goodwin coming out on top 3 and 1. Goodwin's score for the round was 72 as against a 74 for Butler. This twosome attracted the bulk of attention from the golf fans and the scores showed the effect it had upon this closely matched pair. Arthur Brown, Boston, was forced to play 21 holes to come out 1 up against A. R. Hamerslag, Great Neck, L. I.

Jacob, Jr., Staunton, Va., defeated Michael Sholtz, New York, 4 and 3. Clay B. O'Dell, Johnstown, N. Y., defeated J. H. Dewsnap, White Plains, N. Y., 2 up.

Albert R. Hakes, prominent amateur of Dunkirk, N. Y., set a new course record for medal play by turning in a card of 65, four under par in the qualifying round of the Lake Worth tournament held over the revamped course of the Palm Beach Golf Club. Former record over the old course was 66, made by Tommy Goodwin, December 27, 1930.

Tommy Goodwin, winner of the St. Augustine event last week, and low man in the Miami Biltmore tournament a week before, was runner-up, turning in a card of 71 for the 18 holes.

Cards of the first four players were:

MIAMI BEACH

PERCIVAL WILDE, noted dramatist and critic, and Edward Davison, renowned British poet, were guests of honor at a reception in the ocean lounge of the Roney Plaza Hotel recently, at which Judge A. A. Goddard took the role of host for the University of Miami Society, of which he is president. A distinguished gathering of Miamians and winter visitors met at the Roney Plaza to pay homage to the celebrated writers. President B. F. Ashe of the University of Miami stood at the head of the receiving line to greet guests.

During an informal program a group of classical selections was presented under the direction of Miss Bertha Foster, head of the University of Miami Conservatory. Dr. Orton Lowe, head of the University of Miami English Department, introduced Mr. Wilde and Mr. Davison, who expressed their pleasure at being in south Florida.

Interest is being evinced throughout the United States over the announcement of a Pan-American Round Table to be led by Dr. Victor Andres Belaunde, distinguished Peruvian scholar and diplomat, in the ocean lounge of the Roney Plaza Hotel at Miami Beach, on a series of Friday nights beginning Friday, February 26, under auspices of the University of Miami.

South American politics and their relation to the world situation will be the theme of the forums, which will be open to the public. In view of the close connection between the United States and her neighbors to the south, by reason of location and mutual commercial interests, the forthcoming conferences are expected to be of international significance. In charge of arrangements are Mrs. Ida Clyde Clark, political student and professor of writing at the University of Miami, and Mrs. Clark Stearns, president of the Pan-American League in Miami.

The series of subjects for the round tables, as announced by the co-chairmen, are "General Political Situation in the Spanish World Before the Last Revolutions;" "The Argentine Revolution;" "Re-election in Bolivia—Peru—Downfall of Leguia;" "Political Changes in Brazil;" "The Spanish Revolution;" "Downfall of Ibanez in Chile—Revolution in Equador;" "Constitutional Discussions in Peru."

Dr. Belaunde has had a colorful political career, having been exiled from Peru in 1921, at the time of Leguia's installation as president. He now heads the political faction which recently succeeded in sending Leguia into exile.

Breakfast-table talk, proverbially dull, has come to life over the old subject of new clothes. What to wear, when, and especially how to wear them, is on every tongue, as a result a Style Show—sponsored by three leading women's organizations of the Miami area—the Miami Woman's Club, the Miami Junior Woman's Club, and the Miami Beach Woman's Club, the parade of 1932 fashions was rated an outstanding affair in point of interest excited, and styles displayed; presented in the palm gardens of the Roney Plaza Hotel at Miami Beach, last week, and attended by thousands of spectators from the Miami and Palm Beach district.

Forty models, ranging from the wee tot to the matron, displayed five times that many models embracing the newest notes in fashion-land as to color, fashion and silhouette.

Seersucker, formerly associated with children's rompers, made its bow and took an encore, because of its countless possibilities for contrast by diagonal and horizontal effects, and for its unmussable practical all-day appropriateness. All the colors of the rainbow were in the display.

For beach wear, the bandana pajamas—a simple style achieved by wide-bottomed trousers and just any kind of square scarf—cotton, silk or what-have-you, took the honors. The scarf must be large. One corner may be split far enough to allow the ends being tied around the neck, or it may be knotted to choker beads; the opposite corner hangs down over the trousers in front, and the other two ends tie across the back. Tricky? Yes, but very chic.

Smart for the races is the white Schiaparelli two-piece suit with wide bands of white fox following the lines of the forearm from wrist to elbow.

Rough crepes and heavy satins with brilliant buckle trim or heavy fur borders, characterized the evening group. Prints, always threatening to go out of vogue, came out brighter and more exotic than ever, in an imported gown of brilliant blues, reds and greens, with deep decollete back-treatment.

After-breakfast-time in the Roney Plaza palm gardens at Miami Beach, Fla., finds Mrs. Floyd Parsons, and her daughter, Miss Jean Parsons, of New York, out for a stroll.

MIAMI

SWINGING into immediate activity following the hotel's brilliant opening the middle of January, the seasonal program at the popular Miami Biltmore has been marked by many highlights during the past fortnight. Bridge, dancing, golfing, swimming, riding and tennis have filled the social calendar and made the hotel a favorite rendezvous for the resort colony. The first of a series of weekly bridge parties was given last week, marking an interlude in the nightly dances. These latter, with Jerry Twitchell's Miami Biltmore Hotel orchestra to play for the dancers, have been among the most popular events on the social calendar.

Moonlight riding parties lured many away from bridge and dancing and under the brilliance of the tropical moon, the wooded trails around the Miami Biltmore were at their loveliest. Riding, by the way, always a favorite diversion, is threatening the popularity of other sports here this season, and many of the hotel guests have brought their own mounts with them and stabled them at the riding club.

The new children's playroom of the Miami Biltmore Hotel has been the scene of considerable activity among the very young set, and the bi-weekly story hours on Friday and Saturday mornings, with Miss Mary Phillips in charge, have gathered large groups of happy youngsters. In conjunction with the children's pool and beach, the new playroom provides ideal recreational surroundings for the young sons and daughters of Miami Biltmore guests.

Sports and social affairs, topped by the Junior League Charity Ball and the 36-hole medal play tournament for members of the Miami Biltmore Country Club, are conspicuous on the calendar in Coral Gables for this week.

The Charity Ball, one of the smartest of southern Florida social events, will be held in the Country Club Saturday night for the benefit of the Children's Home, which is supported by league funds. More than an annual social event, it is expected to be a general gathering of society groups from Miami as well as Miami Beach and Palm Beach.

The club golf tournament follows closely on the heels of the Miami Biltmore Woman's Championship which was decided Friday before a gathering of several thousand golfing fans in the Miami area. The new tournament is expected to draw the largest field ever to compete in an intra-club event, due chiefly to the fact that the Biltmore Club recently became a unit of the Florida Year-Round Clubs, embracing a membership widely scattered through the best known Florida resorts.

The University of Miami will open the third week Monday of its Winter Institute of Literature with Zona Gale, noted novelist, as guest speaker. Lectures will be held Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings.

The Florida East Coast Railway bridge spans Lake Worth and provides a convenient approach to the great hotels of Palm Beach. On the lake front at the left, The Hotel Ambassador, the Breakers standing by itself on the ocean-front, then the immense Royal Poinciana stretching its great length for almost a quarter of a mile along the lake front, then Whitehall, occupying what was once the gardens of the Flagler estate and including in its structure the palatial home of the former South Florida pioneer.

THE New Colonial Hotel, its beauty enhanced by its exotic tropical gardens which seem lovelier than ever this season, opened Tuesday, January 19. Quite a number of Royal Victoria guests transferred to this hotel. Among them, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Andrews and their daughter, Miss Theodosia Burr Andrews, of Englewood, N. J. Among the New Yorkers removing were Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Quinn, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Dickenson, Mrs. Leslie M. Wilson, Miss Louise Jenkins, Miss Rhea M. Sarnoff and her brother, Mr. Charles Spencer Sarnoff, and Mrs. George S. Kaufman, wife of the well-known playwright.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Frederick L. Wells, of Winnipeg; Mr. A. F. Wells and Miss Mary Lawson, of New York; Mr. J. Arthur McBride and Mr. A. C. Collett, of Montreal; Miss Muriel Sulley, of London, England.

Arriving on opening day on the Munargo were Mr. and Mrs. Francis C. Allen, of Hartsdale, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Ross, of San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Culbert, Jr., of Rye; Mr. Millard C. Hamer, of Minneapolis; Mr. Joseph W. MacAuley, of Beverly, Mass.

* * * *

* * * *

Bob Sperling, of New York, has an orchestra of seven pieces that plays for dancing every evening in the New Colonial Grill and during the tea hour in the open air dance pavilion in the tropical tea gardens. His orchestra also plays concert music during the dinner hour.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Munson entertained a small group for afternoon tea in the gardens and the pavilion was filled with dancers. Among the Munsons' guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Andrews, Miss Theodosia Burr Andrews, Miss Margaret Mallory, Mrs. Charles Frederick Brice and Mr. John Tracy.

On opening night, the New Colonial Grill was very festive and gay as small parties gathered for a late supper and dancing.

His Excellency, Gov. B. E. H. Clifford, and the Honourable Mrs. Clifford came down from Government House, where they had given a dinner earlier in the evening, and quite informally joined the dancers in the grill. In their small group were Miss Diana Churchill, who is their house guest; Mr. Bertrand L. Taylor and his daughter, Miss Taylor, and the governor's A. D. C., Commander Edward Edmondstone.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wagstaff 3rd and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Herndon, Jr., made up a small party as did Mr. John Tracy, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mayo, Miss Dickerson and Mr. Malcolm Whitaker.

Mrs. John B. Griggs, of Hartford, Conn., gave a small dinner in the grill on opening night. Her table, exquisite with tropical blooms, was placed in the Tap Room of the grill and in her party were Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Farrington, Dr. and Mrs. D. H. Graham and Mr. Walter Griggs.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wagstaff 3rd, who are on their honeymoon, having been married recently in St. Bartholomew's Church in New York, have extended their visit to Nassau and will remain here instead of making their expected trip to Havana. On their way north they will stop in Palm Beach to visit Mr. and Mrs. Pierre L. Barbey. Mrs. Wagstaff was Miss Kathleen Hastings Curtis.

The presence of a new governor of the Bahamas has caused an impetus of entertaining. Two dinners have already been given at Government House. At the first one His Excellency, and the Hon. Mrs. B. E. H. Clifford had, in addition to their house guests, the Rt. Hon. Mr. Winston Churchill and Mrs. Churchill and their daughter, Miss Diana Churchill, the following: The Acting Chief Justice, Guy Tracey Watts, M. E. C.; the president of the legislative council, Dr. G. H. Johnson, M. E. C.; the Speaker of the House of the House of Assembly, Harcourt Malcolm, K. C., O. B. E., and Mrs. Malcolm; the Very Rev., the Dean of Nassau; Lady Williams-Taylor, Miss Muriel Sulley, both of England, and the governor's A. D. C. Commander Edward St. John Edmondstone. The Americans present were Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Munson, of New York.

At the second dinner the guest list included the Colonial Secretary, Hon. Charles Dundas, O. B. E., and the Hon. Mrs. Dundas; the Receiver General and Mrs. Neville Solomon; the Hon. Walter K. Moore and Mrs. Moore; Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Whebel; Mrs. Godfrey Corbett, Miss Mary Moseley. From the States were Mr. Bertrand L. Taylor and his daughter, Miss Taylor.

During the past week, His Excellency, the Governor; his A. D. C., Commander Edmondstone, the Hon. Walter K. Moore, lunched quite informally at the Bahamas Country Club with Mr. Frank C. Munson, after which they made up a foursome of golf.

* * * *

On Wednesday evening, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Dolley gave a dinner in honor of His Excellency and the Hon. Mrs. B. E. H. Clifford at their magnificent Spanish winter home, Eriedu, which being translated means By-the-Sea, at which 26 of the winter cottage colonists were asked.

It was a native turtle dinner and among other delicacies included turtle soup, turtle steak, and turtle baked and served in its shell.

Also during the week there were numerous small affairs. Dr. and Mrs. James C. Ayer had a dinner at their cottage, Ayersdale, for Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Munson, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Cox, Mr. and Mrs. George Bullock, Mrs. Daniel Loring and Miss Margaret Mallory.

* * * *

Lady Williams-Taylor had a dinner and bridge party at her cottage, the Wave, and Commander H. Langton-Jones and his sister, Miss Dora Langton-Jones, entertained at Inucheon.

* * * *

Mrs. Adams Child Sumner, of Garden City, L. I., has arrived and opened her cottage and has with her for the winter Mrs. Herbert L. Smith of the same city.

You Ask: "What Does A Pool Cost?"

Then in the next breath you say to yourself: "Of course, that depends."

And so it does. But one thing sure, we can to your distinct cost-saving advantage, right now build and fully equip for you either an indoor or outdoor one.

It happens that for a quarter of a century we have been building pools. Building them and equipping them. Doing the entire job in a way that takes all both-erments off your shoulders.

All over the country we have built them. Catalog if you wish.

SWIMMING POOLS

Whether elaborate or simple, pools require skillful making. We not only build your pool, but equip it complete with a water-heating system even to filtered and sterilized water if you wish. If near the seashore, it can be salt water. Glad to send you a list of our customers.

THE NEW PALM BEACH HOTEL

Truly
Resort
Hotel
World

Your suite in the NEW PALM BEACH HOTEL is an intimate creation—you are thus impressed as you are ushered into it. You may prefer the ultra equipped rooms, with two individual private baths, in full rhythm of modern motif—or you may fancy some earlier period with its arabesques.

Come, enjoy a winter of health and pleasure in an atmosphere more ideal than you ever supposed could exist in any resort.

MIAMI BILTMORE hotel

CORAL GABLES, MIAMI, FLORIDA

Marcel A. Gotschi, Managing Director

N. B. T. Roney
 PRESIDENT

London Office: Savoy Hotel. Paris Office: 3 Rue Auber

Open from January sixteenth

Miami Biltmore Country Club
adjoining the Hotel

Under new ownership and new policies . . with its many improvements . . the special arrangements thru new affiliations for guests' golfing, fishing, tennis, bathing and other sports, the Biltmore will be a colorful center of the southern resort season. Although the Biltmore is the world's most sumptuous resort hotel, built without regard for cost during the "peak" season of all Florida's history, its accommodations are now available at popular rates . . American and European plan.

RONEY PLAZA hotel

MIAMI BEACH, FLORIDA . . . .

Wm. G. McMeekin, Managing Director

Open from Thanksgiving Day

Roney Plaza Cabana Sun Club and
Palm Gardens

Innovations this year include reductions in room rates and a la carte dining service . . . club breakfasts at sixty cents to a dollar and the Cabana Club Luncheon at a dollar fifty, without sacrificing in the least the traditional European service and niceties of America's finest ocean-front hotel. Pool and surf bathing, without extra charge, and all the pleasures of the Roney Plaza's palm gardens, promenades and beach are privileges of every guest.

AFTER SEA BATHING

Use Lucky Tiger Freely!

THERE'S where you will get your real thrill. Lucky Tiger is marvelous for the hair and scalp. It means more life and more energy. Being a germicide, it goes to the seat of scalp trouble. Those miserable itchings are replaced with tingles as pleasing as the beautiful moonlight and the sparkles of the stars.

LUCKY TIGER

Lucky Tiger has proven its merit over nearly two score years. It is used by millions. It easily has the largest distribution of any similar preparation in the world. Exhaustive bacteriological tests have proven both the safety and germicidal efficiency of Lucky Tiger.

The NIGHT CAP of those who know!

MEN about town, whose happy moments are divided between entertaining and being entertained, tell us there is no cold, grey dawn in their lives.

Jitters is their answer. Whether they eat too much, drink too much, smoke too much, a tablespoonful of Jitters in a glass of water before retiring makes them wake up in the morning with head clear, stomach settled and nerves calmed.

All night long, the million little sponges in Jitters are absorbing the toxic poisons that over indulgence brings. When morning comes, there is no trace of the night before. Not a drug; not a laxative—Jitters is simply a product which Nature began and science completed. It has no bad after-effects. Jitters is good on the morning after; better the night before.

THE LINCOLN V-12—WILLOUGHBY LIMOUSINE

The Lincoln is built to express the highest type of motor car beauty, the finest possible performance, the most satisfying motoring comfort. The V-12 cylinder Lincoln—in twenty-five custom-built and standard body types—more closely approaches this ideal than any Lincoln that has preceded it. This motor car is characterized by the balanced excellence for which Lincolns have always been known. With many mechanical refinements, its new V-type engine of 150 horse-power sets new standards for smooth, alert, effortless performance. Prices of the V-12 cylinder Lincoln range from $4300 to $7400 at Detroit

Engine of 12 cylinders cast in two blocks and set at a V angle of 65 degrees to give out-of-step firing and insure smooth operation. Three-point suspension mounted on rubber. Brake horse-power, 150. Bore and stroke— $3\frac{1}{4} \times 4\frac{1}{2}$ . Dual down-draft carburetor with special intake silencer and air cleaner. Exhaust pipe carried forward of and below engine to keep heat from front compartment.

Silent camshaft drive chain with automatic adjustment, requiring no attention. Soft-acting double-disc clutch. Free-wheeling unit controlled from instrument board operative in all forward speeds. Transmission equipped with a special synchronizing unit to facilitate gear shifting. Helical second-speed gears insure quiet operation. Wheelbase, 145 inches. Tread, 60 inches. Brakes equipped with vacuum booster to augment foot pedal pressure. Thermostatically controlled radiator shutters and hood ventilators. Springs semi-elliptic—rear, 62 inches; front, 42. Steel-spoke, one-piece demountable wheels, diameter, 18 inches, with  $7\frac{1}{2}$ -inch tires. Twenty-five custom-built and standard bodies equipped with safety glass throughout are offered on the Lincoln V-12 chassis.

MIAMI BEACH

MISS HELEN MENKEN, famous as the star of "Seventh Heaven" and other Broadway successes, is at the Roney Plaza Hotel, Miami Beach, getting her fill of sunshine before proceeding to Hollywood, Calif., where she contemplates going into the talking pictures. A leading portrayer of character parts, Miss Menken will not admit she has any preferred role—or rather, she still is looking for a favorite party. Any role which will give her opportunity to express individualism—any part in which she sees possibilities of developing a character impersonation, appeals to her. She is fond of comedy roles.

At Miami Beach, she keeps busy, though resting. Her daily routine includes two hours of sun-bath in a private cabinet; a dip in the pool of the Roney Cabana Club; the afternoon absorbing more sunshine, either reading, playing backgammon, or talking amidst a circle of friends.

Miss Menken has just closed a Shakespearean tour with an all-star cast, including William Faversham, Tyron Power and other notable Broadway players, which covered the leading cities of the middle west and ended in New York. Among her other plays of note were "The Captive," "Makroupolis," "Cougai" and "Infinite Shoe Black." She has been on the stage since the age of four, and her forthcoming trip to Hollywood will be her first venture into the "movies."

Smiling, petite Mrs. Katsuji Debuchi with her distinguished husband, Dr. Debuchi, Japanese ambassador to the United States, paid a visit to the Roney Cabana Club at Miami Beach during their recent vacation trip in the south. She arrived in Miami by airplane from Havana, and in the afternoon attended the Fashion Show in the Roney Plaza Hotel gardens.

Mrs. Debuchi expressed her views fluently and graciously. Her particular hobbies, she said, are the American movies, detective stories and golf. She also likes to entertain; she enjoys social life in Washington; she is enthusiastic about American clothes; she is thrilled about her first airplane trip; she is happy about the new Japanese embassy in Washington.

"Japanese women are fast becoming modern in their ideas and ways," Mrs. Debuchi said, "but they still love their homes and home life."

In order that their children might assimilate and understand American life in its most democratic form, they are sending them to American schools. Miss Takako, their daughter, is attending public high school in Washington, and her brother, Masru, is a sophomore at Princeton University.

It was "Boots and Saddles" and the colorful atmosphere inseparably associated with the age old "sport of kings" for the second of the series of parties being given for members of the Florida Year Round Clubs and their guests, this one having been staged at the Miami Biltmore Country Club, unit of the new organization, a week ago Tuesday.

A variety of unique entertainment features characterized the "boots and saddles" party, including stunt riding by a group of cowboys from the Everglades, and boxing bouts in a ring built over the picturesque swimming pool of the Miami Biltmore. Jerome Twitchell's popular Miami Biltmore orchestra played for dancing and a buffet supper was served on the terrace at 11 o'clock.

Several hundred guests enjoyed the "boots and saddles" party which repeated the overwhelming success of the first entertainment given by the Florida Year Round Clubs, this latter being a "Nautical Night" entertainment at the Roney Plaza Cabana Sun Club. The third unit of the Florida Year Round Clubs is the Key Largo Anglers Club at Key Largo, luxurious retreat for followers of Izaak Walton.

The "Boots and Saddles" party at the Miami Biltmore was inspired by the keen interest members of the winter colony are taking in riding this season. The picturesque trails around the club—35 miles of them—provide ideal conditions for this sport and whenever the famous Florida moon is at its best, moonlight riding parties take precedence over bridge as well as dancing.

The Key Largo Anglers Club also has been the scene of a number of interesting affairs this season, the first large party there having been the outing with which the exclusive Century Club inaugurated the 1932 season.

Mrs. B. H. Bristow Draper, of Stopedale, Mass., accompanied by Mrs. P. Archibald Wilson, of Larchmont, N. Y., are new arrivals at the Roney Plaza Hotel, Miami Beach. They are prominent in social circles of their home cities.

* * * *

Mrs. J. L. Morehead and her daughter, Miss Lucy Morehead, have arrived from Durham, N. C., to pass the remainder of the season at the Roney Plaza Hotel.

* * * *

An interesting group frequently seen dining together upon the pool deck of the Roney Cabana Club, consists of Mr. and Mrs. Nunnally Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Shane and Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Swanson. Mr. Johnson is the short story writer of Saturday Evening Post fame; Mr. Shane is "Judge, Jr.," of the monthly magazine fame, and Mr. Swanson is editor of "College Humor."

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. P. Bernard Philipp, of New York City, are at the Roney Plaza Hotel. Mrs. Philipp is noted for her charity activities in connection with the Memorial Hospital of New York. Mr. Philipp is a partner of the firm of Philipp, Sawyer, Rice and Kennedy, one of the oldest companies specializing in patents and trade marks.

* * * *

Mr. Edward B. Greene, chairman of the executive committee, Cleveland Trust Company, has arrived at the Roney Plaza Hotel from Cleveland, Ohio, joining Mrs. Greene and their charming daughter, Miss Helen Greene.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Malley, of New Haven, Conn., are at the Roney Plaza Hotel.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Armand Deutch, of 465 Park Avenue, New York City, are important social figures recently arrived at the Roney Plaza Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Dougherty, of Coconut Grove and New York, and Mr. and Mrs. George B. Wells, of Miami and New York, all members of the Florida Year-Round Clubs, entertained a party of friends at the Key Largo Anglers Club recently, and made the trip on the "Vagabond," which runs daily between Key Largo and Miami. Others in the group were Mrs. Phyllis Robinson, of Asbury Park, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Dedrick Brandes, of Marmaroneck, N. Y., and Mr. and Mrs. George Van Wickle, of Boston.

HE warm equable sunny days are attracting scores of visitors to Paradise Beach, where they pass several hours each day bathing and acquiring a sun-tan on the coral sands. Visitors from the many cruise ships making Nassau a port of call flock to the beach as soon as they arrive and a visit to the exquisite sea gardens is also popular with them. Hope Williams, dramatic star, arrived this week via Pan-American Airways particularly to acquire a sun-tan on the beach and rest before starting rehearsals for Shaw's new play, "Too True to Be Good," to be produced by the Theatre Guild. She and her party are staying at Kenmuir.

Nassau has the distinction of entertaining two high dignitaries of the Roman Church. William Cardinal O'Connell, Archbishop of Boston, is at his winter home, the Hermitage.

On the Carinthia, Monday, came His Eminence, Patrick Cardinal Hayes, Archbishop of New York, who with his secretary, the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Donohue, and assistant secretary, Rt. Rev. Monsignor Arcese, is staying for three weeks at Bungalow Dunmore at the Priory.

In his party is Papal Marquis Sir George MacDonald, on whose yacht, the "Warrior," the Cardinal visited Nassau two years ago. He is a guest at the New Colonial.

Cardinal Hayes is here to install the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Bernard as Prefect Apostolic of the Bahamas, which ceremony will occur on February 7.

An attractive picture was presented as Cardinal Hayes approached St. Francis Xavier's Church, where he immediately went for adoration, as children from the mission, numbering 800, waving the yellow and white flag of the Papacy, the Union Jack and the Stars and Stripes, lined the route from the gate to the door of the church.

Night life in the New Colonial Grill is active, many small dinner and late supper parties being given with dancing to the music of Bob Sperling's orchestra.

This week Mr. and Mrs. Seward Prosser, who recently arrived from New York to occupy Clerihew House, brought their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Griffin, to dine and dance there.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Brown and Mr. John R. MacKinney, of New York, had a fish dinner to celebrate their return from a four-day fishing trip to Harbour Island and Spanish Wells. In the party also were Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Dickenson.

Mr. Sydney Farrington, local manager of the Pan-American Airways, and Mrs. Farrington; Mr. Philip Delany, traffic manager, and his assistant, Mr. J. M. Chatfield; Miss Olive Michener, Miss Cynthia Duncombe and Mr. and Mrs. John Daix had a dinner at the New Colonial Saturday evening and went on to the grill for dancing.

Another party was formed by Mr. and Mrs. H. Newell Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. John Burnside, Mr. and Mrs. Neville Solomon, Dr. and Mrs. Donald Graham.

Many dinners have been given during the week. On Tuesday evening the Colonial Secretary and the Hon. Mrs. Charles Dundas entertained at Shirley Slope in honor of the Governor of the Bahamas and the Hon. Mrs. Bede Edmund Hugh Clifford. Sir Humphrey and Lady de Trafford, Maj. Thomas Bouch and Commander Edmondstone, A. D. C., to the Governor, were present and their hosts took them on later to dance at the opening of the Jungle Club.

The following evening they were entertained at dinner by the President of the Legislative Council and Mrs. G. H. Johnston at their home, St. Mary's Villa. His Eminence Cardinal Hayes, Papal Marquis Sir George MacDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Walter K. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Harcourt Malcolm, Mrs. William Miller, Miss Sylvia Johnson, Commander Edmondstone, A. D. C., and Mr. Mervyn Johnson were the guests.

On Thursday evening Dr. and Mrs. James C. Ayer, of New York, gave a dinner at Ayersdale in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Sumner Dolley. At this dinner were the Colonial Secretary and the Hon. Mrs. Charles Dundas; the Speaker of the House of Assembly and Mrs. Harcourt Malcolm; Lady Williams-Taylor; the Very Rev. the Dean of Nassau; Capt. and Mrs. C. J. Alexander, Mr. Fred Armbrister.

From the American cottage colony were Mr. and Mrs. Irving Cox, Mr. and Mrs. George Bullock, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frederick Brice, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Murchie, Mrs. Daniel Loring and her house guest, Mrs. Hayes Brooke, and Mrs. Leach.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ledlie Culbert, Jr., of Blind Brook Lodge, Rye, N. Y., are at the New Colonial. Capt. and Mrs. Frederick Russell have arrived from Great Neck, L. I., for their usual seasonal visit, as has Mr. Henry Dodge Cooper, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Grady, of West Orange, N. J.

Mr. Robert B. Phillips, of Washington, and her sister, Miss Betty Buckner, of New York, daughters of Mr. Emory R. Buckner, one time United States District Attorney, Southern New York District, and Mrs. Buckner arrived by air and are at the New Colonial.

Mr. Alan F. Winslow, of New York, came by air and is here in the interests of the Pan-American Airways.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Brooks, of Southampton, have arrived and are at Sea Crest for the season.

Wednesday, in the New Colonial Grill, Mr. Frazier Jelke, of New York, gave a small dinner for Mrs. Robert B. Phillips and her sister, Miss Betty Buckner, of New York, and Mr. J. H. Doyle.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodolphe L. Agassiz, of Beverly, Mass., are occupying their Hog Island cottage. Miss Lillian Mitchell, of Beverly, is their guest.

Mrs. Charles B. Rockwell, of Providence, arrived Wednesday at her home, Sea Gate, accompanied by her sister, Miss Frances Gilmore.

Visitors to Nassau who have seen the Queen's Staircase, cut from solid coral rock in slavery days, will be interested in its restoration by the Nassau Garden Club who has also planted many blooming tropical shrubs around its base and installed electricity. Mrs. Kenneth Solomon is president of the Nassau Garden Club.

Next month the club will hold its annual flower show and it is now engaged on a general clean-up campaign which includes the restoration of old stone walls surrounding many of the gardens here.

A fish dinner was given by Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Brown and John R. MacKinney, of New York, at the New Colonial.

Mr. and Mrs. William Ledlie Culbert, Jr., of Rye, are at the New Colonial.

THE LIPSTICK ENSEMBLE

* In the new Elizabeth Arden Lipstick Ensemble there is a shade to harmonize with every costume in your resort wardrobe.

FOR YOUR BEACH CLOTHES you need the vivid accent of Chariot or Coquette to set off your slack-and-sweater or pyjamas.

FOR DAYTIME AND SPORTS, lovely Printemps and Viola are essential, for you surely have many costumes in pastel shades and in blues.

FOR THE EVENING, Victoire or Carmenita will add a striking note to your ensemble, if your gown is in black or a jewel tone. With light gowns, use Printemps...it will blend beautifully.

* So you see how indispensable the Lipstick Ensemble is to a happy holiday! You will find it in an attractive black and silver box, at the Arden Salon, $7.50. Of course you can buy the lipsticks individually, if you prefer, at $1.50 each.

* Regular treatments at Miss Arden's Salon will guard your skin against coarsening and insure the uniformity of your tan. Perhaps you have decided against tan. Then have special bleaching treatments and keep your cream-gardenia delicacy with Miss Arden's expert aid. Please telephone for an appointment Palm Beach 8924...Miami Beach 5-2830.

On the Courts

USTY showers of rain failed to deter the first round-robin matches held at the Poinciana courts of the Palm Beach Tennis Club. Although the first of the season they drew a large and imposing group of players, both amateur and professional and afforded plenty of action to the large gallery of resort folk gathered to watch them. W. O. Demuth and John Cardegna came out on top, 31-17, winning out over four teams, even on three and losing only to C. C. Chaffee and Daniel Kenny in a fast match, ending 2-4.

John Millen and Arthur Rudolph were the next best pair, coming out 30-18 against their eight pairings, winning five, even on two and losing 2-4 against the winning team, DeMuth and Cardegna.

Third winners were M. Dorland Doyle and James Kenny, who won four pairings, evened three and also lost to DeMuth and Cardegna.

Total scores were W. O. DeMuth and John Cardegna, 31-17; John Millen and Arthur Rudolph, 30-18; M. Dorland Doyle and James Kenny, 28-20; C. C. Chaffee and Daniel Kenny, 27-21; L. Hobbs and J. Rogers, 25-23; L. P. Condon and C. Harris, 24-24; A. Wait and George Agutter, 20-28; A. G. Kay and Robert Murray, 17-31; J. Lewisohn and Rudy Noble, 14-34.

Score of the winners were: W. O. DeMuth and John Cardegna against Lewisohn and Noble, 6-0; Millen and Rudolph, 3-3; Doyle and Kenny, 4-2; Wait and Agutter, 5-1; Chaffee and D. Kenny, 2-4; Kay and Murray, 4-2; Hobbs and Roger, 3-3; and Condon and Harris, 3-3.

John Millen and Arthur Rudolph, second team, scored as follows: Lewisohn and Noble, 5-1; Doyle and Kenny, 3-3; Wait and Agutter, 4-2; DeMuth and Cardegna, 2-4; Chaffee and Kenny, 3-3; Kay and Murray, 5-1; Hobbs and Rogers, 4-2; Condon and Harris, 4-2.

Scores of M. Dorland Doyle and James Kenny were: Lewisohn and Noble, 5-1; Doyle and Kenny, 3-3; Wait and Agutter, 4-2; DeMuth and Cardegna, 2-4; Chaffee and Kenny, 4-2; Kay and Murray, 4-2; Hobbs and Rogers, 3-3; Condon and Harris, 3-3.

Much enthusiasm was manifest by all players who stuck it out even though the weather was not exactly the kind to promote a good brand of tennis. The noise of rain dropping off the roof was interspersed by the snapping of racket strings as old Dame Dampness got busy. Everyone said they had a good time, however, and so E. Thompson Starr, secretary, Palm Beach Tennis Club, has announced another round-robin event scheduled for next Sunday, and if old Jupe Pluvius stays away, predicts a record gallery.

According to Mr. E. Thompson Starr, secretary of the Palm Beach Tennis Club, the interest which has been shown by tennis devotees both in the gallery and on the court more than warrants the continuation of the round-robin affairs.

Tournament play will start the latter part of February and many prominent net stars from all parts of the country will be seen on the courts during the tournament matches.

First on the card will be the Women's Championship of Florida, singles and doubles, February 29 to March 4. The Men's Championship of Florida will follow, March 7 to 12, with mixed doubles to be played the week of the men's tournament, if the committee so rules. The final event of the season will be the Southern Professional Championship, singles, March 15-19.

News of the Skyways

THOSE coming to Florida in search of something new and different may readily find it by taking a trip to Havana on palatial 40-passenger air yachts, having all the comforts of a Pullman car. The trip takes a little over two hours and after leaving Dinner Key seaplane base of the Pan-American Airways, the passenger is enthralled at the panorama unfolded before him. True, much of it is water, but such water; not one solid color of green or blue but a score of shades of these two colors made so by the varied depth of the water and the Gulf Stream coursing through it.

Then there are the hundreds of little keys, some having settlements on them and others with one or two huts, palm trees and several boats—always boats, for this is the only means of transportation and livelihood of the people living there.

In the distance one may see the Overseas Railway, stretching on and on, as though floating on the surface of the vast expanse of water, linking key to key, a masterpiece of railroad engineering.

Then there are the fish. Sometimes schools containing hundreds of them are clearly visible swimming just below the surface of the water, huge rays, sailfish, porpoise, sharks and countless smaller fish, cavorting about in the crystal clear water.

As one zooms southward, there is scarcely a time when the huge plane is out of sight of land. And yet, this mode of travel places one within a day of Cuba, Jamaica, Haiti, Dominican Republic and Nassau; within two days of Central America, northern South America, Canal Zone, or Porto Rico and the Caribbean islands as far as Trinidad. A marvelous mode of travel.

Notables traveling to Havana recently by means of the American Clipper included Mrs. Walter Winchell, wife of the celebrated columnist and radio speaker, Mr. Harry Mosser, recognized Harvard authority on bonds, and Thomas B. Rodenbaugh, son of the vice president of the Florida East Coast Railroad system.

Those arriving from Havana by air included Ambassador Orestes Ferrera, plenipotentiary from Cuba to Washington, and his wife, and Japanese Ambassador H. Debeuchi and wife. The typical oriental beauty of Mrs. Debeuchi attracted considerable interest on the part of Miamians.

A silver gray schnautzer (dog) and 16 trunks were a portion of the impedimenta of Mr. Seward Prosser, well-known New York banker, who with Mrs. Prosser and a party of five flew to Nassau this week. The schnautzer took the air with the rest of the party, but the 16 trunks went by boat in the usual manner. Mr. Prosser heads the unemployment committee of the city of New York and is a familiar figure in international banking circles.

New York-to-Rome flier Capt. Lon Yancey pulled his flying windmill into the air at Miami one morning recently and wheeled the first autogiro into Cuba by way of Key West. He was met by President Machado and a guard of two hundred soldiers. From Havana the famous air navigator hopped to Mexico, thus making the first crossing of the Yucatan straits by means of this very individual type of airplane of Spanish invention.

DURING the recent visit of the palatial Swedish motor vessel, "Kungsholm," word was passed on of the expected arrival in Havana of ex-King Alphonso, XIII, of Spain, early in March, who is keenly interested in horse racing and expressed a desire to look over the track at Oriental Park. During the international regatta last year at Stockholm, the MS Kungsholm served as a floating hotel, with such notable personages aboard as the King of Sweden with all the members of the Swedish royal family; the Norwegian Crown Prince and Princess; the Danish Princes, Aage and Axel; Mr. and Mrs. Manville, and Greta Garbo, and, according to our good friends, Knut W. Sundin and Mats Berg, they had a hard time keeping the cups filled for thirsty throats from all over the world.

It was during this regatta, that ex-King Alphonso decided to enjoy a visit to the West Indies aboard the MS Gripsholm, sistership of the MS Kungsholm, which leaves Kothamburg, Sweden, February 6, picking the former ruler up at Southampton, and arriving here about March 7, at the Hotel National.

Among many recent interesting visitors to the race track were His Highness, the Maharajah of Iamnamhampner, India; Mr. Wellington ("Duke") Cross and Mrs. Cross, of New York City, who entertained for Mr. Sharp Ezell, Mrs. Kelly Schofield, Mr. Henry Lustige, Mrs. Oscar Alexander, Mrs. Harry Kaufman, Mr. Charles Thompson, Mr. William Pickard, Mrs. M. Green and Mrs. Bobe Hague, all of New York; Mrs. Thomas O'Brien, widow of the late well known "Chicago O'Brien"; and Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Astor, on their palatial yacht, "Nourmahal," the guests aboard being Mr. Milton W. Holden, Miss Priscilla B. Preston, Miss Gertrude L. Conaway, Miss Eleanor Barry, and Mr. William Rhineland Stewart.

Fashionable Palm Beach society was represented by Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Henderson. Mrs. Henderson, several years ago was acclaimed by well known ateliers in Paris as being "the best dressed woman in the United States."

"First, a violet carmine, like the scattering petals of a giant carnation; then, a timid pink as tenuous as the first hint of dawn; afterwards, the silken yellow of a mandarin's tunic; and, finally, still shifting from tint to tint, a soft amber, a pale violet, a faded lilac, a tender green, until all gradually thin out and blend in the leaden grey.

"At the same time the sea, too, goes changing color from moment to moment; from a meagre turquoise it passes to a brilliant sapphire, then to the peacock blue of Damascus steel and, at last, the mournful black of funeral velvet . . . But, on feeling the kiss of the caressing light, the trembling waves dash upon the rocky shore; there is a momentary flash of white as of orange blossoms, tremulous flutterings as of Venetian lace. The water advances and recedes, at moments calm, at others a-tremble; it spreads out like an immense cloth of satin rumpled by the agile fingers of the wind.

"All these sunsets vary, so that we would think that every evening has one of its own; some are slow and sentimental, like the ending of adolescence; some are as brusque and tragic as a landslide. Others are gaudy, and sprinkle in the air and water the scintillant gems of an oriental fairy-tale; while yet others are melancholy, robed in leaden clouds, in sad northern clouds . . .

LIVELY POLO AT PHIPPS FIELDS

OLO at Phipps Fields this season has provided much interesting play with well known mallet experts from all sections of the country participating in morning and afternoon matches. North and South fields at Gulfstream are in the finest condition ever and shielded as they are from varying winds, by the hedges of large Australian pines and Cocanut palms make an ideal place for spectators to watch the play.

Many members from the resort colonies of Palm Beach, Gulfstream and Miami Beach who are devotees of the game motor down to the matches to root for their favorites on the respective teams.

In a one-sided match of 8 chukkers played at Phipps Fields, Gulfstream, recently, the Palm Beach Bluebirds defeated the Gulfstream Whitebirds 11 to 6.

On the Bluebirds were Capt. C. S. Lee, Leonard Firestone, H. R. McRea and Raymond Firestone.

Whitebirds were Winston Guest, Godfrey Preece, J. H. Whitney and Stewart Preece.

Raymond Firestone, of the Blues, played like a whirlwind, was everywhere and aided substantially by his brother Leonard and teammates scored seven of the 11 goals made. Leonard Firestone made three and H. R. McRea made one tally.

Winston Guest made a number of impressive long shots and tallied five goals for his side, Stewart Preece carrying the ball the length of the field for one goal.

In the first two chukkers, both teams were about evenly matched, scoring one goal each, which were made respectively by Stewart Preece and Raymond Firestone. In the third period, however, Raymond and Leonard Firestone got under way and working in perfect unison, each scored a goal, blanking their adversaries for the chukker.

The four period found Winston Guest playing the sort of a game that makes him a ranking player of the country and aided by Jock Whitney, who brought the ball down from the middle of the field and placed it, Guest came through with one of his famous distance shots and made a tally. Several minutes later he took the ball from Raymond Firestone and riding the length of the field lifted it for another, leaving the score tied at the end of the fourth chukker.

The fifth period was a closely contested one, both teams riding hard and milling around the goals for unsuccessful shots. Suddenly however, Raymond Firestone placed a ball for Leonard who took it half the distance of the field and made a long straight scoring shot, the only one of the chukker.

In the sixth period Raymond opened up again with his skillful work and made a lone tally, the chukker ending 6-4 in favor of the Blues. In the seventh period H. R. Mc-

Rea made a hard shot into the south goal and Raymond duplicated it putting the Blues four up on the Whites, with Winston Guest in his usual thrilling style making a long shot for a lone score.

In the eighth period the Firestone brothers worked with clocklike precision and getting under way with superb teamwork on the part of Capt. Lee and McRea seemed almost to score at will. Each time, either Leonard or Raymond would carry the ball and place it for the other to score with the result that Haymond made two goals and Leonard one. By far the prettiest shot of the day was made by Winston Guest in the last chukker when he took a placed ball from Jock Whitney and lifting a high shot almost from the center of the field drove it through for the final tally of the game.

In one of the best matches of the season played on a Thursday afternoon recently the Palm Beach Bluebirds tied the Whitebirds in a furious 8-chukker match ending 8 to 8.

On the Bluebirds were, Martin Osborn, Winston Guest, Leonard Firestone and Stewart Preece. The Whitebirds included, Harold Quinn, John Hay Whitney, Terance Preece and H. C. Phipps.

Winston Guest and Stewart Preece teamed together for the Blues making some beautiful shots punctuated with long runs almost the length of the field on several occasions. Guest was high man for the Blues making three goals with Stewart Preece being next registering two. Leonard Firestone and Martin Osborn aided materially with fine play, Firestone's long shots bringing the ball close to the goal on several occasions, Osborn tallying two and Firestone one.

Terance Preece and H. C. Phipps worked together in perfect unison for the Whitebirds with Preece playing one of the fastest games seen here this season. He made several beautiful runs and tallied four goals for his team with H. C. Phipps chalking up three, and playing an excellent defensive position.

In one of the recent games of the season, the Palm Beach Whitebirds won out over the Gulfstream Redbirds in a spirited match ending 10 to 8.

Whitebirds included J. S. Phipps, Hubert Phipps, Terance Preece, and Fred Wettach. Redbirds were, Stewart Preece, Godfrey Preece, Fred McRae, Martin Osborn.

Stewart Preece and Terance Preece on opposite sides both made four goals playing a fine game of polo. On the losing side, Godfrey Preece, foremost member of the famous Preece family team, scored one goal. Fred McRae made two and Martin Osborn made one.

J. S. Phipps on the winning Whitebirds and his son, Hubert Phipps, played a splendid game in forward positions, each registering two goals for their team.

COTTAGE COLONY SOCIETY LIFE

DEMONSTRATING their unfailing interest in the fine arts, as well as in matters of health and pleasure, winter colonists have been devoting themselves to notable musical entertainments during the past fortnight. Mrs. William Seward Webb was hostess at tea at Mirador on Dunbar Road and the New York String Quartet offered a program of chamber music that was highly appreciated. Among those who have attended the recitals recently given by this group of distinguished artists are Mr. and Mrs. Alfred G. Kay, Mr. and Mrs. George C. White, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Quentin Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Emil J. Stehli, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Van Alen, the Rt. Rev. Nathaniel Seymour Thomas and Mrs. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Foster Carey, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Seligman, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Homer, Mr. and Mrs. G. Horton Glover, Mrs. George Alexander McKinlock, Mrs. Joseph T. Ryerson, Mrs. Henry R. Rea, Mrs. William Guy Noll, Mrs. E. H. G. Slater, Mrs. Joseph Speidel, Mrs. Marion Sims Wyeth, Dr. Clement Cleveland, Mr. Hugh Dillman, Mr. William Henry Harrison, Mr. Henry T. Sloane, Senor Don Juan Riano, and Mr. Charles L. Cushing.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Kolb, of Clarke Avenue, entertain frequently in the garden of Patio Marguery. Guests of theirs at a recent dinner party included Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Feltman, Mrs. William W. Forrester, Mrs. Guy Randle, Mrs. C. H. Randle, Mr. Hanson Randle and his house guest, Mr. James Sheehan, and Mr. James Ellison.

Mr. Joseph E. Widener was host at a dinner party which was one of the highlights of the past fortnight. In addition to Mr. and Mrs. Peter A. B. Widener II, who are spending the season with him at his ocean-front home, those who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Williams and their house guests, Miss Louise Iselin and Mr. Thomas W. Potter; Mr. and Mrs. J. Gordon Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Fatio, Capt. and Mrs. R. Amcotts Wilson and their house guest, Mrs. Julien Allen, of Paris; Mrs. Dodge Sloane and her house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Livingston Clarkson; Mrs. Henry Carnegie Phipps, Mr. Charles A. Munn and Mr. and Mrs. M. Dorland Doyle.

One of the interesting parties attended by members of the younger set lately, was a dinner given by Miss Antoinette Johnson at the home of her father, Mr. Frederick Johnson. Her aunt, Mrs. Robert Gardiner, is a house guest at the villa on Via Bellaria. Others present on this occasion were Miss Elsie Plankinton and her house guest, Mr. George Lowther III; Miss Mary Kenny, Mr. Thomas Owen Haskins and Mr. Lawrence P. Tower.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Pierre L. Barbey, of Tuxedo Park, have returned at their home on North Ocean Boulevard, where they will be hosts to the recently wedded Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wagstaff III, also of the Tuxedo colony, who went from New York to Nassau following their marriage. Mrs. Wagstaff is the former Miss Kathleen H. Curtis, daughter of Mrs. George William Welsh, of New York, and the late Mr. Joseph Curtis, of Rochester. Mr. Wagstaff is the son of the late Mr. Alfred Wagstaff and of Mrs. Donald Carr, of New York and Mount Kisco, N. Y. The Rt. Rev. Ernest M. Stires, Bishop of Long Island, and the Rev. Dr. Robert Norwood officiated at the marriage which took place in St. Bartholomew's church. Miss Rose Grosvenor Davis was maid of honor and Mr. Henry F. Shoemaker II served as best man.

* * * *

Mrs. William B. Dinsmore, of Staatsburgh-on-the-Hudson, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Foster Carey at Villa Vinca on Sea Spray Avenue.

* * * *

One of the favored one-day trips for cosmopolites wintering in Palm Beach includes a drive down the Dixie highway to Miami, and from there out to Hialeah Park to attend the horse races. Recently, Mr. Charles A. Munn was noted in his box with Mrs. John Carson, of New York, and Maj. Price Harris. Mr. Edward T. Stotesbury occupied his box, and had with him a group of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Barklie, who passed the summer at Inver House, their residence at Wavne, Pa., are among those who have lately returned to the Breakers Row colony. They are again occupying The Surf, which they have tenanted for many seasons. The Barklies belong to the Everglades Club, and entertain there during the season. Their clubs in the north include the Philadelphia Country, Union, Brook in New York, and Metropolitan in Washington. Mrs. Barklie is a member of the Colonial Dames.

plenty to amuse them by attending polo games held at the Phipps Field; by fishing in the Gulf Stream, or by just lounging on the sun-tarnished sands to rest and relax after an autumn of activity in the north. Mrs. Howard Frederick Whitney, of New York, is among those who have lately returned. Mrs. Whitney passed the summer at Craigdarrock, her estate at Glen Cove, L. I. With her here for a month are her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. H. Godfrey Leslie. Her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Howard F. Whitney, Jr., will come down from New York soon for a month's stay, and Henry, who is now studying at Princeton, will be here during the Easter holidays.

The charm and informality of Sunday morning gatherings is nowhere better exemplified than at the meetings held at Casa Beata, the home of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Dobyne, where entertainment is provided by Mrs. Mary Miller Trowsell, leader of the Romany Chorus orchestra, and other Romanies. Recently members of the New York String Quartet also attended, and among those from the cottage colony were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Seligman, Dr. Thomas L. Bennett and Mrs. Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Wiley R. Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Francis A. Shaughnessy, Mr. and Mrs. George Luke Mesker, Mr. and Mrs. David Hugh McCulloch, Miss Alice Fair McCulloch, Mr. and Mrs. J. Terry West, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Cowell and their house guest, Miss Alexandria Harvie-Aitken, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Odman and their house guest, Mrs. Clement Reeves Wainwright; Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Homer, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard H. Kroger, Mr. and Mrs. Emil J. Stehli, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Major, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vernon Skiff, Mrs. Frances M. Barnes, Mrs. Norma Stemm, Mrs. William Guy Noll and Mrs. Lorenzo E. Woodhouse.

The sun-lit garden of Patio Marguery is selected by particular colonists who wish to hold their entertainments in the most distinctive setting possible. Mrs. Robert M. Stewart-Richardson, of London, who is wintering on El Vedado Lane with her family, gave a luncheon at the Marguery recently which was attended by Mrs. William Woods Plankinton, Mrs. Roland Woodward, Mrs. Edmund LeRoy Dow, Mrs. Herbert Farrell, Mrs. Alfred D. Bell, Mrs. Jerome D. Gedney, Mrs. John R. Bryden, Mrs. George Messervy, Mrs. J. Terry West, Mrs. Joel White Massie, Mrs. Fontaine Fox and Mrs. Emil J. Stehli.

Mayor and Mrs. John Shepard, Jr., of Dunbar Road, boxholders at the Paramount Theatre on the evening of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra concert, were hosts at dinner before the event, having as their guests Mr. and Mrs. J. Terry West and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Holbrook.

* * * *

Mrs. William Randolph Hearst, of New York, and Mrs. George A. Dixon, Jr., of Paris, France, are visiting Capt. and Mrs. R. Amcotts Wilson at their home in Vita Serena. Mrs. Dixon is a daughter-in-law of Dr. George Dixon, who was for many years a member of the summer colony at Southampton, L. I. Mrs. Julien Allen, of Paris, who was a house guest of the Wilson's, has joined the house party being entertained by Maj. and Mrs. Barclay H. Warburton at Villa des Cygnes on Worth Avenue.

Several small dinners punctuated the past two weeks, prompted by the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra concert which was sponsored by the Society of Arts and given at the Paramount Theatre. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Seligman entertained at Casa Mia on Sunset Avenue, where their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Lewisohn, are staying. Others who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard M. Thomas and Mr. C. Percival Dietsch.

Guests of Dr. and Mrs. Hobart Endicott Warren, of Phipps Plaza, on Monday evening preceding the concert at the Paramount, were Mr. and Mrs. Louis F. Stanton Bader and Mr. and Mrs. George C. White. The party later occupied the Edward F. Hutton box.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. G. Horton Glover, who are subscribers of the Society of Arts, gave a dinner at Nido de Amor, their villa on El Brillo Way, before attending the first concert of the season sponsored by the Society of Arts. Their guests were Dr. and Mrs. Edmund LeRoy Dow and Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Homer.

WITH THE GOLFERS

GOLF is holding sway this week, with the South Florida Championships being played at the Palm Beach Golf Club and the Artists and Writers annual tournament holding forth at the Palm Beach Country Club.

All the old favorites of former tournaments may be seen at the Palm Beach Golf Club, making their round in the match play with the hopes of being in at the finish when they hand out the prizes and championship trophy on Friday.

From Tuesday till Friday there will be the match play, 18 holes each day except the finals of the championship division, which will be a 36-hole match.

An attractive group of prizes is offered: gold medal to the one having low medal score, qualifying round; sterling silver prizes to winner and runner-up in each of the three divisions and to the winner of the consolation eight in the championship division.

Albert Hakes, Arthur "Ducky" Yates, champion last year; Jack Butler, Tommy Goodwin, who has won several events this season; W. B. Langford, winner of the Lake Worth tournament; O. L. Brailey, Hugh Willoughby, Blaine Zuver, William H. Hyde, M. A. Carroll and many more are entered in the tournament and going strong.

Artists and writers are all great men—but just now they are busily engaged in replacing divots at the Palm Beach Country Club in an effort to find out who is the best man among them in the royal and ancient game.

Famous figures in the world of brush and pen will add zest to the resort life during their stay here and provide some very interesting golf for those in the gallery who make the tournament trek.

Included are: McClelland Barclay, Arthur William Brown, Rex Beach, Jerome Beatty, William DeBeck, James Boardman, Gene Buck, William L. Chenery, Octavus Roy

Cohen, Maurice Collette, Wood Cowan, Frank Crowninshield, Owen Davis, Jr., James Montgomery Flagg, Rube Goldberg, John Golden, Leon Gordon, John LaGatta, Jefferson Mac-hamer, Charles McAdam, Grantland Rice, Lawrence Schwab, Donald Ogden Stewart, Merle Thorpe, Richard Walsh, Leroy P. Ward, Charles D. Williams, Francis L. Wurzburg and many others.

Many members of the resort colony have taken advantage of the superb weather conditions and are playing a daily round over the Palm Beach Golf Club course. Among those noted were: Mr. H. J. Hinde, Mr. C. M. Brett, Mr. Ezra Gould and Mr. Elmer Jordan; Mr. Clarence Luce, Mrs. Dorothy Wallace, Mrs. Joseph Moran, and Mr. Joseph Higgins; Mr. George T. McCarthy, Mr. J. J. Madden, Mr. H. J. Upton and Mr. H. C. Frenz; Dr. and Mrs. F. K. Ream, Mrs. E. F. Shay and Mrs. Nettie E. Livermore; Mr. O. L. Brailey, Mr. Blaine Zuver, Mr. Albert Hakes, and Mr. W. B. Langford; Mrs. Joshua Cosden, Mrs. John Barry Ryan and Mrs. John Marriott; Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Feiber, Mrs. H. H. Strauss and Mrs. William DeMuth; Mr. George Ahrens, Mr. George Altmeyer and Mr. George Wright.

Twosomes noted were Mr. H. J. Horner and Mr. Ralph Dodson; Dr. S. G. Gant and Mr. Michael Sholtz; Mr. W. M. Wadsworth and Mr. B. A. Jacob, Jr.; Mr. Ernie Holst and Mr. H. A. Turnure, Mr. Joseph Corcoran and Mr. Frank Sutton; Mr. M. W. Sloan and Mrs. H. T. Pemberton; Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Hamerslag; Mrs. William Seyfert and Mrs. D. C. Ogden; Mr. and Mrs. John E. Dordan; Gen. J. Ernest Smith and Dr. Charles Temple; Mr. R. A. Sweet and Mr. H. Holland.

Golfers noted at the Palm Beach Country Club recently included Miss Grace Amory and Miss Audrey Phipps; Mrs. H. C. Phipps; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Miller; Mr. Henry Seligman, Mr. B. B. McCormick, Mr. E. J. Stehli, Mr. M. J. Frankel, Mr. H. S. Rauh, Mr. R. C. Robbins, Mr. Martin Osborn, Mr. C. M. Snyder, Mr. R. A. Kennedy, Mr. Arthur Hammerstein, Mr. G. E. Hart, Mr. Stuyvesant LeRoy, Mr. G. E. Hart, Mr. Edwin Goodman, Mr. Mortimer Berkowitz, Mr. James Reeves, Mr. A. F. Haenlien, Mr. K. E. Bahe, Mr. Henry Kohl, Mr. Arthur Lipper, Mr. Philip D. Block and Mr. Harry Hoy.

Members and guests at the Everglades Club may be seen daily on the club golf course in twosomes, threesomes and larger groups, the marvelous weather this season placing added emphasis on golf.

Golfers recently were Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Warner; Mr. J. H. Noble and Mr. William F. Kenny; Mrs. P. Wilkinson and Mrs. J. H. Noble; Mr. B. H. Kroger, Mr. Charles Hall and Mr. Fred Ward; Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Gwynne; Miss Mary Kenny and Miss Genevieve Kenny; Mr. F. L. Emerson, Mr. W. P. Ellison and Mr. E. H. Ellison; Mr. F. D. Frazier, Gen. Quincy A. Gillmore; Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hoops, Mrs. C. C. Morrison and Mr. Henry Kelly, Jr.; Mr. H. B. Dearborn, Mr. W. D. Owen, Mr. E. V. # TASTES AND TOILETTES

HE public prints no longer means the daily press—it is much more likely to refer to favorite frocks for street and shopping wear, to Sunday night dresses with tiny matching jackets, or to evening gowns—for prints have come back and small, discreet one-color-and-black designs vie in favor with flamboyant patterns in flower colors and jewel tones. Long afternoon coats of printed crepe, worn over frocks of plain crepe in the dominating color of the print, enliven the scene at afternoon teas, lectures, exhibitions and all the various activities that occur after the sun has passed the zenith. Prints are stressed for dressy wear, and small designs in which yellow and black are combined are being worn by many women of taste. Bright print chiffon is used in double back sashes, on white frocks, falling from the shoulders almost to the hem. Print frocks with plain coats in various lengths satisfy the love of color that most women possess.

One of the nicest things about print is its spot-resisting quality. A bit of grease acquired when one steps out of the motor that would show up appallingly on a plain color frock seems only to merge with the design of the accommodating print, while as for the baptism of liquid refreshments that invariably happens to at least one unfortunate at those Palm Beach teas that last from six to midnight, the print frock simply laps them up and never shows a sign.

The increasingly popular vogue for pajamas is noted at all hours in Palm Beach, and Miss Mary Brown Warburton, of Villa des Cynes, attended a performance at the Beaux Arts Theatre recently wearing pajamas of heavy tangerine satin. The accompanying coat had an elaborate brocaded weave and her slippers of matching hue were trimmed with brocade.

Miss Grace Amory was noted on the same evening with her father, Mr. Charles M. Amory. She looked very pretty in shell pink satin pajamas, the hip-length coat swinging open to disclose an over-blouse of the same material with a belt of slightly darker pink suede. Sandals of pink suede completed her costume.

* * * *

Down on the beach, Mrs. H. Richard MacRae, of Boston and the Royal Poinciana, wears vivid one-piece pajamas of emerald green silk crepe for lounging on her cabana veranda. A scarf of brilliant Barbary colors ties around her waist and a similar colorful scarf is used for a bandana.

* * * *

Mrs. R. A. Kennedy, a member of the New York colony at the Breakers, wears a Schiaparelli one-piece pajama of turf green, which has a wide wale knit top and a narrow wale knit bottom. A suede belt with a silver clasp accents the waistline and a stitched sun hat of green linen shadows her eyes.

Miss Florence Carpenter, of Philadelphia and New York, lunches frequently at the Poinciana-Breakers beach and wears pajamas effectively combining red, white and blue jersey, a smart color scheme of this season. The baggy trousers were of Lido blue and the crew-necked blouse of white and red stripes. A pompom beret and French bare-foot sandals completed her costume.

A gay and care-free Gypsy scarf ties around the shoulders of the white and marine blue ribbed wool jersey pajamas worn by Mrs. Thomas E. Bragg at her cabana at the Poinciana-Breakers beach. This is donned over blue shorts and a white top swimming suit.

Frocks in varying shades of red add zest to the dance floor's usual assemblage of white and pastel gowns, and Miss Antoinette Johnson, daughter of Mr. Frederick Johnson, of Via Bellaria, whose brunette beauty is enhanced by a deep Burgundy crepe frock, is among those to depart from the more conventional hues. Miss Johnson's dress is tightly molded, featuring a two-inch band of brilliants that slant up the back to form a halter neck, leaving a square neckline in front.

* * * *

Mrs. Harrison Williams, always smartly attired, belongs to the coterie which favors sequins. She was noted at Patio Lamaze at a recent dinner party, a waist-length sequin jacket worn over a black dinner gown, suggesting an exaggerated reflection of the starry sky above.

* * * *

Earrings of every design, loops and pendants, but all elaborate, accent the glittering note of sequin jackets and rhinestone shoulder straps seen at evening gatherings. At a recent Colony Club gala night, a white satin gown was made interesting with a long, twisted rope of ruby beads, its three divisions set off with diamond rondels.

* * * *

The spirit of the George Washington Bi-centennial Celebration has been caught by fashion designers, as well as by the more serious and historical minded, and the patriotic color combination is now finding its way to the beach, having already become well established in the field of accessories. Miss Elizabeth Fiary, who is passing the season with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. William R. Sweatt, of La Playa on Sea Breeze Avenue, wears an arresting suit of ribbed wool in wide bands of red, white and blue, backless of course, as all suits are this season, this model being of the halter neck variety. After a swim and exposure to the sun, a knee-length coat of matching color and material is worn.

* * * *

White satin for sports wear is selected by many of the younger set who know the art of combining chic with serviceability. A dress of this material is chosen occasionally by Miss Xilipha Hicks, of Huntington, W. Va., for her morning stroll to the Poinciana-Breakers beach from the New Palm Beach Hotel. It features a belted high waistline, and crystal buttons are used for trimming.

* * * *

JUST WHY WE PLAY GOLF

WHY do people play golf?" The question was fired point blank at the first man encountered on the porch of the caddy house.

"What's the matter? Your game gone bad?"

"No. I don't play it and I want to find out why virtually everybody in Palm Beach does play golf. There must be a reason." Being a conscientious reporter knowing nothing about golf and possibly prejudiced against it in favor of tennis, the writer determined to put the game under the microscope, take it apart and try to find out why hundreds of thousands of people of all kinds in all civilized and semi-civilized parts of the world spend the best part of their lives playing, talking and dreaming golf.

Being an old man and given to memories, he recalled his first—and only other—golf assignment some forty years ago which resulted in a one-act comedy on golf and the prompt loss of his job as well as the memorable saying of Weber and Field's English comedian, Dan Daly, who described golf as a game in which "you hit the ball and if you find the ball the same day, you win." So he approached his task with some qualms and an open mind.

After an afternoon divided between the popular and well patronized golf courses of Palm Beach he drove back to the office with mixed impressions gained by talking with both players and pros, with a feeling that he was mentally slipping in his attitude towards the game that is most favored by Palm Beach winter residents among all sports, and with the conviction that, be his discovery old or new, the basis for the popularity of the game lies in the psychology of golf.

Physicians' recommendations, a desire to do what others do, a fear of overweight or merely a wish for light outdoor exercise may start a man or woman on a golf career but it is the psychology of the game that keeps them all everlastingly at it. It is not a disease, as some have unhumorously put it, nor an epidemic as epidemics move in cycles and leave us as soon as the damage is done and scientists spend their lives trying to figure out a preventive but golf is with us as a fixture in life and nobody has ever heard of the discovery of a preventive serum. And anyway there would be no sale for it.

But to go back to the man on the porch of the caddy house.

"Are you going to take up golf?" he asked.

"Not in a thousand—well, no, I think not. I just want to know why it's done."

That is how it started. Before long the history of golf, as, of course, known to all intelligent people, from the time that the kilted shepherds of the Grampian hills shot steady 72's down to the present day was unfolded but still no reason given for the habit.

The reporter insisted.

"All right," answered the club pro for it was he whom the writer had accosted, "come on out and hit a few."

Anything once. Anything for the dear old paper. No task too severe and all that sort of thing.

Building a miniature Mt. Ranier of sand the pro placed a ball atop it and after a few callisthenic exercises or invocations hauled off and hit it the first crack. It sailed low and straight over the lawn—pardon, the fairway—and landed some distance away, quite a distance in fact.

"Easy," volunteered the reporter.

"Try it," was the suggestion.

He did without any preliminaries and after what he later claimed were a few experimental swings managed to hit the ball. It nestled chummily close to the pro's ball.

"Easy. I knew it was easy. Nothing to it," grinned the reporter.

"Oh yes? Try it again."

He did—and the ball rolled dispiritedly a few yards and quit cold.

"Easy?" crooned the pro with just a touch of sarcasm in his tones.

"Certainly. Something just went wrong but I'll bet I can knock a ball further than I did on my first wallop."

"There," exulted the pro. "I've made a potential golfer of you but you don't know it yet, and the thing that is going to keep you playing golf for the rest of your life is just because you think you can improve any drive or shot you may make, whether through skill or luck.

"This game is as full of psychology as it is of health and sport but the average golfer does not realize it. There is an elusiveness about it that intrigues you and gets your goat too and works upon you psychologically so that the reactions of your ego, ambition, stubbornness or whatever you have in your make-up that responds will make you a confirmed golfer. You won't stop until you have bettered your best card and that makes it an endless competition with yourself as well as with those with whom you play. No matter how you may start golf it is the psychology of the game that will keep you at it and some day make a medalist of you.

"That psychology is with you from the time you step onto the first tee. If you have convinced yourself that you are going to shoot a poor game that day you will probably daughter of Mrs. Herbert Pulitzer and Mr. Charles Amory, playing golf at the exclusive Everglades Club here.

do just that but if you think the reverse, so much the better. Now suppose you are on the green a little later in two while your opponent is in a bunker in three and you feel that you have that hole in your pocket when, quite unexpectedly, your opponent by a marvelous or by a lucky shot gets out of the bunker and close to the pin with his next shot. You are likely to go all to pieces and actually lose the hole. Psychology again. Now, if you had schooled yourself to actually expect the seemingly impossible your psychology would be working in the proper groove and you would neither be surprised nor upset and would shoot your regular game even if the impossible did happen.

"You cannot lose your temper, your nerve, your morale nor your co-ordination and expect to win, yet it is the psychology of golf that either causes or prevents these disasters."

The reporter left that club in a thoughtful mood and at the next club visited talked with a middle aged man who had just finished 18 holes and was tired but happy.

"How do you get any kick out of hitting a ball that is going to stay where you have placed it until you do actually hit it? Now in tennis you have a fast moving ball to judge and hit. There is hardly a comparison of skill is there?" the reporter ventured.

"Yes, there is a comparison but not in favor of the moving ball game. There is more competition in the still ball game such as golf, billiards or bowling and a great deal more individuality of expertness than in the moving ball game such as tennis, baseball or lacrosse. The excellence of your game is up to you and you alone. Your opponent's errors or hard luck may win for you but they do not improve your score. In tennis you profit directly in points for every error made by your opponent or in runs in baseball but in golf if you shoot 80 it makes no difference how badly your opponent played, your score is still 80—what you made by your own individual effort.

"Compare the number of real experts in the still ball game with the equally expert players in the moving ball game and you will find that the still ball game produces more real experts than the other style."

"What about the psychology of golf?" the reporter asked next.

"Well, I confess I had not thought of it as psychology although that is what it really is that makes the game so fascinating. I had thought that the deep rooted conviction of a normal, ambitious, self-respecting man or woman has in his or her ability to accomplish what he or she starts out to do was the main reason why no one ever gives up golf but maybe psychology describes it more tersely."

Whether golf is first played and continued indefinitely because of its psychology, sociability, physical advantages or as a mere pastime, it is played more by Palm Beach winter colonists than any other game and its devotees range in age from six to several years past seventy.

Sonia Phipps, who began golf at six with ten-minute lessons and who last week at twelve drove from tee to green for a distance of one hundred and sixty yards, clearing a group of fairly tall palm trees that stand in the way, is the child golf prodigy of the Palm Beach winter colony, while Grace Amory, now about 15 or 16, plays a game about five or six strokes better than Glenna Collett did at the same age and is the outstanding champion of the younger set.

Youngest among the youngsters who can play really good "beginner" golf is Audrey Kay, who at nine is a worthy opponent for some oldsters while her sister Anita, Audrey and Barbara Phipps, Wiley Reynolds, Jr., and Hood Bassett turn in cards that are so consistently good that it cannot be called luck, to say nothing of 11-year-old Teddy Sawyer, who regularly does his nine holes in 50 or better.

Instructors here are unanimous in declaring that children, when they become thoroughly golf conscious and come under the psychological influence of the game are capable of better concentration and advance much more rapidly to proficiency than their elders.

Henry Seligman, just past 70, still wields an ugly club and was about to be awarded, by this writer, the palm, wreath and whatnot as the oldest exponent of the game in the colony until John Sanford and George Wright were encountered. Mr. Seligman's almost acquired laurels were wrested unceremoniously from him and bestowed upon Mr. Sanford, who celebrated his 82nd birthday on January 15 of this year and plays daily, doing his nine holes in from 43 to 48; and upon Mr. Wright, who is 85 and one of the earliest exponents of the Scottish game in America.

While the local chapter of the national "Hole-in-one" Club has only a couple of charter members here, there is a large and growing membership of enthusiasts in the "Busted Ninety" organization with a flock of candidates in the 92 and 94 class striving to qualify, including Arthur Hammerstein with his irreducible 95; G. Horton Glover with his two for the third hole at the Everglades with a No. 6 iron, and Frederick Gwynne with his eagle three for the par five fifteenth hole on the same course with a mashie at 135 yards, and Frederick Johnson, whose approach shot at 20 or so yards with a No. 2 iron is a thing of beauty and extreme satisfaction to all, except his opponent, are examples of the special proficiency of certain players with their pet club.

Some sink their balls in bunkers and themselves in despair, but not Dr. Charles C. Morrison, Jr., who is a wizard with a niblick and although he is strongly addicted to the bunker habit, manages to get out with his niblick to the discouragement of opponents who think him hopelessly sunk. This applies particularly to the eighth hole at the Everglades, where the bunker always waits expectantly to receive the doctor's ball—and is seldom disappointed—but with the good doctor it is a case of "in-again-out-again-Morrison" and the laugh on the other fellow.

And, going back to the veterans of the game, please don't forget that Charles Herendeen shot 18 holes in 82 on his 81st birthday.

One more thing. Weight does not mean such a lot in this game when it comes to "putting it there" as, for instance, Mrs. Loring Quincy White, who is the queen bee on the course she favors and weighs only about 115 pounds, but when she clicks that ball with a driver it goes right about its business and does not stop until it has covered 225 yards or a shade more for good measure.

Now, if a girl of 12 or 14 or a woman of only negligible weight can drive that darned ball from 180 to 225 yards and drive it where it should go, then by the great horn spoon (whatever that is) this reporter can drive it a lot further and then improve that distance next time.

He know's he's right psychologically, he's younger by a couple of decades than the oldest player extant in Palm Beach and has no bad golf tricks to "unlearn."

All right, this skeptic is converted. Who'll swap a set of used clubs for a flock of tennis bats?

AMONG THE PALMS

MRS. GEORGE P. MESSERVY, of New York, is a visitor in Palm Beach who has chosen the Breakers as her winter resident. She has many friends in the cottage colony by whom she is frequently entertained. Mrs. Messervy gave a delightful luncheon party recently at Patio Lamaze and her guests included Mrs. Alexander A. McKay, Mrs. Lorenzo Mitchell Henry, Mrs. John R. Bryden, Mrs. Emil J. Stehli and Mrs. J. Terry West. She is a member of the Everglades Club.

* * * *

Gen. J. Ernest Smith, of Wilmington, Del., who has been an annual visitor at the Royal Poinciana since the first Florida East Coast trains began to run, is again at that hotel for the winter. He recently had as his guests there, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick E. Stone, of Wilmington. Mrs. Stone is the General's niece. Her husband is president of the Wilmington Savings Fund Society, the largest financial institution in the State of Delaware. General Smith expects to be joined shortly by his cousins, Mr. Henry Patnall, former vice president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and Justice John K. Beach, of New Haven, Conn. He is one of the founders and first board of governors of the Old Guard Society.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Prufrock, of St. Louis, are passing their fourth consecutive season at the Breakers. They have visited Palm Beach for the past 25 years, and have many friends in the cottage colony as well as the hotel colony. They made the trip south by motor and stopped at various interesting resorts along the way. They expect to be joined shortly by his mother, Mrs. William Prufrock, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pope, of St. Louis, who were here last season. Mr. and Mrs. Prufrock have taken a cabana at the Poinciana-Breakers beach which adjoins that of Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Valier, also of St. Louis, who have a villa on Sea Breeze Avenue.

Mrs. Frederick C. Van Dusen, of Minneapolis, has returned to the Breakers for the season. She has been identified with Palm Beach resort life for many years, and until a few years ago was an annual guest at the Royal Poinciana. Her late husband was one time president of the Old Guard Society. Mrs. Van Dusen is a member of the Everglades, Society of Arts and Currents Events.

* * * *

Among the New York state visitors at the Breakers are Mr. and Mrs. John Barnes, of Amsterdam. They motored down from the north and stopped for short visits at Savannah and Ormond Beach. During the summer months, Mr. and Mrs. Barnes divide their time between Saratoga Springs and the Saranac Inn at Saranac Lake, N. Y.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. P. H. B. Frelinhuysen, of Morristown, N. J., spent several weeks at Whitehall awaiting the completion of their new Palm Beach home. Their son, Mr. H. O. H. Frelinghuysen, whose twin brother is a student at St. Mark's School, is with them. Mrs. Frelinghuysen was hostess at the recent debut of Miss Adakube Havemeyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Havemeyer, which was held at the Ritz Carleton.

* * * *

Mr. Louis S. Milner and Mr. W. Staunton Wilbur, both of Providence, who are guests at the Breakers, accompanied by Mr. Wilbur Hutchinson, of Peabody, Mass., had a most enjoyable trip by air recently, when they went to Havana for the week-end. They went from Miami aboard the American Clipper, huge 40-passenger plane of the Pan-American Airways, making the trip from Miami to Havana in 2 hours and 14 minutes.

* * * *

Mrs. Charles Everly Carpenter, of Philadelphia, accompanied by her granddaughter, Miss Florence R. Carpenter, are season guests at the Breakers. Following their usual custom, they spent several months last summer visiting in England and France. Mrs. Carpenter and her granddaughter also frequently visit at the Mt. Kineo on Moosehead Lake, Me.

* * * *

Interesting winter residents at the Breakers include Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Kane, and Mr. C. H. Scott, of Scarsborough, N. Y., who have included a visit to Palm Beach in their yearly itinerary for several years. Mr. Kane is particularly fond of the Palm Beach Country Club Golf course and plays there daily with several friends.

Among the important arrivals recently at the Royal Poinciana was Mrs. Charles R. Sherlock and her daughter, Mrs. Mary Bingham Plunkett, who came down on the Miamian from their home in Greenwich, Conn. Mrs. Sherlock and Mrs. Plunkett are popular members of the Poinciana colony and have many friends in the resort who welcomed them back for another winter among the palms. Mrs. Sherlock is a member of the Everglades Club, the Society of Arts of Palm Beach, the Greenwich Country Club and the Florida Embassy Club, also a supporting member of the Palm Beach Playhouse. Mrs. Plunkett visits the Poinciana-Breakers beach frequently where she meets many friends.

The grand loggia at the Breakers, overlooking the sea, was the beautiful setting chosen by Dr. and Mrs. B. B. Sory, Jr., of Sea Spray Avenue, recently when they gave the largest tea dance of the season. Tables artistically decorated with sprays of gladiolas and bowls of roses, extended across the sea side of the loggia.

The honor guests for the occasion were Dr. and Mrs. Sory's house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Knight and Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Thomas and Dr. Sory's mother, Mrs. B. B. Sory, Sr. Among those enjoying Dr. and Mrs. Sory's hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. McIntyre, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey C. Woodworth, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Chandler, Mr. and Mrs. Jay F. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Reinhardt, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Goodman, Mr. and Mrs. C. Ellsworth Warner, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Hanson, Commodore and Mrs. Vincent B. Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Zuver, Mr. and Mrs. Porte Quinn, Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. B. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Archibald McNeil, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dearborn, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Deakin, Mr. and Mrs. John Millen, Mr. and Mrs. James Butler, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jaegar, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Kemp, Dr. and Mrs. Lloyd Netto, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Warrick, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Littlegreen, Mr. and Mrs. W. Gilbert Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Willard, Mrs. M. W. Andrews, Mrs. George Warren Fuller, Mrs. Nettie Livermore, Mrs. Nell Kendall, Mrs. Herbert L. Boehm, Mr. and Mrs. James C. Kane, Mrs. Walter Giblin, Mrs. Samuel Cole, Mrs. Price Williams, Mrs. Catherine Legget, Mrs. Karl Dolge, Miss Frances Hodgdon, Miss Adele Hodgdon, Mrs. Frank Quigley, Miss Helen Haltzman, Miss Katherine Clarke, Mrs. Rives Ritchie, Miss Margaret Smith, Miss Justine Haywood, Mr. Hilton Smith, Mr. Alan Howard, Mr. John H. Cooper, Mr. Ira Dunkle, Mr. Harry Lee Creary and Mr. Elmer Jordan.

Mrs. William Franklin Knox, of the New Palm Beach Hotel, is planning an extensive visit to Europe during the summer, accompanying her husband, owner of the Manchester Union and Leader, who purchased the Chicago Daily News six months ago. They will visit the principal cities abroad, and hope to include a trip to Moscow. Spending the winter in the south with Mrs. Knox, is her sister, Miss Adelia Reid.

The most important event of the season, to the hundreds of winter visitors who annually enjoy the pleasant hospitality of Palm Beach are the opening tea-dances at the Cocoanut Grove of the Royal Poinciana. This event was celebrated in royal manner and the Grove was filled with a throng of dancers who seemed to enjoy every minute beneath the palms.

A perfect day greeted the joyous occasion and a balmy breeze swept across the polished dancing floor and bore the sweet strains of the Howard Lanin dance orchestra to every corner of the large garden. Mr. Jack Hobby, director of the Grove, was on hand to welcome guests, and Mr. H. E. Bemis, manager of the Royal Poinciana, was noted in his accustomed place near the red torii gates that give a Japanese note to the festal appearance of the scene.

Overhead swung the familiar festoons of orange colored lights and as the sun sank into Lake Worth, their twinkling beams were etched upon the palm fronds and cast a soft radiance on the faces of the dancers below. White-coated waiters ran to and fro with the tea-time delicacies for which the Cocoanut Grove is famous and the scene was one of old-time merriment and gaiety, unequalled in any other rendezvous in the south.

Tropical flowers decked the long tables at which sat parties of guests, and the many little tables for two were filled as well. Among the three hundred and more guests at the opening tea-dance of the Cocoanut Grove were Lady Wilkins, who came over from Whitehall with Mrs. Claude Fleming; Mr. and Mrs. H. R. MacRae; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Bragg and little Miss Polly Bragg, of the Breakers.

Mrs. Henry Ellsworth Bemis was hostess at a large party, her guests including Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Richard Cowell and their house guest, Miss Alexandra Harvie Aitken, of London; Maj. and Mrs. Elisha Dyer Hubbard and their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wadsworth; Mr. and Mrs. J. Terry West; Mrs. Hobart Endicott Warren, Judge and Mrs. Albert Lamar Rankin; Mrs. George L. McElroy, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Preece, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Homer, Col. and Mrs. Sandy Beaver, of Riverside Military Academy, at Hollywood, Fla., and Mr. and Mrs. A. Kinnaid Tod.

Mrs. Charles R. Sherlock entertained a party of guests including her daughter, Mrs. Mary Bingham Plunkett, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Snyder, Mr. William Ruland, Mr. Leo Williams and Mr. Harry Skillman. With Mr. and Mrs. William Knight, Jr., were Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Carroll and Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Darnell.

PALM BEACH CLUB ACTIVITIES

MARKING the high spot of club activities during the past week was the unique entertainment provided by Mr. and Mrs. Roy MacNicol, painter and singer, who offered a combination exhibition and song recital in the grande lounge of the Everglades club, followed by a supper-dance in the Orange Garden. Mr. MacNicol, whose vivid Spanish and modern paintings stimulated considerable praise, gave a talk on "Art and Spain," which included descriptions and histories of some of his own canvases, and also touched on his experiences in search of material in Spain, which commanded attention.

Mrs. MacNicol, the former Fay Courtney, gave a program of negro selections and humorous character songs that met with enthusiastic applause. The artists are occupying the Everglades Club lake-front studio which was built originally for Oswald Birley, the English painter.

Patrons and patronesses of the exhibition included Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Seligman, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Dobyne, Mr. and Mrs. George Luke Mesker, Mr. Theodore C. Hollander, Mrs. Henry R. Rea, the Hon. Mrs. Frederick Guest, Mr. and Mrs. John Charles Thomas, Mayor and Mrs. John Shepard, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Frank V. Skiff, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Bryden, Mr. and Mrs. George Alexander McKinlock, Maj. and Mrs. Elisha Dyer Hubbard, Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Woodhouse, Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Bemis, Mr. and Mrs. Marion S. Wyeth, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Fatio, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harrington Chadwick, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Herendeen, Mrs. Glen Hodges, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Windsor, Jr., Mrs. George Warren Fuller, Mrs. Alexander A. McKay, Mrs. George MacElroy, Mrs. Bula Croker, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Homer, Mr. Addison Mizner.

Arrivals of interest during the past fortnight at the Everglades Club include Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Singer, of London, and their son, David Singer. Mr. Singer is the son of

Mr. Paris Singer, founder of the Everglades Club, who has spent many winters in the resort. The newcomers stayed at the Savoy-Plaza in New York before coming south, and since arriving here have entertained frequently at the Everglades Club. They spend their mornings at the Sea Spray Beach.

Mrs. Charles M. Brett, who is making her annual season sojourn at the Breakers, entertained at luncheon in the Orange Garden of the Everglades Club recently, having among her guests, Mrs. Elden C. DeWitt and Mrs. McKay LeRoy.

* * * *

Irving Gitlin is directing the Everglades String Quartet which plays during the luncheon hour in the Orange Garden of the Everglades Club. Mrs. John Edwin Dietz, of El Brillo Way, was among those who entertained on the afternoon of its initial appearance. Her guests on this occasion were Mrs. James H. Kennedy, Mrs. Nathan D. Bill, Mrs. Frederick Dwight, Miss Margaret Crowley, Mrs. Nathaniel Seymour Thomas, Mrs. William Guy Noll, Mrs. William R. Sweatt, Mrs. Samuel H. Valentine, Mrs. Elden C. DeWitt and Mrs. Wiley R. Mrs. Louis Carbery Ritchie, of Spring Lake, N. J., came down from her winter home at Port Sewall and gave a luncheon in the Orange Garden recently for Miss Margaret Ritchie and Miss Frances Johnson.

* * * *

An interesting dinner that marked the pre-Lenten period was that given by Mrs. Zenas Sears prior to the first Society of Arts concert of the season given by the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Eugene Ormandy at the Paramount Theatre. Mrs. Sears, who is passing the winter with her brother, Mr. Theodore C. Hollander, had as guests in addition to Mr. Hollander, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Dobyne, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vernon Skiff, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan D. Bill, Mrs. Clarke Hollander, Mrs. Wilkie B. Hollander, Mrs. Frederick Dwight and Mr. Frank Warden Davis, Jr.

Mr. William Henry Harrison, of New York, a seasonal guest at the Breakers, gave a dinner at the Everglades Club before attending the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra concert.

* * * *

The tea hour, which is such a delightfully informal time of the day, is favored by cottagers for entertaining at the Everglades Club. Among those noted lately having tea in the tropical Orange Garden, were Mrs. A. Atwater Kent, of Ardmore, Pa., who recently arrived at Surf Cottage, and her son, Mr. A. Atwater Kent, Jr.

Mr. Thomas Owen Haskins, of New York, a seasonal guest at the Oasis Club, was host at tea recently at the Everglades Club, having as his guests, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Singer and Mr. Blaine Webb.

a dinner party given by Mrs. Chauncey C. Woodworth in celebration of Mr. Woodworth's birthday. Guests were seated at an oval-shaped table, centered with a miniature sunken garden, complete with fountains and pool. Sweet peas and blue delphinium added to the decorative scheme.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Blake Dick, of Whitehall, entertained at the Florida Embassy Club recently.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Cowell, of Mi Estrelita on El Vedado Lane, included a luncheon at the Seminole Golf Club on their entertainment program of the past fortnight. In the party, besides their house guest, Miss Alexandra Harvie-Aitken, of Edinburgh, Scotland, were also Mr. and Mrs. George A. Dobyne and Mrs. Alexander A. McKay and her house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Mitchell-Henry.

* * * *

Sunday night beefsteak dinners at the Colony Club afford a highlight of week-end festivities in the resort. Recently noted in this attractive rendezvous in the Beaux Arts section were Mr. and Mrs. Quentin F. Feitner, of Casa Invierno on South Ocean Boulevard, with Mr. and Mrs. David Hugh McCulloch.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard M. Thomas, of Newport and New York, who have taken Casa Loma on Sunset Avenue for the season, dined at the Colony Club recently with Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Lewisohn, son-in-law and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Seligman, who are passing the season with them at Casa Mia on Sunset Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Somers Roche, of Via Bellaria, choose the Colony Club frequently for mid-week festivity, and had as guests at a recent affair, Mr. and Mrs. M. Dorland Doyle and her father, Mr. Charles A. Munn.

* * * *

The new club, Colony-Ambassador Bath Club, at the foot of Sunrise Avenue, is proving a popular spot for noon-day gatherings. On the sun-swept terrace by the seas, leisurely luncheon parties are in progress from mid-day till early afternoon. Mrs. Jerome D. Gedney motored up from Manalapan, her estate at Lantana, to lunch at the Colony-Ambassador. Mr. Edwin Lavin, of New York, came over from the New Palm Beach Hotel to entertain friends on another occasion.

The Everglades Club building and cottages are shown at the right, on the lake front. This fine Spanish structure was designed by Mr. Addison Mizner, noted Palm Beach architect, and was largely instrumental in popularizing the Spanish or Mediterranean type of architecture that dominates the Palm Beach landscape.

METROPOLITAN SOCIETY NOTES

OLD and black was the dominating motif for the first dance of The Imperial, which was held last evening in the Empire Room of the Waldorf-Astoria. The Imperial is a Monday evening dancing club which will give a series of weekly Monday evening dances in the Empire Room for the benefit of the Social Service Bureau of Bellevue Hospital. The tables were entirely covered with a special cloth of gold tablecloth, and the service was of gold. The tables were decorated with yellow call lilies, and the gold railing around the balcony of the Empire Room was festooned with smilax.

Miss Nancy Morgan, debutante daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morgan, modeled a gown especially created for the occasion, called "The Imperial Gown," which was a part of a fashion show depicting a black and gold wedding.

Mrs. Charles Morgan is chairman of the patroness' committee for the series of dances, and others on the committee include Mrs. Fulton Cutting, Mrs. Graham Fair Vanderbilt, Miss Ruth Vanderbilt Twombly, Mrs. E. Marshall Field, Mrs. W. Deering Howe, Mrs. Richard Whitney, Mrs. Ogden Phipps, Mrs. Oliver Iselin, Mrs. Henry G. Gray, Mrs. Wendell P. Blagden, Mrs. George D. Widener, Mrs. E. Gerry Chadwick, Mrs. Lucius Boomer, Mrs. Robert Stevens, Miss Ruth Morgan, Mrs. Benjamin Moore, and Mrs. Philip Boyer.

Among the subscribers are Dr. and Mrs. Alexander Hamilton Rice, Mr. and Mrs. Whitney Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. L. Gordon Hamersley, Mrs. Lewis Iselin, Miss M. Symphorosa Bristed, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Brokaw, Mr. and Mrs. George T. Brokaw, Mr. Richard S. Aldrich, Mr. and Mrs. George Armour, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ogden Bacon, Mr. and Mrs. Courtlandt D. Barnes, Mrs. James Cox Brady, Mr. and Mrs. E. Gerry Chadwick, Mr. George Frelinghuysen, Jr., Mr. Frank Hitchcock, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ogden Stewart, Mrs. Christian Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. Delos A. Blodgett, Mr. and Mrs. Beverly Bogert, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. Middleton S. Burrill, Miss Sarah Schuyler Butler and Mr. Joseph Hoagland.

Admission to the dances is by invitation only, and the proceeds will be given to the Social Service Department of Bellevue Hospital to help in the relief work and social work for the sick and needy.

The Prince and Princess Vassili, who were the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Barry Ryan, Jr., and Maj. and Mrs. C. O. Marriott at Oheka cottage, together with the Grand Duchess Marie, Princess Nina, Princess Xenia, and Prince George, are sponsoring a ball to be given at the Ambassador on February 18 by the Association of the Graduate of the Corps des Pages of the late Emperor of Russia.

The Corps des Pages was established in 1750 by the Empress Elizabeth of Russia for the purpose of providing pages at the official Court ceremonies. In 1802 it was reorganized by the Emperor Alexander I. into a Military College, with the pages continuing their service at the Imperial Court. The graduates of the school usually took commissions in the Guards.

The ball will be given for the benefit of members of the corps in this country suffering from the political upheaval in Russia and the present world depression.

Mrs. Vincent Hubbell, of New York, an annual Palm Beach visitor, gave a dinner party recently at the Central Park Casino at which the Grand Duchess Marie, a patroness of the Russian Students Ball, was guest of honor. Other guests included Mrs. Sam Sloan Auchincloss, Mrs. Stanley Dwight and Mrs. James R. Deering.

The Marchioness of Dufferin and Ava, a visitor at the Breakers last season, whose husband was killed in an airplane disaster in 1930, was married on January 28 at the Prince's Row register office to Capt. C. S. A. Somerset, son of Lord Henry Somerset.

The marquess was one of six persons, including Viscountess Ednam, who were killed when an airplane carrying them to France exploded in the air near Meophan, Kent.

The Marchioness of Dufferin is the former Brenda Woodhouse, of Oxford House, Bishop's Stortford. There were two children by her first marriage, including the 22-year-old present Marquess of Dufferin, a grandson of the Lord Dufferin who was governor general of Canada from 1872 to 1878.

It is also Captain Somerset's second marriage. His first wife was Katherine de Vere Beauclerk, daughter of the Duke of St. Albans, who divorced him in 1920.

The Old Guard of the City of New York, resplendent in bearskin shakos and white and gold uniforms, paraded at the Hotel Commodore recently at its 106th annual ball, which also commemorated the George Washington bicentennial.

The parade, which interrupted the dancing at midnight, has been a feature of the ball ever since the first one, which was witnessed by Governor De Witt Clinton and Mayor William Paulding in 1826. In addition to 250 Old Guard members, nearly 3,000 representatives of 69 other military organizations from all parts of the country passed in review before Maj. Gen. Dennis F. Nolan, commanding the Second Corps Area; Rear Admiral William Woodward Phelps, and Maj. Edward Havemeyer Snyder, commander of the Old Guard for the last 12 years. Other military and naval officers of high rank, as well as civilian notables, looked on from boxes.

Leading the parade was a color guard wearing Continental uniforms and carrying replicas of the Revolutionary 13-star and the George Washington headquarters' flags presented to the Old Guard by the City of Philadelphia at Valley Forge in 1926. Then came the Old Guard, oldest veterans' organization in the country, which, known until 1833 as the Light Guard of New York, acquired its present title in that year when it consolidated with veterans of the City Guard of New York.

Following came historic units long since dropped from the Army lists, but still active as veterans' organizations, including the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of Massachusetts, the Kentish Guard of Rhode Island, the New Haven Grays, the Washington Light Infantry of Charleston, the Blue Chicks of Dover, Del., the Lexington Minute Men and the German Volunteers of Savannah, Ga. Also represented in the midnight pageant were units of the National Guard of New York and New Jersey.

Preceding the review Major Snyder was honored with a salute by buglers of the Old Guard and the 1st Regiment Veterans' Association. Major Snyder, who wore the historic medallion bearing the head of George Washington, which Old Guard commanders may wear only on the night of the ball, awarded prizes won in the annual rifle matches of the Centennial Legion, the veterans' organization of the original 13 states.

The prize winners were: 2d Company, Governor's Foot Guard of New Haven, Conn., which won the Centennial Legion cup and gold medals for each team member; 1st Company, Governor's Foot Guard of Hartford, Conn., silver medals; Black Horse Troop, Essex Troop, of Newark, N. J., bronze medal.

The ball this year was for the benefit of the Old Guard veterans' loan fund. Among the spectators were Capt. Daniel A. O'Mara, sole surviving Civil War veteran of the Old Guard and of the John A. Rawlins Post of the G. A. R. In his box party were the following from the G. A. R.: Grand Marshal Henry J. Kearney, Adjutant General Thomas M. Valleau, Col. Marsten E. Drake, Capt. Horace M. Graff, Maj. C. Perley Gray, Lieut. Col. Nicholas Engel, Lieut. Col. Henry J. Butler, George C. Eldridge, Mark S. Coxon, Alexander F. Ormsby, George H. Taylor, C. A. Farrell and Thomas M. Stritch.

Other boxholders were Commander William Seaman Bainbridge and Mrs. Bainbridge, Brig. Gen. John J. Byrne and Mrs. Byrne, Maj. Gen. John Ross Delafield and Mrs. Delafield, Brig. Gen. Lucius R. Holbrook and Mrs. Holbrook, Maj. Gen. William Weigel, Brig. Gen. George Allen Wingate, Brig. Gen. Charles E. Warren, Maj. Gen. Louis W. Stotesbury and Mrs. Stotesbury, Maj. Gen. William N. Haskell and Mrs. Haskell, Brig. Gen. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Maj. Gen. Quincy Adams Gillmore and Col. Walter Delamater.

Also Gov. A. Harry Moore of New Jersey and Mrs. Moore, Lieut. Col. Pelham, St. John Bissell, Col. Bryer Pendry, Maj. Charles Curie, Maj. Griswold B. Daniel, Col. Matthew J. Farrell, Capt. Edgar Trewlett Fell, Col. Franklin Q. Brown, Col. Thomas J. Jackson, Maj. Charles E. Lockhart, Maj. Norman E. Titus, Col. Frederic E. Humphreys, Maj. J. G. Phelps Stokes and Col. Arthur F. Schermerhorn.

A luncheon with more than two hundred guests was given last week by the Canadian Club of New York, at its headquarters in the Waldorf-Astoria, in honor of the British Ambassador, Sir Ronald Lindsay; the Canadian Minister, Mr. W. D. Herridge, and Mr. S. L. Rothafel ("Roxy"), who directed the gala performance held at the Metropolitan Opera House under the auspices of the Canadian Club.

The luncheon followed the war memorial services held at St. Bartholomew's Church, in which the Black Watch and Cameron Highlanders of Canada participated. The charity performance was given at 8:40 p. m. at the Metropolitan, for the benefit of disabled British, American and Canadian veterans who served with the British forces in the World War. The English Speaking Union co-operated with Canadian Club in arranging the event.

The Black Watch and the Cameron Highlanders came from Canada especially for the event and for the memorial services. They were met by detachments of the United States Army, Navy and Marines and members of the 71st Regiment.

Mr. Case Howard was in charge of Mayor Walker's committee, which greeted the guests. Mayor Walker was present at the benefit.

A debutante committee, headed by Miss Constance Miller, and including the Misses Helena McCann, Mabel Whitman, Alicia Ludlow, Dolly de Milhau, Anne Worrall, Polly Abbott, Gladys Graham, Anne Meyer, Adeline Havemeyer, Elizabeth Starring, Julia Delafield and Trina Marshall, worked in aid of the performance.

ST. AUGUSTINE

WEEK of much entertaining was climaxed when the St. Augustine Links Club House launched the first of a series of Saturday evening dances, under the direction of Manager Thomas E. Byron. The beautiful clubhouse was thronged with members of the winter colony, hotel guests and all-year residents.

The auspicious event served as a welcome to several prominent club champions who arrived for the week-end to participate in the fifth national championship tournament to be held on the St. Augustine Links.

The Dave Hopkins Serenaders, consisting of seven pieces, provided an especially fine list of dance numbers from current New York musical comedies.

Numerous dinners were given preceding the party. E. Terrance McGovern gave a buffet supper at his home for Mr. and Mrs. Robert Howard Gamble, Mr. and Mrs. Henry N. Rodenbaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Cyril C. Spades and Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Henderich.

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan H. Strawbridge, Mr. and Mrs. W. Stanton Barbour, Miss Edith Hopwood and Dugald MacCuslane Barr had their dinner at the clubhouse.

Mr. Jervy J. Gantt, Jr., entertained for his guest, Mr. Jock Bostwick, of Miami, and others with them were Miss Mary Lou Fox, Miss Ethel Grey Rogers, Miss Margaret Korst, and Ernest Korst.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Henninger had at their table, Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Hallman, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Green, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde J. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hobbs, Mrs. John Cordell and Jack Chaisson.

Mr. Thomas S. W. Taylor, of Jacksonville, had a party of six.

Mr. and Mrs. William T. Gundelfinger were seated at a small table.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Farrell were seated with Mr. H. A. Somerville, Mr. T. H. Somerville, Miss Isabel Murray, Miss Tommye Conwell, Miss Lucille Johnson, Miss Lois Murphy, Mr. James Farrell, Mr. William Waddleton and Mr. Francis Madden.

Mr. Raymond Zim entertained Miss Dorothy Rolleston and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Groh.

Miss Elizabeth S. Bigelow gave one of her delightful parties at her home on St. George Street, when she entertained with a bridge-tea. Players at four tables enjoyed bridge, and a number of guests arrived later to join them at tea. Mrs. Homer Sargent poured tea and those assisting her in serving were Mrs. Elbridge Gerry Snow and Mrs. John T. Dismukes. Others present at this delightful affair were Mrs. William R. Kenan, Jr., Mrs. Robert Neil Dickman, Mrs. Theodore M. Livesay, Mrs. William T. Durrett, Mrs. Arthur Buckner Barret, Mrs. Robert Erskine Wright, Mrs. Beverley D. Causey, Mrs. A. H. ## MIAMI BILTMORE hotel

CORAL GABLES, MIAMI, FLORIDA

Marcel A. Gotschi, Managing Director

N. B. T. Roney
 PRESIDENT

London Office: Savoy Hotel. Paris Office: 3 Rue Auber

Miami Biltmore Country Club
adjoining the Hotel

Under new ownership and new policies . . with its many improvements . . the special arrangements thru new affiliations for guests' golfing, fishing, tennis, bathing and other sports, the Biltmore will be a colorful center of the southern resort season. Although the Biltmore is the world's most sumptuous resort hotel, built without regard for cost during the "peak" season of all Florida's history, its accommodations are now available at popular rates . . American and European plan.

RONNEY PLAZA hotel

MIAMI BEACH, FLORIDA . . . .

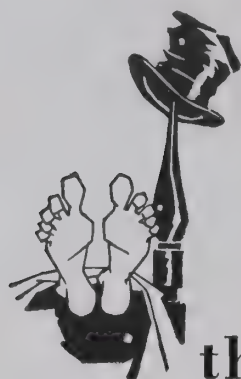

Wm. G. McMeekin, Managing Director

Open from Thanksgiving Day

Palm Gardens

Innovations this year include reductions in room rates and a la carte dining service . . club breakfasts at sixty cents to a dollar and the Cabana Club Luncheon at a dollar fifty, without sacrificing in the least the traditional European service and niceties of America's finest ocean-front hotel. Pool and surf bathing, without extra charge, and all the pleasures of the Roney Plaza's palm gardens, promenades and beach are privileges of every guest.

To avoid the MORNING AFTER ....take JITTERS the NIGHT BEFORE!

THERE is no cold, grey dawn in the lives of Jitters users. Whether they over-eat, over-drink, or over-smoke, a tablespoonful of Jitters in a glass of water before retiring makes them wake up with head clear, stomach settled and nerves calmed.

All night long, the million little sponges in Jitters are at work absorbing the toxic poisons that over-indulgence brings. When morning comes, there is no trace of the night before. Not a drug—not a laxative—Jitters is simply a product which nature began and science completed. It has no bad after-effects. Jitters is good on the morning after—better the night before.

MIAMI

SO FAR as society of metropolitan Miami was concerned all roads led to the Miami Biltmore Country Club Tuesday night, when the Florida Year-Round Clubs staged a "Boots and Saddles" party there and again Saturday night when the Junior League gave its annual charity ball at the club. Throngs of members of the Florida Year-Round Clubs and their guests enjoyed the "Boots and Saddles" party which was easily one of the outstanding entertainments of the season. So cleverly was the "boots and saddles" atmosphere carried out that thoroughbred mounts were stabled in the long dining room of the club in specially constructed stalls and the table from which a barbecue supper was served at midnight was fashioned of pine logs in the shape of a horse-shoe. A whole baby lamb was barbecued in the big Spanish fireplace as a feature of the supper.

Entertainment features included swimming and diving events in the club pool, wrestling bouts by University of Miami students on a float anchored in the pool, water polo between picked teams from Coral Gables and Miami Beach, exhibition riding and hurdle jumping, a jockey ballet from Miss Viola Belasco's Academy of Dancing, and entertainers from local night clubs. Ray Teal's orchestra played for dancing.

The Junior League supper-dance Saturday night drew one of the interesting gatherings of the season, many of the resort's leading hostesses entertaining at large parties for the event. Miss Helen Morgan and Al White from Club Lido and Chic Endor and Charlie Farrell from the Embassy Club contributed their services to the league for the entertainment program and Jerome Twichell's Miami Biltmore orchestra played for dancing.

Among those who entertained large parties were: Mrs. Newton B. T. Roney, Mrs. C. D. Lindback, Mrs. H. S. Wheeler, Mrs. Bascom Palmer, Mrs. Edith Green Weed, Mrs. George Harrison, Mrs. Luther Davenport, Mrs. Theo Moore, Mrs. Claude Pullen, Mrs. Preston Prevatt, Mrs. Irvin Copeland, Mrs. Hollis Rhinehart, Mrs. Harold Throm, Mrs. Samuel Barco, Mrs. Robert Cook, Mrs. Harold Frazier, Miss Martha Bastian and Malcolm Wisheart.

Mrs. Herbert B. Rust, Sr., of Miami Beach and Meredith, N. H., gave an attractive luncheon and contract bridge at the

An innovation of Miami Biltmore Hotel life was the morning "coffee" arranged by Miss Mary Phillips, hostess, on the terrace, Tuesday. Coffee, sandwiches and individual cakes were served on the vine-wreathed terrace around the swimming pool, the informality of the affair making it particularly attractive.

Among frequent guests at the Miami Biltmore Country Club during the last fortnight have been Prince and Princess Erisdavi, of Russia and Paris. Both spend a great deal of time on the tennis courts of the club. The Prince is one of the first members of the new Florida Year-Round Clubs. Princess Erisdavi is the former Diana Rockwood, of Indianapolis and Cocoanut Grove, and with the Prince is spending the winter on the estate of her mother, Mrs. George Rockwood, at Cocoanut Grove.

Plans for a post-convention tour of Cuba by the United States Good Roads Association, following its gathering here April 12 to 15, will be worked out at a conference to be held at Havana shortly, according to Col. J. A. Rountree, director general.

Cuba is particularly interested in the convention because the association is sponsoring the eastern route of the proposed Pan-American highway from Washington, D. C., to Mexico City, via Miami, Key West, and ocean ferry from Cuba to Yucatan, saving 1,600 miles over a proposed western route.

Those attending the Havana conference besides the director general will be Capt. C. D. Stearns, president of the Miami Chamber of Commerce; Dr. J. M. Renado, commissioner of the Cuban Tourist Bureau, and William R. Porter, president of the First National Bank of Key West.

They will be welcomed by President Gerardo Machado of Cuba, the mayor of Havana and by representatives of civic groups.

Sending of invitations to chairmen of commissioners in 67 Florida counties, asking each to send a committee of 25 Florida good roads boosters, was announced recently by Mr. Rountree, following the sending of invitations to a large number of governors asking them to send committees.

COTTAGE COLONY SOCIETY LIFE

MID-FEBRUARY as always, finds the greatest number and the largest entertainments being held by members of the resident colony. It is at this time of the year that the resort is gayest, with those who have postponed their journey south unable to resist the appeal of Palm Beach any longer, and hastening down for the second half of the winter. Among those who have made their appearance during the past fortnight, are Mr. and Mrs. William K. Dick, of New York, who have stayed at the Everglades Club and at Whitehall in previous years, and who last winter occupied a villa on Golf View Road. They are now in residence at the Henry G. Barkhausen villa on the ocean front. Mrs. Dick's son, John Jacob Astor, is a student at St. George's School, and William K. Dick, Jr., attends Pomfret School.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. John Hay Whitney, of New York, have been active socially since their arrival at Louwana, the Gurnee Munn villa on the ocean front, as well as prominently identified with the resort's sporting events. Mr. Whitney plays with other celebrated mallet wielders at the Phipps polo field, and also participates in the Sunday afternoon round-robin tennis tournaments at the Royal Poinciana. Mr. and Mrs. Whitney gave a luncheon for their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Myers, of Philadelphia; also Miss Sarah Jane Sanford and her house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Meade L. Barr.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Wolfe Kahn, of New York, who have been occupying Bellamar on Sunset Avenue, are now at Villa Oheka, the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto H. Kahn, on North County Road. Mr. and Mrs. John Barry Ryan, Jr., and Maj. John C. O. Marriott, with their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Carstairs, who were at Oheka for several weeks, have concluded their stay in Palm Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlton Yarnall, of Crum Creek Farm, Devon, Pa., were among those returning early this month, and are again established at Nautilus Cottage on Breakers Walk, which they have occupied for several winters. The Yarnalls passed the summer at Northeast Harbor, Me. They do most of their entertaining at the Everglades and Gulfstream Clubs, and they also belong to the Bath and Tennis Club. Mrs. Richard McCall Elliot, of Philadelphia, was a recent house guest. Mrs. Elliot drove up from Boca Raton for a few days.

Returning villa owners of the past week were Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. F. McCann, of New York and Oyster Bay, L. I., who were accompanied south by their daughter, Miss Helena McCann. Miss McCann made her debut last fall at a supper-dance given by her parents at Sunken Orchard, their Long Island estate. The event also served as a housewarming for a playhouse on the property. It was completed last June and contains an indoor tennis court with private dressing rooms, a kitchenette, reception and card rooms. The entertaining quarters are furnished with antiques and the music room has an organ. The dance, attended by several hundred guests who came from nearby resorts or motored out from New York, was held in the English music room. Miss McCann was educated at Rome, Italy, and was presented last summer at the third court of the season at Buckingham Palace.

Newcomers to the cottage colony this year are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Neff Ewing, of Pickering Creek Farm, Valley Forge, Pa., and their children, Joseph, Anna, Thomas and Samuel. The family is occupying a house on Brazilian Avenue.

Among outstanding social events of the past fortnight, was a dinner given by Mr. Joseph E. Widener at his ocean-front villa. His house guests, Sir Humphrey E. de Trafford and Lady de Trafford, of Trafford Park, Lancaster, England, who came up from Miami after a visit to the Bahamas; Mr. and Mrs. George D. Widener and Mr. and Mrs. Peter A. B. Widener II, attended, and also Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Williams, Capt. and Mrs. R. Amcotts Wilson and their house guests, Mrs.

William Randolph Hearst and Mrs. George A. Dixon, Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. M. Dorland Doyle, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pulitzer, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas W. Paige, Mrs. Dodge Sloane, Mrs. Reginald Boardman, Mrs. J. Henry Alexandre, Mrs. Julien Allen, Mrs. Joshua Cosden, Col. John P. Wemple and Messrs. Charles A. Munn, Gurnee Munn, Thomas Potter, Noel Munn, Howard A. Interest has been added to the cottage colony by the recent arrival of Capt. and Mrs. James Madison Austin, who are occupying Spray Cottage. The couple was recently married, and each is well known in social circles. He is the brother of Mrs. Henry Ellsworth Bemis, of Lotus Cottage, and she is the daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth M. Horne, of New York and Southampton. The racing stables at the bride's home in Westbury, L. I., are famous throughout the country. Their horses frequently are entered in the Saratoga races. Captain Austin is a member of the firm of Campbell and Peterson Company, New York City.

Mrs. Lucius Robinson, of Rochester, N. Y., and Indiana, Pa., motors down from her home in Hobe Sound frequently, to entertain friends at luncheon at Patio Marguery.

* * * *

Mrs. Lucius Pond Ordway, of Banyan Road, entertained at luncheon recently at Patio Marguery, having as her guests Mrs. John Gaston and Mrs. Robert Livingston Clarkson.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Odman, of White Marsh, Pa., frequently choose the Restaurant Flamingo in Phipps Plaza for their entertaining. One of the recent luncheons given there was for Mrs. Clement Reeves Wainwright, of Chestnut Hill, Pa.

* * * *

Additions to the cottage colony this month included Mr. and Mrs. Alan J. McIntosh and their young son, Peter, who came down from New York on their private car. Mrs. McIntosh was the only attendant at the recent wedding of her sister, the former Miss Marie Hoffman, to Mr. Louis F. Reed, Jr. The Reeds are at the Breakers with her father, Mr. Arthur G. Hoffman, vice president of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company. The McIntoshes before taking up their winter headquarters here, occupied Vincent Astor's estate at Sands Point, L. I.

* * * *

Mrs. Glenn Hodges recently entertained at Patio Marguery for Mrs. Charles Albert Smylie III, who has returned from New York to spend the remainder of the winter at her home on Cocoanut Row.

* * * *

The glorious weather which has prevailed all season has inspired a succession of outdoor entertainments, and among the interesting events of this nature held last week was a luncheon given by Mrs. Emil J. Stehli at her home on Via Bellaria for 12 guests.

* * * *

Capt. and Mrs. John H. Gibbons, of Washington, D. C., have returned to their cottage on Sea Spray Avenue. They are members of the Everglades Club and belong to the New York Yacht Club, the Colony and the Metropolitan.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Heckscher Wetherill, of the Barclay in Philadelphia, Pa., are visiting her mother, Mrs. William G. Warden, and Mr. Warden, at their home on North Ocean Boulevard at Seminole Avenue. Mr. Herbert W. Warden, of London, England, and Mr. Nelson Warden have also been visiting the family.

* * * *

Mrs. Nathaniel Seymour Thomas was hostess at one of the recent card parties given by the Women's Guild of the Church of Bethesda-by-the-Sea. These affairs are held in the pergola overlooking the Cluett Gardens, and are attended by members of the cottage colony, as well as hotel guests.

* * * *

Mrs. Volney Foster, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. George Alexander McKinlock at Casa Alejandro in Vita Serena, will be joined this week by Mr. Foster.

* * * *

Mr. Thomas Potter, of New York, who has been spending several weeks in the resort, is the guest of Mr. Charles A. Munn at Casa Amado, following a visit to Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Williams, of North County Road.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. J. Gordon Douglas, of New York, are entertaining Mrs. J. Henry Alexandre, also of New York, at their apartment in Phipps Plaza.

* * * *

Mr. William G. Wilson, of Cleveland, Ohio, has joined the Phipps Plaza colony. Mr. Wilson occupied one of the Everglades Club maisonettes, last year, and entertained frequently at elaborate parties in the Orange Garden of the Club. He has been coming here for many years and has a wide acquaintance in the resort.

* * * *

Mrs. Julien Allen, of Paris, is being entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Williams after having been a guest of Capt. and Mrs. R. Amcotts Wilson, of Vita Serena.

* * * *

Mr. John Benjamin, of New York, who is spending the winter at the Brazilian Court Hotel, gave a dinner last week in the Orange Garden of the Everglades Club.

* * * *

Mr. Vincent Bendix, of Chicago, returned early this month to his Spanish villa on the ocean front which is one of the most interesting of the new establishments. A beach house has been built on the sands.

and there is also a swimming pool. A tunnel, floored in tile, and with walls painted in water color, connects the beach house and the main villa.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Montgomery, of Ardrossan, Villa Nova, Pa., arrived during the week-end to visit Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Barklie at Surf Cottage.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Alexander, of New York, who joined the cottage colony this year and have been passing most of the season at their new home on El Vedado Lane, near the lake, with occasional trips to their residence in the north, were among recent Sunday night hosts at Patio Lamaze.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Rich, of Chicago, accompanied by their sons and daughters, Elmer Rich, Jr., Kenneth, Franklin, and Josephine Rich, returned last week to their home on Clarke Avenue.

PALM BEACH CLUB ACTIVITIES

THE Bath and Tennis Club is a popular meeting place these sunny days. Among those who recently gave luncheons on its broad piazzas overlooking the ocean, and in the curved dining room when breezes sweep in from the sea too strongly, were Mr. and Mrs. Emil J. Stehli, of New York, who are occupying their villa on Via Bellaria; Mrs. Adam G. Thomson, who came down from Duluth, Minn., a fortnight ago, with her sons and daughter, Alexander, Adams, and Odell Thomson, to reside at Casa Alexado on Jungle Road for the remainder of the winter; Mrs. Willey Lyon Kingsley, of Rome, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. John S. Pillsbury, who arrived from Minneapolis and are, as usual, at La Chosa, on Banyan Road; Mr. and Mrs. Loring Q. White, of Cohasset, Mass., who returned to Mokenma, on Everglades Avenue, early in the winter; Mr. and Mrs. Frederick S. Wheeler, who divide their time when in the north between their New York apartment and Dellwood, their estate at Locust Valley, L. I., and whose house on the ocean front, here, bears the pleasing name, Bienstar; Mr. Jules S. Bache, New York banker, who is residing at his artistic villa, La Colmena, on Barton Avenue; Mrs. J. Henry Alexandre, a house guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. Gordon Douglas, of Phipps Plaza; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Replogle, New Yorkers who are spending the season at the New Palm Beach Hotel; Mr. and Mrs. J. Leonard Replogle, of Trailside, facing the Atlantic; and Mr. and Mrs. Nathan D. Bill, of Springfield, Mass., who yearly choose the Breakers for their winter headquarters.

* * * *

The most anticipated event of the social season here is the annual Everglades fancy dress ball, which will be held this year on March 8. This affair has been a feature of resort life since 1918, and already club members are consulting costumers and making plans for the entertainment which climaxes winter activities.

Dining in the Orange Garden of the Everglades Club has afforded more pleasure to hosts and their friends this year than it has in several seasons. The balmy weather which has prevailed almost without interruption since northerners began to arrive in November, has added to the enjoyment of gatherings at this club which are always of paramount importance. One of the recent dinner parties was given by Mrs. Zenas Sears, who is spending the season with her brother, Mr. Theodore C. Hollander, of Boston, at Villa Muriel in El Vedado. Guests who attended were Dr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Bennett and their daughter, Mrs. Walter F. Wyeth, Jr., Dr. and Mrs. Edmund LeRoy Dow, Mayor and Mrs. John Shepard, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Walter Holbrook, Mrs. William R. Sweatt, Mrs. Elden C. DeWitt, Mr. Charles Albert Smylie, 3rd, and Mr. Hollander.

At a recent Sunday night dinner-dance at the Everglades Club, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hopkins, of Baltimore, Md., who are staying at the Breakers, entertained in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Albert D. Graham, also of Baltimore. Others who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Shaughnessy, Mr. and Mrs. Wiley R. Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Balliere, Mr. and Mrs. Max von Schlagell, Mrs. Frances Wann Randolph, Mrs. Elden C. DeWitt, Mr. Edward E. Bartlett, Jr., Mr. George Shaw and Mr. John B. Irwin.

* * * *

Mr. Harry Skillman, of Detroit, who is spending the season at the Breakers, had as his guests at the Everglades Club during a recent Sunday night dinner-dance, Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth C. Warner, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Oakes, Mrs. Kay Wood, Mrs. Joseph B. Long, Mrs. Charles R. Sherlock, Mr. William Ruland and Mr. Leo Williams.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Singer, of London, who arrived early this month to pass the remainder of the season at the Everglades Club, entertained at a Thursday night dinner-dance in the Orange Garden, having as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Webb, Mr. and Mrs. John M. L. Rutherford and their house guests, Commander Joseph B. Lynch and Capt. and Mrs. Frederick Ames.

* * * *

Mrs. George Luke Mesker, of La Fontana, on the ocean-front, gave a luncheon at the Everglades Club and had among her guests, Lady Wilkins, the Hon. Mrs. Claude Fleming, Mrs. Robert M. Stewart-Richardson, Mrs. George C. White and Mrs. John R. Bryden.

* * * *

Mrs. Charles Herendeen entertained at luncheon at the Everglades Club having in the party Mrs. Charles M. Hayes, Mrs. George A. Eddy and Mrs. Oscar G. Davies.

Mr. George deBonneville Keim, of Gable Hall, Edgewater Park, N. J., was host at a dinner party given recently at the Everglades Club. Those who shared his hospitality were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil M. Singer, Mrs. Joseph B. Long and Princess Rosalie Melikov de Somhetie.

One of the largest afternoon gatherings of the week was at the song recital by Miss Louise Lerch, soprano of the Metropolitan Opera, given at the Florida Embassy Club under the auspices of the Palm Beach Parent-Teacher Association. Miss Lerch was assisted at the piano by Mrs. John Watson Doe, and her rich, full voice heard in a varied program of selections, was enthusiastically applauded by the winter visitors who filled the main hall of the club.

Every year the P.-T. A. holds a benefit to raise funds for equipping the school cafeteria; to provide French instruction and a director for the children's orchestra; to maintain a circulating library in the school; to sponsor a kindergarten and to provide free lunches for under-privileged children. The school board itself is unable to furnish these features, and without the efforts of parents and teachers, it would be impossible to obtain them. Mrs. Oscar G. Davies is chairman of the concert committee. Mrs. James M. Owens is president of the organization, and Mrs. J. F. Kirkton is treasurer.

Those who sponsored the event were: Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury, Mayor and Mrs. John Shepard, Jr., Mrs. Chester Bolton, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Seligman, Mrs. Henry R. Rea, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Foster Carey, Miss Alice De Lamar, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Homer, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Oakes, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Windsor, Jr., Col. Edward

R. Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth D. Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Sims Wyeth, Mr. and Mrs. David Hugh McCulloch, Capt. and Mrs. R. Amcotts Wilson, Mr. Frederic A. Juilliard, Mrs. Edward Randolph, Mrs. Henry Morgan Tilford, Mrs. Richard Croker, Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo E. Woodhouse, Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Shaughnessy, Mr. Theodore C. Hollander, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Tate Anthony, Mrs. James W. Yelverton and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar F. Luckenbach.

Gala nights at the Florida Embassy Club have proved interesting mid-week occasions, and among those noted at a recent Thursday night dinner-dance were Mr. and Mrs. Henry McSweeney, of the Breakers Hotel, who entertained for Mr. Edward I. Farmer.

The Colony Club continues to be the favored diversion center for many prominent members of the resort. Before returning to New York, Mr. Harold Stirling Vanderbilt entertained there, having among his guests Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Fish, Mr. and Mrs. Meade L. Barr, Mrs. Lucius Pond Ordway, Mrs. John Gaston, Mrs. Joseph Davis, Miss Sarah Jane Sanford, Mr. Frederick Whitlock, and Mr. Frederic McN. Bacon III.

AMONG THE PALMS

ONE of the most delightful entertainment features at the Breakers are the afternoon tea-dances, held in the magnificent loggia overlooking the sea through tall French windows, or, weather permitting, on the sea-side terrace. This setting is one of the loveliest in Palm Beach. Tea tables are scattered around the lawn, under brilliantly canopied umbrellas or placed at the edge of the floor. Airplanes humming past the Breakers and an occasional ship sailing along the Gulf Stream prove interesting diversions for the tea guests. But even more distracting are the ever-changing tints of the sun-flushed clouds, paling from vividness to pastel colors as dusk closes in.

The Howard Lanin dance orchestra is led by Sherry Magee, who has appeared with the George Olsen and Ben Bernie orchestras, and who is making many new friends in the Palm Beach winter colony. Their repertoire of new and melodious songs from the latest Broadway musical comedies seems inexhaustible and is relieved occasionally by haunting refrains from "songs of yesterday."

Mrs. Charles H. Randle, of Chicago, is an interesting season guest at the Breakers. She was accompanied south by her daughter, Mrs. William W. Forrester, and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Guy Randle, also of Chicago, who are remaining in Palm Beach for the winter months. Mr. Forrester arrived last week to join his family. Mrs. Randle's son, Mr. Hanson F. Randle, joined the cottage colony this season, and is occupying a villa on Seminole Avenue. He accompanied his mother abroad last summer for a visit of several months. Mrs. Randle has been identified with the resort life for years, and she and her daughters entertain extensively throughout the winter. Mrs. James Sheehan, of Chicago, who has been visiting Mr. Hanson Randle, is now the guest of Mrs. Randle at the Breakers.

Another interesting family group at the Breakers includes Mr. Arthur G. Hoffman, of Orange, N. J., who arrived by private car accompanied by his daughters, Mrs. Louis F. Reed, Jr., and Mrs. Alan McIntosh, and their husbands. Miss Elise Gioletti is also a member of the party. Mrs. Reed was formerly Miss Marie Hoffman, and her wedding on December

1 was an important event in social circles of both Orange and New York, where the couple are now making their home. Mr. and Mrs. McIntosh, who spent last winter in Honolulu, have taken the Charles Amory home on Banyan Road for the season and have their young son, Peter, with them. Mr. Hoffman is vice president of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company and the Second National Bank of Orange, and is a prominent figure in the financial world. He is also president of the Essex County Country Club. Mr. Hoffman and members of his family spent several months in Italy and France during the summer. His Palm Beach clubs include the Everglades, Bath and Tennis, Oasis, and Embassy.

Mr. Rex Beach, noted American author, and Mrs. Beach are guests at the Royal Poinciana. They motored over from their winter home in Sebring to attend the annual gathering of the Artists and Writers Golf Association. Mr. and Mrs. Beach have spent a part of each winter in Palm Beach for many years.

* * * *

A large gallery of Breakers and Royal Poinciana guests attended the first baseball game of the season between the two hotel teams at the Poinciana diamond. Mr. George Wright, veteran sportsman, who recently celebrated his 86th birthday at the hotel, tossed the first ball amid tremendous applause. The name of Wright is familiar to thousands of baseball players in the United States, and many gray-haired men can remember seeing it on the first baseballs of which they were the proud owners, "Wright and Ditson" written across the surface of the precious sphere. Mr. Wright was one of the founders of the firm that bears his name and for many years he was among the most ardent of baseball fans. Mr. William A. Wadsworth, of Montclair, N. J., and New York, who annually presents a five-dollar bill for each of the first two home runs of the season, still has them in his pocket.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo J. Van Lahr, of Cincinnati, and her mother, Mrs. Frank Herschede, are among the interesting season guests at the Breakers. They have been annual visitors in Palm Beach and are well known members of the mid-west contingent at the Breakers. Mr. Van Lahr is president of the Provident Savings Bank and Trust Company.

Mrs. Sylvan M. Barnet, of New York, is the subject for this lovely dry point etching by J. Knowles Hare. Mr. and Mrs. Barnet are once again staying at Whitehall where they have spent many delightful seasons.

Mr. Samuel M. Minuse, of Meriden, Conn., has returned to the Breakers to spend several weeks. He visited Palm Beach and Miami last season, and during the summer months sojourned abroad. He is also an annual visitor at the Hotel SamOset at Rockland Breakwater, Me.

Dr. and Mrs. Malcolm L. Harris, of Chicago, are members of the mid-west season colony at the Breakers. Their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Max von Schlagell, of Baltimore, joined them last week for an indefinite stay. They are enthusiastic golf and swimming devotees and are daily visitors at the Poinciana-Breakers beach and the Country Club golf course. Dr. Harris is a surgeon of note and was formerly president of the American Medical Association. His Chicago clubs include the Saddle and Cycle, Casino, Chicago Golf, Edgewater Golf, South Shore Country, Physicians', Chicago Athletic, University and Racquet.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Tevander, of Lake Geneva and Chicago, are again passing the season at the Breakers, and with them is their son, Nelson Tevander, and daughter, Miss Eleanor Tevander. Miss Tevander joined her family last week and was accompanied by Miss Jeanne Smith, also of Chicago. Miss Tevander completed her schooling in Paris last spring and she is particularly interested in aviation. She has her own pilot's license and many hours of flying to her credit. The Tevander's younger daughter, Miss Alethea Tevander, will not be down this season, as she is studying at Miss Dow's School at Briarcliff Manor.

* * * *

The Mayflower Hotel welcomed many regular visitors during the first two weeks in February and the lobbies are filled with old friends, renewing acquaintances and chatting over the incidents that have transpired since former meetings. Surrounded by a group of friends recently were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Smyth, of Toronto, who are spending their usual season here. They made the trip by motor, leisurely driving along the Atlantic seaboard. They are prominent members of the hotel colony here, members of the Old Friendship Club, and they entertain on many occasions during the season.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. James S. Throckmorton, of Caldwell, N. J., were also the center of a welcoming group of friends when they arrived last week. They are among the most prominent members of the winter colony here and their arrival has been long anticipated. Mr. Throckmorton is president of the Citizens National Bank & Trust Company of Caldwell and a well known figure in banking circles in the east.

Simplicity marked the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Millspaugh and Thomas D. Darlington, both guests at the Mayflower, which occurred recently on board the "Firelands," the yacht belonging to her father, Mr. William H. Millspaugh, of Catawba Island, Ohio. The Rt. Rev. Nathaniel Seymour Thomas, rector of Bethesda-by-the-Sea, officiated at the ceremony at which only the bride's parents and a few close friends were present. Miss Millspaugh formerly lived at Sandusky, Ohio, but has lately resided in New York. She attended Bryn Mawr College.

Mr. Darlington, who is publicity director of the Hercules Powder Company, of Wilmington, Del., is a graduate of Leland Stanford University. Following the wedding, the young couple left on the "Firelands," cruising through southern waters. They will return to Wilmington, where they will reside.

Mrs. Millspaugh accompanied her daughter to Palm Beach and joined Mr. Millspaugh at the Mayflower Hotel, where he arrived last week from a cruise to Havana and the Keys.

Among the regular season guests at the Breakers are Mr. and Mrs. George B. Clifford, of Minneapolis. They expect to be joined later in the season by their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Clifford, Jr., who have been members of the cottage colony here for several winters. The Cliffords are members of the Everglades Club and he is frequently noted on the golf course of that club. The latter part of March, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford will go back to Minneapolis to spend Easter with his mother, afterward going to New York, thence to Bermuda for a late spring visit.

* * * *

Miss Helen MacDonald, of Chicago, who is visiting her aunt, Miss Kathryn MacDonald, at the New Palm Beach Hotel, is enjoying her vacation in this resort quite as much as holidays spent in Hollywood, Calif. This popular member of the younger set is a graduate of the Ward Belmont School and the University of Wisconsin.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. James Maroney, of Medford, Mass., who regularly spend a part of each winter at the New Palm Beach Hotel, were cordially welcomed on their return last week by members of the New England colony, as well as by their many friends in the hotel.

MISS MARGARETTA SLOAN, charming young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice W. Sloan of Philadelphia, a guest at the Breakers. She was presented to Philadelphia society in November.

JOHN CHARLES THOMAS, GOLFER

OOK up, not down," said the copy-book of our childhood, and forthwith dutiful little Algertons and Elsie Dinsmores, after painfully copying the maxim ten times on the page, sallied forth to apply it to life.

"But they never became expert golfers, that's one thing certain," says Mr. John Charles Thomas, who, aside from occupying the position of leading concert baritone both here and abroad, is a golfer of no mean merit.

Mr. Thomas has recently arrived in Palm Beach from an engagement with the Philadelphia Opera Company to give the second concert of the Society of Arts at the Everglades Club and has joined Mrs. Thomas and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Dobyne, at their residence, Casa Beata, on El Bravo Way.

"Look down, not up," he advises. "Keep your eye on the ball, not on where it's going. A lot of golfers with the best intentions prepare their shot, make their swing, but at the critical moment of striking the ball, look up to see where it's going.

"One can apply this principle of golf to life in general," Mr. Thomas continued. "After you've decided where you want to go, forget about it and get to work on the business in hand. One often meets people who are always talking about what they want to do in life. If they had more time or money or this or that they could accomplish something. Or it may be 'when' they get more time or money. The result is they kick up a lot of turf and get nowhere."

Golf is not only a great game for concentration but a splendid means of physical exercise. Mr. Thomas plays a round every morning when here in Palm Beach, and even on tour when it is possible. In fact, there isn't a golf course of importance in the United States that he has not played. Last season, when singing in Atlanta, he had a friendly game with Bobby Jones on the East Lake course, and though he did not wrest the championship from him, his game score was 81, which is not so bad for a non-professional.

Before John Charles Thomas became a singer, he had established a considerable reputation for himself as an amateur athlete. While at Conway Hall, Pennsylvania—a preparatory school—he was prominent in football and on the track. In 1908 records were not as high as they are today, but Thomas ran a mile in five minutes and cleared the bar in the high jump at 5 feet, 10½ inches, performances that were considered excellent 20 years ago. His powerful physique and tremendous strength proved an important factor on the football field. He played football against the famous Jim Thorpe.

In Brussels, where he has guest privileges on the Royal Golf Links, 18 holes in the morning is his setting-up exercises for a performance at the Royal Opera House in the evening. Once during rehearsals for Parsifal, Thomas arrived at the theater straight from the golf links, clad in blue and grey checked plus-fours, with his clubs slung over his shoulder. Amazement is a mild term for the wave of feeling that spread through the ranks of the stage-hands and chorus. It was their first introduction to plus-fours. Some thought that this was the singer's conception of the role of Amfortas which he was rehearsing.

In his own career, Mr. Thomas has brilliantly exemplified the truth of his slogan. After once deciding where he wanted to go, he concentrated on work at hand. Musical comedy knew him as one of its highest paid stars. Later Covent Garden in London and the Royal Opera House in Brussels acclaimed him. As a concert artist he is without peer. The luscious quality of his voice which made him the idol of musical comedy, is marshalled by an unerring artistic intelligence. With his friendly manner of offering whatever explanations are needed to the songs he sings, he entirely does away with the artificial barrier created between stage and audience.

While here in Palm Beach, Mr. Thomas is seen practically every morning on various golf courses of the resort. The Everglades Club course, however, is his favorite, and he makes the round of 18 holes with the best of them.

Tall of stature and with powerful physique, he makes the ball fairly whiz down the fairway, yet is lithe and quick enough in his movements to make his approach shots tell also, aiding him materially in his putting.

Mr. Thomas is one of the few American artists to be unreservedly accepted abroad. This acceptance, in view of the chauvinistic attitude generally adopted by Europe toward American art and artists is all the more convincing proof of Mr. Thomas' pre-eminence. Such is his popularity in Belgium, that on the occasion of the royal wedding of Leopold of Belgium and Astrid of Sweden, he was one of the few chosen to appear in a gala concert performance given at the Royal Opera House.

TASTES AND TOILETTES

HE wires from Paris literally hum with excitement about the clothes that will be worn this spring . . . clothes simple and nonchalant, nothing hard and severe. All the bodice lines softened by drapery or fichu movements, the sleeves short and made with petal effects, delicate lingerie touches of delicate lace and filmy organdie in vestees and collars and cuffs. Above all, nothing, no matter how dressy, in which we shall feel "dressed up." It is hard to realize that this type of gown needs even more careful personal grooming than the most severe tailored type. From the casual to the careless is such a short step, the dividing line so imperceptible to ourselves, so very evident to others.

As to our coiffures, it is interesting to know that the little roll at the back of the neck is definitely out. The bob has returned to favor and many of the women who were letting their hair grow are cutting it off again. Necklines are natural with a becoming fullness at the back of the head, where we have been wearing the roll. As for straight hair, there simply isn't any. There aren't any very curly frizzes any more either. The head of the fashionable woman undulates like the Palm Beach ocean on a windless day, in big, nonchalant waves.

Mrs. Harrison Williams, of the ocean-front, is one of the resort matrons who prefers white, and aside from being in accord with fashion's dictates, it is decidedly becoming. Attired in an evening frock of white net with a series of circular lace insertions, this tall and graceful dancer created a charming picture on the outdoor floor of the Colony Club last week. Rhinestone buckles on white slippers gleamed beneath her long full skirt. To protect her from night breezes when the dance was over, Mrs. Williams donned a diminutive jacket of soft white velvet, its short sleeves banded in ermine.

* * * *

Miss Billie Dove, the cinema actress, who is vacationing at Whitehall, is among those who approve of evening wear with brilliant trimmings. In fact her entire white crepe roma dress was studded with mother-of-pearl sequins that reflected changing colors as she danced beneath the flood lights at the Colony Club.

Crystals, small and round and set in chain fashion, form the sparkling shoulder straps on a black satin evening gown worn by Mrs. William Outcalt, of Cincinnati, who is making her annual month's visit at the New Palm Beach Hotel. The frock is cut to fit her figure perfectly and falls into a full skirt below the hips.

Mrs. George Alexander McKinlock, president of the Garden Club of Palm Beach, was busy making plans for the Flower Show last week at the headquarters in the Poinciana conservatory slat house, and looked business-like in a canary yellow sports dress. Hand fagotting was used on the reverse collar.

Mrs. P. J. Kane of Scarborough, N. Y., who is a guest at the Breakers, dined at the Patio Lamaze recently, and was attired in a stunning gown of shadow flowered satin in pastel shades of pink and blue on a nude background. It was caught in the back with two exquisitely cut flowers of the satin and a low placed flare on the skirt added fulness. A Bernard lapis blue chiffon velvet coat, embroidered in silver flowers and edged in Russian ermine with puffed sleeves and a silver lining, and blue and silver kid sandals completed her costume.

Mrs. H. Richard MacRae, of Boston and the Royal Poinciana, who is a petite brunette, was noted at the Beach Club the other evening, looking very lovely in a black lace sheath fitting dinner gown, with coral taffeta threaded through the bodice to end with a puffed bow at the back.

* * * *

A Callot model was chosen by Mrs. Charles M. Hayes of the South Ocean Boulevard at a recent Everglades Club dinner party. Of heavy gold crepe, the bodice was elaborately embroidered in amber beads and wing panels hung gracefully from shoulder to hem. An uneven scalloped hem and bugle beaded girdle were interesting details. A beautiful lynx collar bordered and collared her nude chiffon velvet evening voat.

* * * *

Mrs. Nathan D. Bill of Springfield and the Breakers looks very lovely in a delicate peach tone dinner gown of crepe Elizabeth with the bodice trimmed with Alencon lace and the accompanying jacket with a deep cape of the same beautiful lace.

* * * *

Mrs. John Stuart Martin, wife of the managing editor of Time, wears one piece beach pajamas of white linen flowered in a brown design, for her morning session at Sea Spray Beach. A triangular reverse collar is a feature of the costume.

* * * *

Miss Xilpha Hicks, of Huntington, W. Va., who is spending the season at the New Palm Beach Hotel, was seen recently in a striking sports costume of purple and lavender. A finger tip length velvet coat of the darker shade was worn with a lavender crepe dress, made effective with belt and buttons to match the jacket.

* * * *

Mrs. Jesse H. Yorke, who before her recent marriage to Dr. Yorke, was Miss Martha Candler, a niece of the late Asa G. Candler of Atlanta, Ga., was noted at the Royal Poinciana wearing an old-fashioned gown of sky-blue taffeta, very reminiscent of the 1880's. The skirt fitted tightly about the hips, below which was a succession of narrow full ruffles to the hemline. The bodice was draped softly, with a tiny ruffle of pink taffeta edging the inside of the deep pointed decolletage.

* * * *

Mrs. William W. Forrester, of Chicago and the Breakers, lunched at the Patio Lamaze recently and looked very attractive in a frock of cornflower blue satin striped crepe, fashioned with a cowl neckline and the smart new sleeves, which were puffed at the elbow and slit open and bound to the shoulder. A circular flounce finished the skirt and a square sapphire buckle caught the softly looped sash at the side. A wide brimmed blue felt hat was trimmed with a smart charreusse feather.

BEAUTIFICATION OF PALM BEACH

UNDER a carefully detailed plan for the further beautification of Palm Beach, almost a thousand additional trees, shrubs and plants will be placed between curb and sidewalk line of streets from Worth Avenue to Wells Road inclusive and four hundred will be removed while scores will be replaced in the effort to bring about a perfect harmony of planting and colors throughout the town.

Palms, dominating this resort as they do, will naturally be used most extensively in the new planting scheme and will include 386 cocoanuts, 108 Washingtonias, 70 palmettos and 4 royals of a minimum eight-foot clear trunk size with many showing a thirty and forty foot clear trunk. Hibiscus will rule as the favorite shrub, 233 being scheduled, although some of the 108 removed will be included in this number if it is found that they are in condition for satisfactory replanting. One hundred phoenix canarienses will be used and many pines, including young and old Australians.

Sponsored by the Palm Beach Civic Club, many members of which are also members of the Garden Club, and prepared gratuitously by S. J. Blakeley of the Kelsey City Nurseries, the plan has already been formally passed by the Civic Club at a meeting on the first of the month and has been presented to the Town Council for official endorsement. With that endorsement work can be begun almost immediately and be completed within two years without sacrificing thoroughness to speed.

The Civic Club plan can, it is estimated, be carried to completion at an expense of about $60,000 and without disturbing seriously the present planting now in growth as instead of a general tearing up and radical change of scheme, it contemplates the use of the present beautification with changes and additions. It calls for no condemnation of property nor interference with property rights.

Some streets such as Atlantic Avenue, Seminole Avenue west of county road, Root Trail, Alexander Avenue, Oleander Avenue, Seaview Avenue, Pendleton Avenue and Worth Avenue, on which there is no planting space, will be cleared of rubbish and, where there are vacant lots, the trees will be trimmed back from the walks to create vistas.

On all other streets the present color scheme, if there is a definite one, will be retained by eliminating shrubs, plants or other growths of conflicting colors and adding appropriate growths of the same or closely harmonizing colors. Where there is no definite street color scheme of beautification, one will be established that will conform with that of intersecting thoroughfares and in harmony with the color scheme of adjoining streets.

On virtually every street it will be necessary to replace both trees and shrubs and to thin out or to strengthen growth groups and no opposition by property owners is anticipated in the working out of the new beautification plan as in its preparation the majority of owners have been consulted. It is believed by those responsible for it that the plan will not only add to the beauty of the resort as a whole but will enhance property values. When the work calls for removals of any kind the replacements will be of equal or greater beauty and cash value although value in dollars is secondary to value in beauty.

Some of the growths involved in the changes planned in addition to palms, pines and hibiscus of pink, scarlet, salmon yellow, turk's caps, and fuchsia, include century plants, ligustrum, aralia, aspidistra, acalypha, crotons, jacobinas, pandanus, bougainvillea, oleanders, pittosporum and phoenix canariensis.

One of the most striking features of the plans contemplates a radical change in the general appearance of the four corners at County Road and Royal Palm Way. It is tentatively planned to plant on each corner a group of five Roman palms, a specie of South American palmetto, each having clear trunk height of approximately forty feet. This it is thought would make that intersection the most outstanding in the resort in a distinctive way and provide a vista from ocean and from lake as well as for a long distance either approaching from the north or south.

Further study is to be devoted to Royal Palm Way, Palm Beach Avenue—or county road as it is still called by many—Brazilian Avenue, Coconut Row and Ocean Boulevard although just now there is a tendency to introduce into the plan the idea of eliminating the twenty odd flower and shrubbery beds along Royal Palm Way which now cost the town about $100 apiece annually to maintain and to substitute taller shrubbery, possibly in a straight line down the center.

There is a possibility that the cost as a whole may be materially reduced through donations by winter residents and property owners who wish to bear the expense of the further beautification of certain streets. Offers of such help have already been received pertaining to both Australian and Brazilian Avenues and other streets are likely of similar treatment.

With palms so plentiful and decorative in Palm Beach it is interesting to know that only one variety, the Sabal palmetto or cabbage palm, is native to this resort.

Some of these cabbage palms are to be used in the new plan but few of the trees that grew here a century ago are available for use because of their present rarity and because they would not lend themselves to landscaping treatment. If recorded legend is to be accepted as history, the palm enrichment of this resort, when it was in its infancy, must be credited to the wreck on Jan. 9, 1878, of the Spanish barque, Providencia, bound from Havana to Barcelona with a cargo of 20,000 cocoanuts and with hides and Cuban liquid refreshment in casks. As the tale goes, the cocoanuts were washed ashore, the crew picked up by a passing vessel and the wreck with some of the cargo still intact sold for $20.80 and the incident closed except for the fact that about 14,000 of the cocoanuts either found root or were planted by pioneers interested, even at that time, in exotic beautification.

While not denying the beauty of a profusion of growths and colors, sponsors of the new beautification plan believe that a more orderly although not necessarily formal arrangement with a studied harmony of color will be more pleasing to the eye.

Scarlet, pink and salmon hibiscus, pink oleanders and scarlet and purple bougainvillea supply the color motifs with most other shrubbery except aralia removed and crotons and ferns subordinated in the striving for simplicity with beauty.

From the southerly borders of the Stotesbury estate to Worth Avenue, both cross roads and avenues and thoroughfares running north and south will be included in the changes in all cases where the streets afford planting space available for new planting or which may now be planted.

On Wells Road, where the planting is good from lake to ocean with Australian pines and scarlet hibiscus predominating, hibiscus of conflicting colors and cocoanut trees that do not harmonize with the Australian pines will be removed and be replaced by additional Australians and scarlet hibiscus with a judicious scattering of pittosporum and clipped pine hedges at each end of the road with flame vine worked into the treatment.

Cocoanuts rule on Dunbar Road with scarlet hibiscus and little has to be removed although almost one hundred cocoanuts will be added and two score scarlet hibiscus to make up for inadequance of planting there.

Everglades Avenue is also given over to cocoanuts with thirty more scheduled for planting while Sunrise Avenue is divided between cocoanuts and royals with forty more cocoanuts and four additional small royals to be added and most of the present shrubbery removed.

Seventy palmettos and eight Washingtonias of fair size will supplement the cabbage palm decoration of Sunset Avenue with pittosporum along the avenue east of County Road and a vista will be created west of County Road where there is no planting space. This creation of a vista will apply also to Seminole Avenue west of County Road and the inadequate planting east of the road will be augmented with more salmon hibiscus while many of the cocoanut trees will be respaced.

Scarlet hibiscus to the east of County Road and pink oleanders to the west of it on Barton Avenue give it a two-tone color scheme in perfect harmony and this will be retained with the addition of more scarlet hibiscus and pink oleanders and more clipped pines and cocoanuts with few removals to be made.

One pine, one cabbage palm, one pink hibiscus, six royals and some periwinkle is all that will have to be removed from Clarke Avenue and only a few scarlet hibiscus and two score of cocoanut trees added to perfect its planting.

Sea Breeze Avenue's pink hibiscus under its rows of cocoanuts will be improved by the addition of thirty-seven more pink hibiscus and sixteen cocoanuts and will then be entirely satisfactory after the removal of a couple of pines and some shrubbery that does not now fit into the color scheme. Neighboring Sea Spray Avenue is another scarlet thoroughfare but adds clipped pines to its cocoanuts with no removals necessary east of County Road and little towards the lake and only a score of cocoanuts and a dozen hibiscus to be added.

Another scarlet road, they seem to be most popular, is Australian Avenue, although in this instance the color is imparted by bougainvillea under cocoanuts to which two score will be added. Here, however, there is considerable promiscuous planting necessitating, particularly west of County Road, the removal of much conflicting growth and some tree respacing and a general cleaning up. This is one of the Avenues that a winter resident has offered to take care of for a part of its length.

Bougainvillea, this time purple, furnish the color motif of Chilean Avenue with some conflicting shrubbery, including scarlet hibiscus to be done away with and a score of cocoanut trees added.

On Peruvian Avenue cocoanuts, with present shrubbery removed, will carry the beauty burden when reinforced with about seventy new trees.

METROPOLITAN SOCIETY NOTES

HE second Knickerbocker Assembly of the season was given recently in the main ballroom of the Ritz-Carlton. This series of dances is given annually for girls who have been out two years or longer.

On the committee for these dances are Mrs. Frederick W. Longfellow, chairman, and the Meses. Thatcher Magoun Brown, James Gore King, F. Kingsbury Curtis, Lyman Delano, Adrian V. S. Lambert, I. N. Phelps Stokes and William Jay Schieffelin. Markels' Orchestra played for dancing. Supper was served at midnight.

Many dinners preceded the dance. Mr. and Mrs. F. Robertson Jones gave one for their daughter, Miss Katharine Robertson Jones, at the Junior League. Other guests were the Misses Mildred Akin, Mary Thatcher, Carolyn Blair, Alice Byrd, Louise Munroe, Polly Rousmaniere, Martha Clarke, Cornelia King, Elizabeth Clark, Mary French and Leila Delano. Also the Messrs. Richard Aldrich, Winthrop Brown, Charles Bound, Laurance Rockefeller, Spencer Byard, Kenneth Pendar, William Miller, Thomas Cook, Alfred Motley, Vitor Davis, David Garrison, Robert Messemer, Charles Hewitt, Albert Johnson, Kenneth Ryan, Hamilton Southworth and Henry Labouisse.

Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Phelps Stokes gave a dinner for Mrs. Stokes' niece, Miss Leslie Scott. Their other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Imre de Vegh, Miss Ellen Lord, Miss Joy Dickerman and the Messrs. George Longstreth, E. Dickerson Jenkins, George Fletcher, Butler Cox and Richard Stiegen.

Miss Katherine Thurber was the guest of honor at a dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. Jeyes Winter. The company also included the Misses Mildred Hooker, Nancy Du Bois, Carola Winter and the Messrs. Frank Thurber, Dyson Duncan, Andrew Maxwell, Dana Backus, Gerrish Thurber and Orson St. John.

Miss Marjorie Stoddard gave a buffet supper at her home, 106 East Thirty-seventh Street, and had as her guests, before the assembly, the Misses Leta Clews, Constance Bruen, Jean Flagler, Louise Henry, Faith Whitney and the Messrs. Parmelee Lyman, Philip J. Behn, Lloyd Westcott, Louis Ripley, Robert Forrester, Charles Tucker, Maurice Lancaster, Stephen Morris and John Thatcher.

Miss Barbara Scudder also gave a dinner, her guests including Miss Eugenia Morris, Miss Gwendolyn Armstrong and the Messrs. Graham Mattison, Livingston Longfellow, Richard Knight, Edgar Dunleavy and Walter Knight Sturges.

Mrs. M. Walker Rogers gave a dinner in the Seaglade of the St. Regis for her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Sloan Rogers. The guests also included the Misses Isabelle Hardy, Natalie Watts, Martha Turner, Rosalie Slack, Carmen Mumford and Alice Farley and the Messrs. Winthrop Rogers, Horace Brown, David Gordon, Lawrence J. Mead, Jr., Cornelius Du Bois, Langdon Ward, Richard Holden, Harvey Coleman, John Trevor, Stephen Duggan, Hamilton Colter and Jose Asenio.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip McKim Garrison also gave a dinner before the assembly, at the Hotel Pierre, for their daughter, Miss Lydia K. Garrison.

The Final Knickerbocker Assembly will be held April 2 at the Ritz-Carlton.

Miss Marie Iselin, daughter of Mrs. Lewis Iselin, of 16 West Fifty-second Street and Breakwater House, New Rochelle, N. Y., and the late Mr. Iselin, was married recently to Mr. Thomas Sergeant La Farge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bancel La Farge, of Mount Carmel, Conn. The wedding took place at the Iselin residence, 16 West Fifty-second Street, with only the families present. The Rev. Father John La Farge, S. J., uncle of the bridegroom, performed the ceremony, which was followed by a reception for relatives and a few intimate friends.

Mr. Columbus O'Donnell Iselin 2d gave his sister in marriage and Miss Louise Iselin, cousin of the bride, was her only attendant. The bride wore a princess gown of ivory satin with long fitted sleeves and a deep V-shaped yoke of old point d'applique lace, which had been worn by her mother at her wedding. The skirt was draped to form a train. Her veil of the lace was arranged in cap fashion caught at the back with tiny orange blossoms. She carried white orchids and valley lilies.

Miss Louise Iselin, who was the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Williams earlier in the season, wore a cape frock of yellow lace trimmed with a green sash, which matched her hat. She carried green and brown orchids and mimosa.

Mr. Henry A. La Farge was best man for his brother. Ushers were Messrs. L. Bancel La Farge, another brother; Christopher G. La Farge, a cousin; Lewis Iselin, Jr., brother of the bride; Ernest Iselin, a cousin; John W. Churchill, Douglas H. Gordon, William F. Sanford and S. Olin Dows.

MRS. FRANK VANCE STORRS

After a trip, the young couple will reside in this city.

The marriage unites two families that for generations have figured prominently in the social and financial history of New York. The bride is a granddaughter of Mr. Columbus O'Donnell Iselin and, through her mother, the former Miss Marie de Neufville, of Mrs. Jules de Neufville, of Paris, and the late Mr. de Neufville. She attended Miss Nightingale's School and made her debut in 1927. She is a member of the Junior League and the Colony Club. She is interested in yachting and races her own boat, the "Ariel," in the inter-club regattas on the Sound near the family's country estate.

Mr. La Farge attended the Choate School and Harvard, where he was graduated in 1926 in the same class with his brother, Mr. Edward H. La Farge, and the Yale Art School. Following the family bent, he became an artist and is associated with his father in mural painting. He is a grandson of the late John La Farge, famous American landscape and mural painter. Notable works by this artist are in churches in New York and other cities and in Memorial Hall at Harvard. Mr. Thomas Sargeant La Farge's mother, the former Miss Mabel Hooper, is a daughter of the late Edward Hooper, of Boston, for 25 years treasurer of Harvard.

Of interest to society in Palm Beach is the announcement made recently by Mr. and Mrs. Jay Gould, of 444 East Fifty-seventh Street, of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Eleanor Gould, to Mr. William N. Haskell 3d, son of Maj.-Gen. William N. Haskell and Mrs. Haskell, of 1192 Park Avenue.

Miss Gould is a member of a family that, for generations, has figured prominently in the social and financial history of New York. She is a great-granddaughter of the late Jay Gould, financier and railroad executive, and a granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Jay Gould. She is a grandniece of Mrs. Finley J. Shepard, the former Miss Helen Miller Gould, of the Duchesse de Tallrand, the former Miss Anna Gould, and of Messrs. Edwin, Howard and Frank Jay Gould.

She is a niece of the late Lady Decies, the former Miss Helen Gould; and Mrs. Anthony J. Drexel, Jr., the former Miss Marjorie Gould; of Lady MacNeal, the former Mrs. Edith Gould Wainwright, whose marriage to Sir Hector Murray MacNeal, British shipping man, took place on January 25 last, in Reno, and of Mrs. W. MacFarlane Barker, the former Mrs. Gloria Gould Bishop. Mr. Kingdon Gould and the present Mr. George Jay Gould are her uncles.

Miss Gould's father, one of the world's leading amateur court tennis players, for 20 years was national amateur champion. Through her mother, the former Miss Anne Douglass Graham, she is a granddaughter of Mrs. Hubert Vos, of New York, wife of the well-known portrait painter. Her parents were married in 1911 in St. Thomas' Church. The wedding was an outstanding event of that season.

Miss Gould attended Miss Hewitt's School, this city; Miss Porter's School at Farmington, Conn., and also studied at the Sorbonne in Paris. She made her debut in December, 1930, at a ball given by her parents at the Pierre. She is a member of the Junior League.

Mr. Haskell is a grandson of the late William N. Haskell, of Albany, and of the late John Henry Farrell, of Albany, founder and editor of "The Albany Times Union. His mother is the former Miss Winifred A. Farrell. He received his early education abroad and later attended Phillips Exeter Academy. He was graduated from Princeton University in 1928, where he was a member of the Cannon Club. He is a brother of Miss Mary Haskell, of Mr. John H. F. Haskell and of Lieut. Joseph Farrell Haskell, who, on January 9 last, was married to Miss Julia Kean Benjamin, daughter of Mrs. William Massena Benjamin and the late Mr. Benjamin. Miss Gould's fiance is a member of Squadron A and of the Princeton Club of New York and is associated with the Guaranty Trust Company at its Fifth Avenue office.

The wedding will take place in the spring.

Many Palm Beach visitors are patronesses of the series of exhibitions which are being arranged by the Architect's Emergency Committee for the benefit of the unemployed.

Mrs. Harvey Wiley Corbett was elected chairman of the committee of wives of architects that are actively engaged in raising funds for the benefit of the Architects' Emergency Committee. Julian Clarence Levi, president of the Architectural League, is chairman of this organization, representative of the entire profession, working in behalf of unemployed architectural draftsmen, 1,700 of whom in the metropolitan area have registered with the committee.

The first of a series of benefits arranged by Mrs. Corbett's committee on the plan of a four-link chain was the tea by Mrs. Joseph Urban at her husband's Fifty-seventh Street studio. Each guest agreed to repeat the party for a group of her friends who will again repeat the performance. Among the architects' wives cooperating with Mrs. Urban and Mrs. Corbett in this benefit series were Mmes. Ralph T. Walker Ely Jacques Kahn, Raymond M. Hood, Julian Clarence Levi and Irvin L. Scott.

Through these social events and through admission fees for the one-man show of Joseph Urban's recent works in the exhibition of modern architecture to be held at the invitation of the Architectural League of New York at its clubhouse, 115 East Fortieth Street, funds will be raised for prizes for a design competition now being held for unemployed draftsmen and for other relief purposes in that group.

The exhibition was open to the public following a private showing to invited guests on the afternoon of February 11. Next Thursday afternoon's private showing is to be the second of two previews being arranged for this exhibition, the first having been a dinner tendered to Mr. Urban by the Architectural League last week.

Patronesses of the benefit exhibition are Mmes. Robert Anderson Walter C. Baker, Anthony Drexel Biddle, Jr., Arthur Bodanzky, Elsie Cochran Bowen, Howard C. Brokaw, Albert Bunker, Walter P. Chrysler, Harvey Wiley Corbett and Philip Corbin, Miss Katharine Cornell, Mmes. James P. Donahue, David Dows, Thomas Wells Durant, Thomas Ewing, Sr., Thomas Ewing, Jr., Lyttleton Fox, Rudolph Gaertner, Quincy A. Gillmore, Harris Hammond, Wallace K. Harrison, William Randolph Hearst, Raymond M. Hood, Curtis Hutton, Edward F. Hutton, Ely Jacques Kahn, Louis G. Kaufman, Messmore Kendall, Julian Clarence Levi, Louis P. Levy, Ross McPherson, Harry Marsh, Hunter Marston, Herbert May, S. Stanwood Menken, Lewis Gouverneur Morris, F. A. Muschenheim, Rufus L. Patterson.

WITH THE GOLFERS

RANTLAND RICE, champion de luxe, defeated Rex Beach in the annual Artists and Writers tournament, 1 up 20 holes, to win the event for the fifth consecutive time. In the last day of match play, Grantland Rice defeated David Roberts, 7 and 6, turning in a card of 83 to Roberts' 95 in a far from spectacular match. Rex Beach played a little more serious than his fellow champion, Rice, and turned in an 81 to defeat L. B. Myers, one up, who had an 84. Cards:

	Out	In
Rice .....	545-575-445—44	544-446-354—39—83
Roberts .....	656-666-546—50	574-556-445—45—85
Beach .....	545-345-446—40	464-455-445—41—81
Myers .....	545-355-437—41	484-455-337—43—84

In the second flight, Richards Vidmer defeated Owen Davis, 6 and 4, and M. S. Sloan defeated F. N. Price, 1 up, 19 holes.

Summaries:

First Flight—Grantland Rice defeated Dave Roberts, 7 and 6. Rex Beach defeated L. B. Myers, 1 up.

Second Flight—Richards Vidmer defeated Owen Davis, 6 and 4. M. S. Sloan defeated Jerome Beatty, 1 up, 19 holes.

First Flight Consolation—Maurice Collette defeated R. J. Walsh, 2 and 1. Charles McAdams defeated F. N. Price, 1 up.

Second Flight Consolation—James Neville defeated Sol Tepper, 2 and 1. W. L. Chenery defeated W. Cowan, 4 and 3.

The Artists and Writers swung into the second day of match play with Grantland Rice and Rex Beach, both former champions, holding their own and defeating their opponents.

Rice defeated Ray McCarthy, 6 and 4, and Beach came out a winner over Merle Thorpe, 2 up. L. B. Myers put Arthur Somers Roche out of the running, winning 3 and 2, while in the remaining championship flight, David Roberts defeated E. W. Cochrane, 2 and 1. Cards of Rice and McCarthy:

	Out	In
McCarthy .....	545-565-446—44	674-575-454—47—91

First Flight—D. Roberts defeated E. W. Cochrane, 2 and 1. Grantland Rice defeated Ray McCarthy, 6 and 4.

L. B. Myers defeated Arthur Somers Roche, 3 and 2. Rex Beach defeated Merle Thorpe, 2 up.

Second Flight—Owen Davis defeated F. L. Wurzburg, 1 up. Richards Vidmer defeated Gene Buck, 3 and 2. Jerome Beatty defeated Billy DeBeck, 2 and 1. M. S. Sloan defeated Rube Goldberg, 4 and 3.

First Flight Consolation—R. J. Walsh defeated Jefferson Machamer by default. Maurice Collette defeated Fontaine Fox, 1 up. Charlie McAadms defeated J. Boardman, by default. F. N. Price defeated Maurice Fatio, 5 and 4.

Second Flight Consolation—Sol Tepper defeated Floyd Davis, by default. James Neville defeated Sumner Blossom, 6 and 4. W. L. Chenery defeated John Golden, 6 and 4. W. Cowan defeated John LaGatta by default.

Jefferson Machamer, medalist in the qualifying round of the Artist and Writers tournament, bowed to the inevitable, or some such Roget-Thesaurian phrase—but anyway, was defeated by David Roberts, of New York, in the first flight of the first day's match play, 6 and 5 at the Palm Beach Country Club.

Grantland Rice and Rex Beach who were quite angry at Mr. Machamer for taking away their laurels so early in the tournament, both came through for a win, Rice defeating Fontaine Fox, of Toonerville Trolley fame, 2 and 1; and Beach winning over Maurice Fatio, 5 and 3.

One of the best matches of the day was that of Rice and Fox with cards as follows:

	Out	In
Fox .....	534-347-435—38	453-446—34

First Flight—D. Roberts defeated J. Machamer, 6 and 5; E. W. Cochrane defeated R. J. Walsh, 2 and 1; Ray McCarthy defeated Maurice Collette, 1 up 20 holes; Grantland Rice defeated Fontaine Fox, 2 and 1; Arthur Somers Roche defeated Charlie McAdam, 8 and 6; L. B. Myers defeated J. Boardman, 5 and 3; Merle Thorpe defeated F. N. Price, 3 and 2; Rex Beach defeated Maurice Fatio, 5 and 3.

Second Flight—F. L. Wurzburg (15) defeated Floyd Davis (25), 7 and 6; Owen Davis (20) defeated Sol Tepper (30), 10 and 8; Gene Buck (28) defeated Sumner Blossom (30), 8 and 7; Richards Vidmer (18) defeated James Neville (30), 3 and 2; Jerome Beatty (16) defeated John Golden (30) defeated W. L. Chenery (22), 2 and 1; Rube Goldberg (24), defeated W. Cowan (30), 4 and 3; M. S. Sloan (17) defeated John LaGatta (21), 3 and 2.

Jefferson Machamer put one over on his fellow intellectuals by playing a good game of golf and by turning in low medal score in the qualifying round of the Fifth Annual Artists and Writers tournament at the Palm Beach Country Club. Rex Beach winner of last year's event and Grantland Rice, who has won it several times previously, were hot on the trail however, finishing second and third and turned in an 84 and 85 respectively. # HAVANA

PROBABLY never before has the horse more truly been king here in sunny Havana than during the current winter season. Inspired probably by the pleasure afforded in the unusually fine cards of racing daily presented at Oriental Park, lovers of horses have turned with renewed interest to other sports in which the horse plays a big part. The polo season opens up with a bang this week. There is considerable agitation afoot towards the formation of a woman's team, ever since the keen interest displayed by local debutantes and members of Havana's ultra smart society set in staging a novelty race at the Havana-American Jockey Club. The daily line-up for the race included: the Misses Celia Velasco, Ana Maria Sanchez, Alicia Mendoza, Marta Caldwell, Aimee Fowler, Gertrude Lazo, Alina Sanchez, Lourdes Suarez, Ena Senior, Ann Simpson, Josephine Barlow and Tina Sarra.

This is a great step towards reconciling the historic and romantic past which for many years has sheltered the daughters of high-class Cubans, with ultra-modern customs. While the Spanish mantilla is now rarely seen, the lorgnette is still in vogue, and too, while fluttering fans in beautifully manicured hands are rarely wielded, Havana never fails to thrill the visitor within her gates; he leaves this enchanting city with glowing memories of pleasant and novel experiences never to be forgotten.

One of the strange sights is the habiliments with which the commoner adorns himself, and can be traced back to the time when the late Maj.-Gen. Leonard Wood, as military supervisor of Cuba, issued an order commanding that everyone wear a coat when in public. The general did not go into detail regarding the coat's specifications, and in the rural districts, particularly, a sort of coat-shirt with many pockets, and known as a "guayabera" was devised; the poor element of the city get by with an ordinary shirt worn with the tail hanging out, thus altering the garment's original designation. To this day, a coat is referred to by the natives as "la Americana," and to be seen without one on the streets brands one as a "nobody," lacking in culture.

Joseph Hergesheimer, considered one of America's suavest writers of fiction, is here for a holiday. Mr. Hergesheimer came over from Palm Beach, where he is the house guest of Col. Barclay H. Warburton, Miss Mary Brown Warburton, and two other of the guests of the Warburton home.

Mr. Hergesheimer was in Havana a few years ago for an extended stay, during which time he absorbed local color and assembled material for "The Bright Shawl," many scenes of which were laid in the Cuban capital.

Havana continues to be the mecca towards which many notables in the world of society, art, finance and business continue directing their steps. Recent arrivals include Mrs. Marshall Field and daughter, of Chicago; Mrs. Raoul Fleischman and son, of New York City; Mr. Herman Black, publisher of the Chicago Evening American, here with Mrs. Black and their daughter, Miss Mary Black; Col. E. A. Deeds and party, coming over from Miami, where the Colonel's yacht is stationed; Miss Ruth Twombly, socially prominent of New York City; Mr. and Mrs. Beverly Bogert and the Princess de Braganza; Prof. Edwin R. A. Seligman, eminent economist and authority on taxation and the administration of public moneys.

* * * *

The arrival of the former United States golf champion, Glenna Collett, of Providence, R. I., was of keen interest to local golf enthusiasts. Only recently, Miss Collett succumbed to marital machinations and became the bride of the nephew of Senator William H. Vare, big politician of Philadelphia and Atlantic City, N. J., in one of the most brilliant ceremonies said to have ever taken place in the United States.

RESIDENCE OF PAUL MOORE, "COLLADO HUECO," SOUTH OCEAN BOULEVARD

ON SUNNY PALM BEACH SANDS

HERE is always a fascinating panorama to be viewed from the Poinciana-Breakers beach, and it is here each day that for the majority of Palm Beach visitors, the day really begins. Refreshing salt-tanged breezes waft in from the Gulf Stream and fan the sun-flushed bathers lounging on the sands. The surf is ever changing; today disturbed only by the tinnest of ripples and tomorrow a magnificent turbulent expanse of indigo water and white spray.

Since the opening of the canopied buffet and sandwich bar, on the pool terrace, the bathing hour has gradually lengthened and now groups gather for luncheon at the round white tables, or have it served down on the sands and at the cabanas, spending most of the afternoon lounging around on the beach.

Mr. Arthur G. Hoffman, of Orange, N. J., and the Breakers, has taken cabanas 14 and 15 for the season, and each morning his little grandson, Peter McIntosh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan McIntosh, of Banyan Road, is down early playing in the brilliant sunshine. Mr. Hoffman's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Louis F. Reed, Jr., of Orange, N. J., and New York, are noted at the cabana every day and the entire family remain for luncheon at the beach. Mrs. Reed looks very attractive in marine blue jersey trousers with a blue and white Antibes shirt and French pan-cake beret. For swimming, Mrs. McIntosh prefers brown sailcloth shorts with a paisley bandana top.

* * * *

Mr. Willis Sharpe Kilmer, of Binghamton, N. Y., noted sportsman, who has a racing stable in Miami and a breeding farm at Lexington, Ky., is a daily visitor at this cabana. Members of his party include Mrs. A. E. Sharpe, Miss Jane Wells. Mr. George Ely and Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Jack, all of whom are wintering at Whitehall. Miss Wells' favorite beach costume is a swimming suit of brigade blue with white, yellow and black stripes running diagonally across the front. A yellow silk bandana scarf tied around her hair and a yellow double-breasted shantung beach coat are colorful items of her outfit.

* * * *

A little further along cabana row, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Valier, interesting members of the cottage colony, are usually joined during the bathing hour by several of their friends. Mrs. Irene Merritt, of the Breakers, is a frequent visitor, also Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Copp, of North Ocean Boulevard, and Mrs. Oscar Liese, of Sea Breeze Avenue.

* * * *

each morning includes Mr. and Mrs. Edwin S. Larsen, Miss Katherine Clarke and her house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert W. Dixon, Miss Margaretta Sloan and Miss Florence Carpenter.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. William Stafford, of Whitehall, and their attractive daughter, Miss Muriel Stafford, come over to the beach each morning and join friends lounging on the sands, among whom are Mrs. Martin Sweeny, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kelly, Jr., of the cottage colony, and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Durand, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Durand and the Misses Lillian and Gladys Durand, guests at the Royal Poinciana.

* * * *

Another congenial group enjoying the convenience of a cabana include Mr. and Mrs. Eben H. Ellison, of Newton, Mass., and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William P. Ellison, and daughter, Mrs. William Ferris, and her husband, who are guests at the Breakers.

Mid-February finds larger crowds than ever at the Sea Spray Beach Club, and every day informal luncheon parties are held on the sands. Mr. Edward E. Bartlett, Jr. and Mr. George Shaw, of New York, who joined the club soon after arriving in Palm Beach, were hosts last week at a luncheon given for Mrs. Frances Wann Randolph. Mr. Bartlett and Mr. Shaw have taken an apartment on Worth Avenue for the season.

Mrs. Nelson Odman, of Banyan Road, came down to the beach recently with her house guest, Mrs. Clement Reeves Wainwright, of Philadelphia, and also Mrs. Edward C. Dale, who motored up for the day from the Boca Raton Club, where she is spending the winter. The Dales, with their two sons, Richard and Edward C. Dale, Jr., spent the Easter period here last winter, stopping at the New Palm Beach Hotel. Their northern home is Hartdale, at Bryn Mawr.

Mr. Cecil Parker Stewart, of Seminole Avenue, has become a devotee of the beach since joining Sea Spray a few weeks ago and recently had among his guests, Mrs. J. S. Martin.

* * * *

NASSAU

NASSAU is becoming more and more a honeymoon colony, the beauty and quaintness of this Isle of June and the indefinable glamour of the tropical nights evidently make a strong appeal to the newly-weds. This week Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Clark Register 2nd arrived to pass their honeymoon at the New Colonial. Mrs. Register was Miss Barbara Demming Pratt, the daughter of Mr. George Dupont Pratt and the granddaughter of the late Charles Pratt, philanthropist.

Married on February 6 at St. John's Church at Glen Cove, L. I., the wedding breakfast was at the Pratts' summer home, Killenworth.

Mr. and Mrs. Forsyth Wickes, of Tuxedo Park, also came this week to this hotel, as did Mr. and Mrs. Donald Bayne and Master Bruce Bayne, of Graystone, Rye, N. Y.

Miss Malcolm gave a luncheon for him at Kenmuir, as did Mr. and Mrs. Harcourt Malcolm at Casurina.

Miss Muriel Sulley, of England, had a dinner-dance in the New Colonial Grill on a recent evening for Mr. and Mrs. Guy Murchie, Capt. and Mrs. C. J. Alexander, Commander Langton-Jones, Miss Dora Langton-Jones and Mr. John Tracey.

The preceding evening, Captain and Mrs. Alexander had a supper and dancing party in the grill for Sir Humphrey and Lady de Trafford, Maj. Thomas Bouch, Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Partridge, Miss Muriel Sulley, Mrs. Ella Leach and Mr. Tracey.

On the same evening, Mr. Harrie T. Lindberg, of New York, had a dinner in the grill for Mr. and Mrs. Allan A. Ryan, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Warren Leslie, Jr., Mrs. Ralph Isham and her brother, Henry Hurt. Colonel Isham has now joined Mrs. Isham at the New Colonial.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bullock, of Oyster Bay, gave a dinner on Tuesday at their winter home, Manana, in honor of His Excellency, Governor Clifford, and the Hon. Mrs. Bede Clifford and their guests at Government House. These include the Hon. Mrs. Clifford's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Gundry, of East Orleans, Mass.; Dr. James Y. Grant, of Niagara Falls; Commander J. Dugdale and Mr. Eustace Blundell; also the governor's A. D. C. Commander Edmondstone.

The Colonial Secretary and the Hon. Mrs. Charles Dundas, Mr. and Mrs. Harcourt Malcolm, the Very Rev., the Dean; Lady Williams Taylor, Capt. Dolland, Mrs. Godfrey Corbett were among the guests.

From the States were Mr. and Mrs. Irving Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur V. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frederick B. Rice, Dr. and Mrs. James C. Ayer, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Sumner Dolley, Mrs. Daniel A. Loring, Jr., and Mrs. Malcolm Shroyer.

The New Colonial tennis courts are very active and each afternoon a large gallery forms in the adjoining gardens during the tea hour of music, where the players join their friends after their game.

Daily to be seen on the courts are Mr. and Mrs. Allan A. Ryan, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. H. Thompson Bushnell, Mrs. C. Frederick Frothingham, Mr. Rudolph L. Agassix, Mr. Herbert I. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Bramwell Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Brooks.

MIAMI BEACH

ONE of Great Britain's outstanding sportsmen, Sir Humphrey de Trafford, has arrived at the Roney Plaza Hotel from Nassau, where with Lady Trafford and Maj. Thomas Bouch he has been spending a fortnight. Sir Humphrey and Lady de Trafford came to the United States to be guests of Mr. Joseph E. Widener, famous figure of the American turf. They attended the races at Hialeah Park, and later motored to Palm Beach to visit Mr. Widener.

The titled visitor is a member of an old English family. His father is the third baronet of Trafford, to which he is heir. Lady de Trafford is the daughter of Viscount Chelsea.

Sir Humphrey formerly was a captain in the Coldstream Guards, famous British regiment, where he served during the World War.

In the country life of England, Sir Humphrey is outstanding in hunting, polo, lawn tennis, cricket, coursing and in field trials for sporting dogs.

He is keenly interested in horse racing and owns a stable of thoroughbreds in England. He also is a golf enthusiast.

Major Bouch is a noted globe-trotter. During the World War he was attached to headquarters of the cavalry corps of the British expeditionary forces. He is the author of several plays and stories.

Miss Irene Bordoni, noted actress of the stage and screen, has arrived at the Roney Plaza Hotel for a two-weeks' visit. Just before leaving New York, she assisted Roxy with a benefit performance for the British and Canadian Veterans in the Metropolitan Opera House in New York.

Miss Bordoni appears every day at the Roney Cabana Club for swimming. It is her first opportunity to swim since her last visit to Miami Beach, two years ago, she said upon her arrival here. She spends her summers in France, but the seasons have been so rainy she has not had an opportunity to don her bathing suit before.

Upon her return to New York, the actress will make a series of "shorts" for Paramount Pictures in New York.

Recent visitors at the Roney Plaza Hotel were Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Smith, of Chicago, who have been spending the winter at Palm Beach. Mr. Smith is creator of the famous "Gump" cartoons.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Lund and Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Caspari, prominent visitors at the Roney Plaza Hotel from St. Louis, were luncheon guests recently of Mr. R. W. Brooks, also of St. Louis, at the Roney Cabana Club.

A distinguished group of New Yorkers, including Mr. and Mrs. Cyrel de Cordova, Mrs. Ernest A. Cardozo, Mr. and Mrs. John Williams and Dr. and Mrs. Florizel del Myers, who have been staying at the Roney Plaza, have started on a 15-day fishing cruise among the Keys.

Contract and auction games occupied the attention of a large group of socially prominent men and women who assembled in the ocean lounge of the Roney Plaza on Friday afternoon, when the Patrician Club of Miami Beach entertained. Mrs. John R. McNeil, hostess for the occasion, was assisted by Mrs. J. J. O'Toole and Mrs. John Brophy.

Among those who reserved tables were Mrs. Frank Cramer, Mrs. Eugene Cable, Mrs. Bert J. Reilly, Mrs. J. Nagengast, Mrs. Frank Steadman, Mrs. William J. Wember, Mrs. G. Hillenbrand, Mrs. John Eckerle, Mrs. L. L. Tully, Mrs. A. A. Kotte, Mrs. John J. Magnan, Mrs. J. W.

Goggin, Mrs. J. C. Carroll, Mrs. William Simpkins, Miss Ferdinande Steadman, Mrs. Benjamin Farrier, Mrs. J. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Harry McCarthy, Mrs. E. P. Wheelan, Mrs. Elsie Dulbs, Mrs. George D. Kilmartin, Mrs. James J. Walker, Mrs. F. Benz, Mrs. J. Spaulding and Mrs. E. A. Kelly.

Mrs. Elliott F. Shepard gave a luncheon at the Surf Club last Saturday for Mrs. Alfred Mitchell and Mrs. Charles Deering. Her guests were Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Gayley, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Semple, Mr. and Mrs. Guston B. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Chatten, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Adams, Mrs. Cyrus W. Curtis, Mrs. Alfred Mitchell, Mrs. Charles Deering, Mrs. George P. Brett, Mrs. J. B. Semple, Mrs. Andre E. Rickmers, Mrs. R. C. Meeker, Mrs. James H. Hammond, Mrs. I. C. Elston, Jr., Mrs. W. L. Breese (Zona Gale), Mrs. William P. Meeker, Mrs. Maurice Hoffman, Mrs. E. C. Pitcairn, Miss May Allen, Miss Nevin, Mr. Dave Morris, Mr. Edward Allen, Maj. H. Datoni.

Resort
World

Your suite in the NEW PALM BEACH HOTEL is an intimate creation—you are thus impressed as you are ushered into it. You may prefer the ultra equipped rooms, with two individual private baths, in full rhythm of modern motif—or you may fancy some earlier period with its arabesques.

Come, enjoy a winter of health and pleasure in an atmosphere more ideal than you ever supposed could exist in any resort.

MIAMI BILTMORE hotel

CORAL GABLES, MIAMI, FLORIDA

PRESIDENT

London Office: Savoy Hotel. Paris Office: 3 Rue Auber

adjoining the Hotel

Under new ownership and new policies . . with its many improvements . . the special arrangements thru new affiliations for guests' golfing, fishing, tennis, bathing and other sports, the Biltmore will be a colorful center of the southern resort season. Although the Biltmore is the world's most sumptuous resort hotel, built without regard for cost during the "peak" season of all Florida's history, its accommodations are now available at popular rates . . American and European plan.

RONNEY PLAZA hotel

MIAMI BEACH, FLORIDA . . . .

Wm. G. McMeekin, Managing Director

Open from Thanksgiving Day

Palm Gardens

Innovations this year include reductions in room rates and a la carte dining service . . club breakfasts at sixty cents to a dollar and the Cabana Club Luncheon at a dollar fifty, without sacrificing in the least the traditional European service and niceties of America's finest ocean-front hotel. Pool and surf bathing, without extra charge, and all the pleasures of the Roney Plaza's palm gardens, promenades and beach are privileges of every guest.

Looking across a cabin of the P. A. A. airliner, "American Clipper."

Gives you time to GO MORE PLACES DO MORE THINGS

SCORES of fascinating foreign lands are now within easy reach by P. A. A. service. Giant liners of the sky take you in smooth luxurious comfort to places you've always wanted to see, but never had time to visit. To Havana or Nassau in two hours. Havana fare $28, Nassau fare $25. Round trip $50 and Nassau $43. Daily service.

TO PORTO RICO, 1¼ DAYS, $127. Just a little more than a day, and you're in this exotic foreign land. Through four picturesque, enchanting countries en route. Stopping overnight in Santo Domingo, oldest spot in the New World, where Columbus himself lies at rest.

TO SOUTH AMERICA, 1½ DAYS, $165. Stop overnight in quaint Jamaica, then Barranquilla, Colombia, for lunch next day. Go from there up the famous Magdalena River to Bogota in another day if you wish, or on to Panama.

TO MERIDA, YUCATAN, 7 HOURS, $95. See the ancient Mayan ruins near Merida. Off the beaten path. All-expense tours arranged, to the Chichen Itza Ruins from Merida.

All-expense cruises to Panama, 6 to 10 days, stopping at first-class hotels.

Dozens of tours, all possible within a few days or a week by the speedy airliners of P. A. A. New reduced rates now in effect. 10% off on all round-trip fares. For detailed information see your hotel porter or travel bureaus; phone our Miami office (day or night), 44 Biscayne Boulevard, Miami 2-4188.

You Ask:

How Soon Can We Build A Pool For You?

We will answer that question by in turn asking you one.

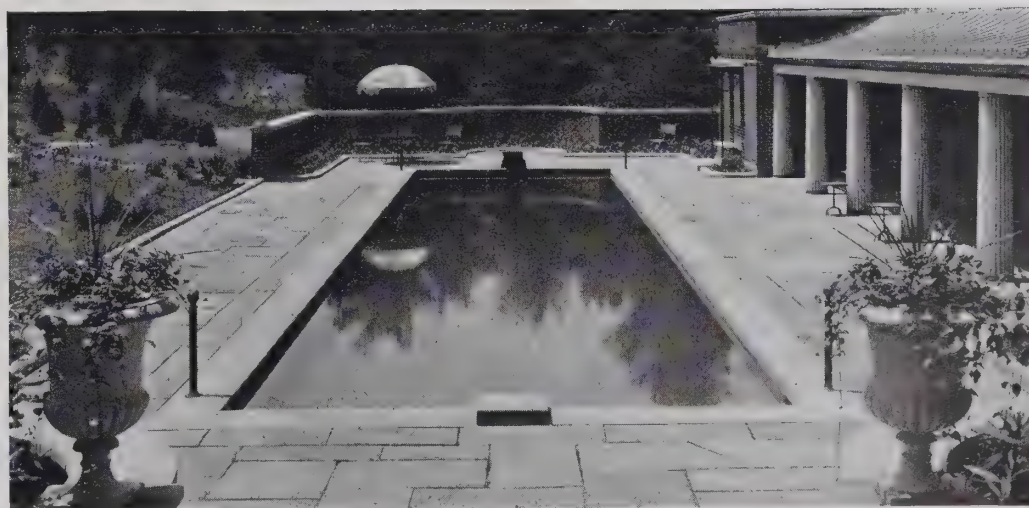

How soon do you want it? Also where do you propose to build it? And about what size have you in mind?

As to its probable cost, it will be considerably less than you could have built a similar one, any time in the last 12 years.

Furthermore, we will take full responsibility for its building and complete equipment, ready for use. You are entirely relieved of all its building botherments.

How would a pool of this size meet your wishes? It is 20 feet wide and 60 feet long.

SWIMMING POOLS

Whether elaborate or simple, pools require skillful making. We not only build your pool, but equip it complete with a water-heating system even to filtered and sterilized water if you wish. If near the seashore, it can be salt water. Glad to send you a list of our customers.

PRICES NOW RANGE FROM $2900!

THE new V-8 cylinder Lincoln, like the V-12, is characterized by the beauty and mechanical excellence which one naturally expects in a Lincoln.

Into this new motor car have gone those same structural qualities that have always been peculiarly Lincoln—expert engineering, painstaking precision manufacture, and a careful testing and retesting of every important operation.

This advanced motor car is youthful, fleet in appearance. Its engine develops 125 horse-power. A new free-wheeling, on all forward speeds, is operated by a lever on the instrument board. Gear shifting is made easy and quiet by means of a special synchronizing unit in the transmission. Bodies are of wood and steel, sturdily steel-braced at all important points for maximum safety and freedom from noise.

In every detail, the new Lincoln 8 is built to a high ideal. Backed by the resources of the Ford Motor Company, it carries further than ever before the prestige of the Lincoln name. Prices at Detroit range from $2900.

MIAMI

EVERY day now seems to be bridle path day for the riding academy of the Miami Biltmore Country Club. One of the largest turn-outs of the season filled the sod paths around the club last Sunday. Some of the riders took to the open country over woodland trails and through the strawberry farms west of the club. Others spent the morning on the hunt course, taking their mounts over the hurdles. The horses apparently were having as much fun as the riders and took the jumps eagerly.

Miss June Cunningham, of Weathersfield, Conn., is a new addition to the riding contingent at the club. Miss Cunningham has ridden in many northern shows.

Mrs. R. L. Witters and her five-gaited horse, "Mountaineer," are out almost daily on the bridle paths. Mr. Witters also is an enthusiastic rider and is often seen on his five-gaited mount, "Robert McDonald." Gordon Witters, who is at the University of Florida this year, was recently home on vacation and spent most of his time in the saddle.

Miss Margaret Rogers enjoys the big sod plazas along the bridle paths around the Miami Biltmore. She handles her mounts well and likes to put them through their different gaits.

W. A. Berlin has deserted fishing and sailing this season for the saddle and is an enthusiastic member of the riding club.

Mrs. Bertha Rector, of New York, is another ardent lover of the five-gaited horse and rarely misses a day in the saddle.

George Downs and his friend, E. J. O'Hare, are learning to jump the hurdles and apparently are finding plenty of sport in it.

Paul C. Taylor and Marshall Dancey frequently ride together on the bridle paths.

Jean Van Devere, of Zanesville, Ohio; Nancy Chapman, of Westport, Conn., and Anne Griffith, of Palmyra, N. Y., are three accomplished riders of the juvenile set.

Members of the riding contingent already are planning to take advantage of the February moon for night parties.

Mrs. William E. Chilton, of Charleston, W. Va., presided at the coffee table for the first of a series of informal "coffees" on the terrace of the Miami Biltmore Hotel Tuesday morning. The attractive affair was planned by Miss Mary Phillips, hostess, for guests of the hotel, who enjoyed an informal hour on the terrace before swimming time at 11 o'clock. Coffee, sandwiches and miniature doughnuts were served.

Former Senator William E. Chilton and Mrs. Chilton, of Charlestown, W. Va., are interesting guests at the Miami Biltmore Hotel, where they are spending the season. One of the outstanding statesmen of West Virginia, Colonel Chilton served two long terms in the senate. He publishes the Charlestown Gazette, leading Democratic daily of West Virginia. His daughter, Miss Elinor Chilton, who is now in England, is an author in her own right, and Mrs. Chilton is now at work on a history of the Chilton family, among the earliest settlers of West Virginia.

you can own a New La Salle?*

Because of their deep regard for La Salle's high place among the fine cars of the world, many people do not realize that La Salle is not a costly car to own. The initial expenditure is very little more than the price of many automobiles of less distinguished character. As a result of the thorough quality Cadillac creates with its fine design and precise craftsmanship, the expense for La Salle's operation and maintenance is surprisingly small. And, finally, La Salle's faultless style and faithful performance inspire a longer span of ownership. One is happy to keep a La Salle over a much greater length of time and drive it a great deal farther than a lesser automobile. In fact, the actual figures often prove that many who are now driving lower-priced cars might very profitably be enjoying the prestige and satisfaction of owning a La Salle. Why not come in today and get the facts about La Salle economy? La Salle prices from $2395, Cadillac from $2795, f. o. b. Detroit.

UTURE SIR THOMAS LIPTONS were given an opportunity to display their prowess in the water on the afternoon of Saturday, February 20, when the first annual junior regatta was conducted in the pool of the Roney Cabana Club, for Florida Year-Round Club children. Valuable prizes were awarded, including a silver loving cup and two powerful speed boats of the miniature type. The events included two speed boat (toy) races, two sail boat runs, and a free-for-all for speed boats, and children of all ages up to 16 whose parents are members of the Florida Year-Round Clubs were eligible.

The approaching Pan-American conference, open to all residents and visitors of the cosmopolitan Miami area, which is scheduled to be held weekly in the ocean lounge of the Roney Plaza Hotel on Friday nights, beginning February 26, is attracting considerable interest.

The conferences will take the form of round-table discussions, to be led by Dr. Victor Andres Belaunde, important political leader from Peru, South America. Dr. Belaunde is internationally known and is recognized as an educator as well as a politician.

Dr. and Mrs. Dudley Roberts and Miss Carolyn Roberts, their charming and accomplished daughter, are new arrivals at the Roney Plaza Hotel. Their home is in Park Avenue, New York City.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Wright, of Chicago, annual winter visitors to Miami Beach, are again at the Roney Plaza Hotel. They have taken a cabana at the Roney Cabana Club, and frequently entertain there. They have been entertained at a number of parties since their arrival.

Mr. and Mrs. G. D. VanSciver, Philadelphians who are occupying their beautiful winter home on Prairie Avenue, recently gave a dinner for their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ketcham, of Chestnut Hill, Pa., in the dining room of the Roney Plaza Hotel. Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Charles Youngs, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Throm.

An attractive dinner party given at the Roney Plaza Hotel recently, was that of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sands Marvin, guests at the ocean-front hotel from Montclair, N. J. Members of their party included Col. and Mrs. Arthur H. Carter, of Greenwich, Conn.; Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Thomas, of Reading, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. Warner Orvis, of New York City.

Less than a month away, the second annual Coral Gables-Miami Biltmore Open golf tournament, March 18, 19 and 20 with $10,000 in cash prizes to lure the stars of mashie and niblick, will climax the golfing season on the Biltmore course, thus far one of the most eventful in history.

At the Miami Biltmore Hotel, this week will be a colorful one, the calendar being filled with a number of interesting and varied events. Monday was marked by the annual brilliant Washington's Birthday dinner-dance.

The morning "coffee" given on the club terrace this week, preceding the swimming hour, proved so successful that it is to be made a regular weekly feature for the remainder of the season. Special plans were made for the observance of Washington's Birthday in the children's playroom which is a successful innovation of club and hotel life this winter.

Inspired by the full February moon, members of the riding contingent of the Miami Biltmore Country Club have been enjoying a series of moonlight rides, ending with barbecues under the palms. The picturesque trails around the club provide an ideal setting for this diversion.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Curtiss James, who have arrived for the remainder of the season at Four-Way Lodge, their winter place here, were first of the owners of private estates to aid a project of the Riverside Garden Club by opening the lodge grounds and gardens to public inspection under supervision of the garden club.

Fees collected through this inspection of the gardens of Four-Way Lodge and sums to be collected from similar inspections will be applied to the fund being raised by the club for the establishment of a playground for children and a park for the use of residents of the Riverside section of Miami.

Visits to other estates will be on Wednesdays, the list including the Star Island estate of Calvin P. Bentley; Miraflores, the estate of Mrs. Benjamin F. Tobin, on February 24; Terradella, Miami Beach estate of Mrs. Elliott F. Shepard, on March 2; Villa Serena, former estate of the late William Jennings Bryan, in Coconut Grove, on March 9; estate of Dr. David Fairchild, Coconut Grove, on March 16; estate of Frank P. Gephart, of Miami, on March 23; bay-front estate of Dr. Charles Torrey Simpson on March 30.

Arrivals at the Roney Plaza Hotel include Miss Helen Sondra Brown and Miss Pauline Wallace, Mrs. O. H. Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. G. Richard Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Judson, Miss Belle Armstrong and Mr. and Mrs. Neville Harte, all of New York.

News of the Skyways

HAT is believed by aviation officials to be the world's busiest air line is in operation between Miami and Havana with America's two largest air transport planes in operation. The American and Caribbean Clipper, 40-passenger flying boats, carried a total of 1,344 air travelers between Miami and the Cuban capital in the past 30 days of their operation. The time required for the trip is approximately the same as a drive by automobile from Palm Beach to Miami.

Many notables in the Palm Beach district this season are making their side trips by air. Among those travelling by Pan-American Airways to Nassau or Havana, Mexico or points in the West Indies, Central or South America are: Mr. and Mrs. Bolton Mallory; Colleen Moore; Mrs. Joseph Widener, of Palm Beach, wife of the owner of Hialeah's famous racing plant; Mrs. Walter Winchell, wife of the noted columnist; Mr. and Mrs. Seward Crosser, New York banker; Mr. and Mrs. H. Debuchi, Japanese ambassador in Washington, and Orestes Ferrera, Cuban ambassador to Washington; Mr. and Mrs. D. Compton, of New York and Miami Beach. Mr. Compton is vice president of the Majestic Radio Corporation. They chartered a tri-motored Pan-American airliner for the trip from Miami to Jacksonville for a hurried trip to Dartmouth College, where their son was seriously ill.

Other distinguished air travelers included Mr. and Mrs. Eugene V. Homans, of Englewood, N. J., and Miami Beach, who made a flying honeymoon trip to Nassau. Mr. Homans is a well known golfer, having been runner-up to Bobby Jones at the age of 20; Robert H. Mayo, London England, consulting engineer with Imperial Airways.

From Miami a few days ago hopped off the distinguished flier, Capt. Louis Yancey, in his autogyro. He headed for Key West and Havana, where he was greeted by President Machado and 200 Cuban soldiers celebrating the arrival of the first autogyro on Cuban soil. Later Captain Yancey put his windmill ship across the straits of Yucatan to Merida, Mexico, and Mexico City. The noted flier is a frequent visitor in Palm Beach and Miami.

In a Month of Sun Days

* There is nothing sadder than the minor tragedies that can ruin an otherwise happy holiday. Sunburn that stings the joy of living away. Freckles that make it impossible to wear your loveliest gown. A tan...if you're going in for one...that goes ombré when it shouldn't. These are the things that spoil your fun, and they can so easily be avoided if taken in time...or corrected. Elizabeth Arden has the solution.

* Regular visits to Miss Arden's Salon will keep you uniformly tan or uniformly un-tan, as you prefer. Your skin will be kept in condition so that the sun cannot coarsen it and rob it of its smoothness.

* And your shoulders, back and arms will be given their share of attention so that all of you that is visible is equally lovely. Please telephone for an appointment. Palm Beach 8924...Miami Beach 5-2830.

* Miss Arden urges the daily use of her Ideal Sunburn Oil to prevent burn and blisters and to assure even tanning. New case, $6.

SOCIETY OF ARTS

MYRA HESS, considered by many critics to be the foremost woman pianist of the world today, will play before the Society of Arts at the next concert in its series, which will be given at the Everglades Club on Monday evening, February 29. Miss Hess has been acclaimed abroad; takes great delight in playing for American audiences, as, she says, they are always inspirational. "There is an appreciable difference between audiences here and abroad," she affirms.

"In Europe those who attend musical affairs are tradition-bound—by that I mean they know music because they have been brought up on it. For centuries music abroad has been a part of one's schooling and environment, hence concert-goers are able to discriminate between what is according to tradition and what is not. Every artist recognizes this status, but in this country, most of the music-lovers know nothing about tradition because tradition is a matter of long periods of time. The interesting thing about this wholesome unsophistication is its genuineness and the admirable attitude of all toward old-world art which they enjoy emotionally and aesthetically. I have been amazed at the comprehensive powers of American audiences no matter where I find them and more—these folks are real music-lovers and, being free from tradition and supererudition are able to appraise a composition at true value. It is a joy to play for Americans. They stimulate one to give emotional readings and to set forth the ideal rather than the structural content. They are inspirational and it is most gratifying to play for them."

MISS MYRA HESS
ranked among foremost woman pianists, will play at the Society of Arts concert on February 29.

COTTAGE COLONY SOCIETY LIFE

WITH the season's peak being reached in February, social affairs are more elaborate and more numerous than during the early and late part of the winter, and an event which assembled one of the largest gatherings of social leaders, was a dinner given at Patio Lamaze by Mrs. William Randolph Hearst, of New York, who has been passing several weeks with Capt. and Mrs. R. Amcotts Wilson. Miniature orange trees, sweet peas and crimson carnations decorated tables for ten at which guests were seated. Vari-colored balloons and noise makers added to the festive spirit, and special entertainment features were provided for the occasion. The Patio Lamaze orchestra played for dancing in the grill. Among those who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Carstairs, Capt. R. Amcotts Wilson and Mrs. Wilson, Sir Humphrey de Trafford and Lady de Trafford, Mr. and Mrs. George D. Widener, Mr. and Mrs. Peter A. B. Widener II, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Somers Roche, Mr. and Mrs. John Barry Ryan, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Meade L. Barr, Mr. and Mrs. John Hay Whitney, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Myers, Mr. and Mrs. M. Dorland Doyle, Mr. and Mrs. J. Gordon Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas W. Paige, Mr. and Mrs. Quentin F. Feitner, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Fatio, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pulitzer, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. F. McCann, Mrs. George A. Dixon, Jr., Mrs. J. Henry Alexandre, Mrs. Lucius P. Ordway, Mrs. John Gaston, Mrs. Dodge Sloane, Mrs. Joshua S. Cosden, Mrs. Reginald Boardman, Mrs. Sydney Emlen Hutchinson, Mrs. David Dows, and the Misses Frances S. Hutchinson, Alice Fair McCulloch, Sarah Jane Sanford. Also Mr. Joseph E. Widener, Mr. Frederick Lewisohn, Mr. Howard Maxwell, Mr. Charles M. Amory, Mr. Lawrence Waterbury, Mr. George Eastman, Maj. Thomas Bouch, Maj. J. C. O. Marriott, Mr. Mr. Edward T. Stotesbury, Mr. James H. R. Cromwell, Mr. Herbert A. Scheftel, Mr. Stuart S. Scheftel, Mr. William Taylor and Maj. Pryce Harrison.

The lovely patio of Commodore and Mrs. Vincent Bloss Ward's villa on Brazilian Avenue provided the setting for a luncheon given last week in honor of Mme. Katherine Enos, of Nice, and Mrs. Russell Fortune, of Indianapolis, who visited Mrs. Karl Dolge, of Sea Breeze Avenue. More than 50 guests were seated at little tables under the trees, and after luncheon an orchestra played for dancing on the outdoor floor.

Joining the cottage colony this year are Mr. and Mrs. Guy A. Thomas, who recently arrived from their home in Minneapolis, Minn., to occupy a villa on Golf View Road. They have been wintering in Palm Beach for many seasons, but in the past usually resided at the Everglades Club, where they entertained lavishly. Last summer Mr. and Mrs.

Thomas were members of the large Palm Beach coterie who traveled in Europe. Guy A. Thomas, Jr., will come down from Williams College during the Easter vacation period to join his family here.

Mrs. Henry R. Rea entertained at Lagomar, her magnificent villa facing the sea, inviting many of her friends to a buffet supper on Sunday night.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. J. Terry West, of Villa Tramonto, are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wadley Raoul, who have been extensively feted at clubs as well as in the cottage colony since arriving.

* * * *

Among dinner parties which have marked the past fortnight was one given by Mrs. A. Atwater Kent at Ocean View Cottage for her house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Howard Ellison, of Philadelphia. Among others who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fitz Gerald, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. F. McCann, Mr. and Mrs. George Luke Mesker, Mr. and Mrs. Charlton Yarnall and Mr. and Mrs. George G. McMurtry.

Miss Frances Hutchinson, who, with her mother, Mrs. Sydney Emlen Hutchinson, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury at El Mirasol, was honored at a tea given recently by Mr. James H. R. Cromwell at his Lake-side villa. Among the large number of winter colonists who attended were Mr. Jules S. Bache, Mr. Vincent Bendix, Mr. John L. de Ruyter, Mrs. George A. Dixon, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. M. Dorland Doyle, Miss Billie Dove, Mrs. William Randolph Hearst, Miss Antoinette Johnson, Miss Alice Fair McCulloch, Miss Helen Menken, Mr. J. Theus Munds, Miss Colleen Moore, Mrs. Lucius Pond Ordway, Miss Harriet Parsons, Mr. Thomas W. Potter, Miss Sarah Jane Sanford, Mr. Herbert Scheftel, Mr. Stuart Scheftel, Col. Clarence M. Young, Miss Mary Brown Warburton, Mr. and Mrs. Peter A. B. Widener II, and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. George D. Widener, Lord Humphrey de Trafford and Lady de Trafford and Maj. Thomas Bouch; Capt. and Mrs. R. Amcotts Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. John Hay Whitney, Mr. and Mrs. Meade L. Barr, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Somers Roche, Mr. William Taylor, Mr. Charles Minot Amory, Mr. Walter Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. David Hugh McCulloch, Mr. and Mrs. Quentin F. Feitner, Miss Marguerite Brokaw, Mrs. Hutchinson and Mr. Stotesbury.

Luncheons, teas and dinner parties have made February a gala month for winter vacationists, elaborate and formal functions alternating with more intimate affairs to keep hosts and guests alike enamoured with America's favorite playground. One of the larger affairs of the month was a dinner

Additions to the Chicago contingent in the cottage colony include Mr. and Mrs. Olaf N. Tevander, their son, Nelson; daughter, Eleanor, and her house guest, Miss Jeanne Smith. They are occupying Villa Filipponi on Clarke Avenue after a fortnight's stay at the Breakers. The Tevanders have been wintering in Palm Beach for several years, where they have acquired a large circle of friends.

A large and distinguished audience attended the tenth annual song recital given last week by Bernardo Olshansky, Russian baritone, at the ocean-front villa of Mrs. Margery Durant. The program presented was prepared by singer for his New York appearance at Town Hall on March 13. The organ in Mrs. Durant's home was used in obligato with several selections. Mr. Olshansky's yearly musical offerings have become an integral feature of the winter entertainment program, and an enthusiastic audience is always present to hear him. Last summer he gave his tenth annual summer recital at the home of Mrs. James Parish Lee in Southampton, L. I. Those who patronized the event last week were Mrs. John Shepard, Jr., Mrs. Henry Seligman, Mrs. George Alexander McKinlock, Mrs. Edward Randolph, Mrs. Edward Balbach, Mrs. David Hugh McCulloch, Mrs. Lorenzo E. Woodhouse, Mrs. Henry Morgan Tilford, Mrs. George A. Dobyne, Mrs. John Charles Thomas, Mrs. George Luke Mesker, Mrs. John E. Dana, Mrs. Bernard H. Kroger, Mrs. George Warren Fuller, Mrs. Emil J. Prominent in social circles are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shipman Payson, of New York and Manhasset, L. I., who recently joined the cottage colony. They have taken over Louwana, the Gurnee Munn villa on the ocean front, which Mr. and Mrs. John Hay Whitney occupied for a few weeks before sailing on Friday for England, where they will attend the Grand National. Mrs. Payson was formerly Joan Whitney, and when here in the past she and Mr. Whitney occupied the Tilney villa on Via La Selva.

Mrs. Harry Norment, of Washington, D. C., is arriving today to pass a fortnight with Mrs. Peyton J. Van Rensselaer, at Casa Rosada del Lago, on South Lake Trail.

The fourth lecture in the Current Events series, of which Mrs. John R. Bryden is director, will be given on Wednesday, February 24, at La Fontana, the beautiful ocean-front Italian villa of Mr. and Mrs. George Luke Mesker. The Hon. Joseph Montague Kenworthy, R. N., will address subscribers and their guests on the subject "Will Civilization Crash?"

Commander Kenworthy was born in 1886 and is the eldest son of Lord Strabolgi, and heir to the title and peerage which dates from the fourteenth century. His ancestors trace their descent to David I of Scotland.

He entered the Navy in 1903, saw service in China, the East Indies and Africa, and commanded H. M. S. Bullfinch for the first 18 months of the war. Later he became assistant chief of staff at Gibraltar. At the Admiralty he was liason officer between Operations Division and Admiral Sims' staff. He is a student of naval strategy, of world affairs, of international law at sea, and is a very convincing and eloquent speaker.

TASTES AND TOILETTES

IF THE modern woman should be cast away on a desert island with nothing for clothing but gunny sacks, in which she would snip one hole for her neck and two for her arms, she would still be able to follow one of the newest dictates of fashion—she could make the armholes look just like those of the newest Paris frocks! We have become used to armholes that resemble those made with one snip of the shears in our first doll's dresses, that make a little cap sleeve over the top of the arm. Then there is the armhole shaped like a primitive arch, rounded over the shoulder and square at the bottom. And now the latest armhole is triangular with the point at the shoulder tip, and a great sensation it has been in Paris, where it was an amusing and highly interesting feature of the spring collection of one of the great houses.

If a sleeve is wanted in one of these triangular armholes, it too is triangular, sometimes in two colors, and it is seen in both sports and evening dresses.

Mrs. Alfred G. Kay, of Casa Ananda on South Ocean Boulevard, wore a silk pajama costume while supervising work in the Spanish Street at the Flower Show last week. Thin white stripes ran diagonally across a brown background on the trousers, and vertically down the hip-length jacket.

* * * *

Coming down the steps of Whitehall last week, before leaving for Nassau, Mrs. James P. Donahue created a striking picture in a black and white linen pajama ensemble worn with an immense black hat that offered ample protection from the brilliant sunlight. A bolero jacket topped very full trousers.

* * * *

Miss Edith Clarke, of Rye, N. Y., one of the most attractive members of the younger set at the New Palm Beach Hotel, belongs to the vast assemblage of maidens who prefer white for evening wear. On a recent occasion she was noted in a white satin frock, cut very low in the back with side revers banded in sable-hued fur.

* * * *

Black sequin cap sleeves, matching a tiny evening hat, added a piquant note to the white crepe roma evening dress worn by Mrs. Sidney Smith at a Sunday night dinner-dance at the Everglades Club.

* * * *

Mrs. Edward Shearson, of Villa Flora, on Dunbar Road, chose a white silk sports dress with a long sleeved jacket one morning last week, when she came down to act as hostess in the Flower Show headquarters in the conservatory of the Royal Poinciana. White shoes of finely woven linen and tipped with kid, were worn with beige mesh stockings, and a Madonna blue hat of shiny straw completed the ensemble.

* * * *

* * * *

Mrs. Frederic Foster Carey, of Villa Vinca on Sea Spray Avenue, wore a business-like brown and white silk dress for the busy days that preceded the Flower Show, white stripes zig-zagging against a brown background. A woven brown leather belt indicated the waist line. A small white straw hat completed the costume.

* * * *

Mrs. George A. Dobyne, of Casa Beata, threw a long red velvet wrap around her shoulders while dining in the Orange Garden last week, covering an ivory satin evening dress made with a cowl neck. Red shoes repeated the color of the wrap.

* * * *

Mrs. Julien Allen, of Paris, who visited Capt. and Mrs. R. Amcotts Wilson on South Ocean Boulevard, appeared recently in a pajama costume of narrow masculine trousers of marine jersey with a light blue jacket and blouse for a contrast. A pompom tam of pale blue crochet and French barefoot sandals completed the outfit.

* * * *

Miss Eleanor Tevander, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Tevander, of the cottage colony, is fond of a beach costume composed of a plaid cotton blouse with a deeply notched collar with white sailcloth slacks which are cuffed creased and belted. Espadrilles and a white beret are smart accessories.

* * * *

* * * *

Mrs. Reed Albee, of New York and the Breakers, dined at the Patio Marguery the other evening and wore a stunning evening gown of lustrous black satin with a deep yoke effect of heavy white lace. An accompanying coat fastened with jeweled clips high in the front and a wrap-around turban of black satin completed the costume.

* * * *

* * * *

* * * *

Mrs. Louis F. Reed, Jr., of Orange and New York, was noted among the dancers at the Everglades Club the other evening, wearing a strikingly lovely printed dinner frock, fashioned with a deep back decolletage with a circular ruffle covering her shoulders. A square jeweled buckle of rubies and red satin and suede sandals completed her costume.

* * * *

Mrs. Joseph E. Higgins, of Sea Breeze Avenue, was a dinner guest at the Patio Marguery recently. She wore a sheer black gown, cut en princess with the pleated ruches forming a deep full border and outlining the armholes of the jacket which buttoned over at the waistline.

FOURTH ANNUAL FLOWER SHOW

THE Fourth Annual Flower Show held from February 19-21 at the Royal Poinciana Hotel, in the conservatory and on the adjacent grounds for the outside exhibits; in a glass house for rare and valuable material; and in the north lounge for table displays and shadow boxes, was the most interesting of all the exhibitions which have been held in the resort under the auspices of the Garden Club of Palm Beach and the Gardeners Association.

* * * *

Crowds who attended from this community, as well as those coming from other parts of the state, voiced wholehearted appreciation of the work accomplished by Mrs. George Alexander McKinlock, president of the Garden Club, and members, who worked arduously for the success of the show. While economy was emphasized this year, experience gained from three previous shows, and the enthusiasm and industry of those concerned, combined to make the event a notable one.

* * * *

The Show opened at two o'clock, following a luncheon held at Lagomar, the home of Mrs. Henry R. Rea, on the ocean front, for members of the club and a large number of guests. On the Flower Show committee were: Mrs. George Alexander McKinlock, chairman; Mr. Alfred G. Kay, treasurer. Executive committee of the Garden Club of Palm Beach: Mrs. Henry R. Rea, Mrs. Alfred G. Kay, Mrs. Willey L. Kingsley, Mrs. Robert Glendinning, Mrs. Adam G. Thomson, Mrs. John S. Phipps. Executive committee of Gardeners Association of Palm Beach: J. K. Brower, A. C. Jordahn, E. Glazier, J. F. Riley, E. E. Sheldon, Francis Wedge. Harry Burton, general manager.

* * * *

* * * *

The Garden Club of Palm Beach is now a member of the National Garden Club of America, and this year will make its first entry in the Flower Show to be held at the Grand Central Palace in New York. A model gas station designed by W. R. Johnson will be entered in the Billboard and Roadside booth.

At a meeting of the Garden Club to be held Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John S. Pillsbury on Banyan Road, Mrs. George Alexander McKinlock will present the president's medal to Mrs. Henry R. Rea, Mrs. John S. Phipps and Mrs. Alfred G. Kay, for outstanding work in the Flower Show. Mrs. Kay designed the medal, a picture of which appears on this page.

Mrs. Frederic Foster Carey was chairman of the Junior Garden Club exhibit of native material, assisted by Mrs. Lorenzo E. Woodhouse and Mrs. C. B. Chace. Mrs. John S. Pillsbury had charge of the display of table arrangements, and Mrs. Alfred G. Kay headed the committee which arranged the Spanish Street.

* * * *

Beyond the entrance patio, and lining the northern side of the conservatory, was a series of wall fountains, entered by members of the Garden Club. The fountains were for indoor or patio use, and filled a space seven feet wide and five feet deep. Exhibits were made by Mrs. Lorenzo E. Woodhouse, Mrs. Alfred G. Kay, from the estate of the Hon. Mrs. Frederick E. Guest, and by Mrs. Christopher D. Smithers.

* * * *

One of the most effective displays in the wall fountain class was that made by Mrs. Lorenzo E. Woodhouse, of Quinta Marina, on Singer Place. It was a replica of a Madeira garden, made from a sketch which Mrs. Woodhouse drew herself. Shrubbery surrounded the base of the fountain which was of brown tile, and bougainvillea vine covered the back wall.

Far less formal, but equally charming was the exhibit made by Mrs. Christopher D. Smithers, of Pelican Point, Delray. In the limited space allotted to exhibitors, she had created a rockery in the woods, with a pine tree bending gracefully over a running brook.

Border planting against a fence or wall, was a new and interesting feature this year, open only to members of the Garden Club and the Gardeners Association. Mrs. Paul Moore, Mrs. Charles E. F. McCann, Mrs. Horace H. Work, Mrs. David Hugh McCulloch and Mrs. William G. Warden competed in this class. Arrangements were placed opposite the fruit and vegetable stalls in the Spanish Street in the west wing of the conservatory.

In the Golden Rose competition, the arrangement of swamp and tropical growth with jungle effects from the Hugh Dillman estate, was one of the most effective. Exhibits were also made from the estate of Mrs. Willey Lyon Kingsley, Chester Bolton, Dudley Blossom, Hugh Dillman, Mrs. James P. Donahue, the Hon. Mrs. Frederick Guest, Edward F. Hutton, Alfred G. Kay, Edward Small Moore, Henry C. Phipps, John S. Phipps, Mrs. Henry R. Rea, Wiley R. Reynolds, John Sanford, Christopher D. Smithers, Edward Lowber Welsh, Harrison Williams, Edward T. Stotesbury, the Town of Palm Beach and the Gulf Stream Club.

The valentine motif was particularly pronounced at the second of the series of "Imperial" dances held at the Waldorf Astoria last week.

The cloth of gold tablecloths, which were created for the Imperial Dances given every Monday evening in the Empire Room for the benefit of the Social Service Bureau of Bellevue Hospital, were used again, and at each table was a vase with deep red roses. Hundreds of small red illuminated stars were suspended from the ceiling, and the room was decorated with large gold and red hearts, illuminated from the back. A sixteenth century red velvet hanging, decorated with the arms of the Duke d'Albinara, was hung on one of the walls, and the balconies were decorated with gold smilax, while a shower of red and gold balloons was suspended from the ceiling in the center of the room.

The entertainment program included an Albertina Rasch ballet, "Cupid" Ainsworth of Hollywood, Mme. Valia Valentinova, Irene and Mario, and Eduardo Brito, the Cuban tenor. Don Alberto and his tango orchestra played tangos and Nat Brandywynne and his orchestra furnished the music for general dancing.

Mrs. Charles Morgan is chairman of the patroness' committee for this series of dances and the patronesses are Mrs. Graham Fair Vanderbilt, Mrs. W. Deering Howe, Mrs. Richard Whitney, Mrs. E. Marshall Field, Miss Ruth Vanderbilt Twombly, Mrs. Ogden Phipps, Mrs. Oliver Iselin, Mrs. Henry G. Gray, Mrs. Wendell P. Blagden, Mrs. George D. Widener, Mrs. E. Gerry Chadwick, Mrs. Lucius Boomer, Mrs. Robert Stevens, Miss Ruth Morgan, Mrs. Benjamin Moore, Mrs. Fulton Cutting and Mrs. Philip Boyer.

The Livingstons, Murrys, Morrisises, Van Courtlandts, Pells and other families whose names have been social landmarks in the affairs of New York for many generations are represented by participants in the fifth historical pageant, scheduled for the evening of February 24 at Town Hall, under the auspices of the historical committee. The special committee formed to perfect the arrangement, and headed by Mrs. Schuyler N. Warren, has titled the nine scenes and play which compose the program "Honor to Washington."

The pageant deals principally with the events surrounding America's first President, his arrival from Mount Vernon, the inaugural and the brilliant ball subsequently given for Washington by the French Ambassador, Comte de Moustier, in his residence opposite Bowling Green.

Mr. James Duane Livingston is to represent his famous ancestor, Chancellor Livingston, in the tableau depicting Washington taking the oath of office on the balcony of Federal Hall. Mrs. James Duane Livingston, who appears in several scenes as Martha Washington, is a great granddaughter of Marianna Channing, of Rhode Island, whose husband, Lieutenant Channing, was one of Washington's aides. She also is descended from Sir George Pell and from Admiral Tristram Coffin. Historic pictures are being used as the basis of several accurately reproduced costumes of the Colonial period, which Mrs. Livingston is to wear. The Livingston family is also to be represented by Mrs. Reginald McVitty, the former Miss Honoria Livingston, and by her sister, Miss Janet Livingston.

Prominent as a guest at the French Ambassador's function is Miss Charlotte A. Van Cortlandt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Van Cortlandt, whose family has been active in New York affairs for many generations. The Van Cortlandts formerly occupied the historic home still preserved in Van Cortlandt Park. They are descendants of Oloff Stevense Van Cortlandt, who came to America in the vessel which brought Governor Kieft here in 1638.

In the minuet, which is danced to music specially composed in Washington's honor, appears among others, Miss Madeline Mason-Manheim, a granddaughter of Mrs. Peter Sloat, of Sloatsburg, N. Y. A grandniece of Admiral Sloat, she is descended also from Gen. Gozen Van Schaick, who served on General Washington's staff, and from Sir John Mason, of Middlesex, England. Miss Alice Vanderbilt Morris also will dance in the minuet.

The marriage of Miss Jean Regan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Regan, of Old Westbury, L. I., to Mr. Regan McKinney, eldest son of Mrs. Price McKinney, which took place recently, came as a surprise to all but members of the two families and a few intimate friends, since no formal announcement of an engagement had been made. Owing to the illness of the bride's father, the wedding took place at the residence of Mrs. Henry Wainwright Howe, at 22 East Thirty-sixth Street. Chief Justice Frederic Kernochan of the Court of Special Sessions, and long a friend of the Regan family, performed the ceremony.

Mr. Henry W. Bull served as witness for the bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Gordon Regan. Mr. Price McKinney was best man for his brother. After the ceremony Mr. McKinney, his bride and the wedding party visited the bride's father, who is recuperating at Roosevelt Hospital after a surgical operation.

Among those at the wedding, in addition to Mrs. Regan and Mrs. McKinney, were Mrs. Gregory McIntosh, the former Miss Elizabeth McKinney, sister of the bridegroom; Miss Constance Regan, the bride's sister; Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Barklie McKee Henry, Mr. and Mrs.

James Simpson, Mrs. Waterbury Morris and Miss Bay Morris.

Mr. and Mrs. McKinney will leave soon for a trip to the Hawaiian Islands. Both are expert riders, Mr. McKinney ranking next to Mr. George Herbert Bostwick in the amateur ranks. He owns a stable of thoroughbreds.

A colonial costume ball in celebration of the bicentennial anniversary of Washington's birthday was held at the Lido Club on Saturday evening. An old fashioned cotillion opened the program, which included the presentation of a group of tableaux, with members of the club representing some of the historic characters in costumes of the period. There was also a group of dances, including a quadrille and gavotte.

Among those making reservations for the Colonial Ball were Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Stephens, Mr. and Mrs. Everett E. Meyer, Miss Louise Marock, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mullen, Mr. and Mrs. Edmond R. de Castillo, Mr. and Mrs. A. Oliver Lynch, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Farrell, Mr. and Mrs. Willard A. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Rainier, Mr. and Mrs. H. Starr Giddings, Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus H. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey B. Davison, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rhame, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Schell, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Taylor, Mr. William M. F. Magraw, Mr. S. Dalby Stonebraker, Mr. J. Bruce Robertson and Mrs. Louis Perkins Chadwick.

The Abstract Ball which will be held at the Hotel Plaza on Friday evening, March 11, under the patronage of Contemporary Arts, will be the first of an annual series of artists costume balls, conceived along the lines of similar balls in European capitals, according to an announcement by Miss Emily A. Francis, president of Contemporary Arts.

Although the second Contemporary Arts ball, the Abstract Ball will be the first event to involve all the arts as well as society. On the various committees, which are actively engaged in promoting the affair, are the names of outstanding leaders in art, music, literature, the stage and the screen, radio and society. All these committees are working jointly under the general direction of Miss Lucy Mason, the ball director, and Mme. Majeska, who is the artistic director.

Proceeds from the ball will be used to introduce comparatively unknown artists to New York, thus directly furthering the original purpose of Contemporary Arts. The organization was founded by Miss Francis and others in order to promote talented new artists, to give them a public hearing and to start them on their careers. Last year's ball alone made possible the introduction of six painters, one sculptor, a singer and a group of dancers.

A jury of distinguished artists will be selected from the art committee, which is headed by John Sloan, to award prizes on the personality of the costumes. The social committee, headed by Miss Francis, includes Mr. and Mrs. George D. Ali, Mrs. Joel D. Barber, Rear Admiral and Mrs. Reginald Belknap, Count and Countess Fumasoni Biondi, Capt. R. Henderson-Bland, Count and Countess di Castagnola, Mrs. Percy Colson, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Dupont, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Emmet, Mr. Hector Fuller, Mrs. William Averell Harriman, Mrs. Maylin Hamilton, Mrs. Dunlap Hopkins, Mrs. Lawrence Jacob, Mrs. R. Morley Kennerley, Mrs. James Lees Laidlaw, Miss Isabel Lowden, Mme. Naardyn Lyska, Mr. and Mrs. Levin R. Marshall, Baron and Baroness Marincola, Dr. and Mrs. Seth M. Milliken, Dr. and Mrs. Junius

H. McHenry, Mrs. Eugene W. Ong, Mrs. Kenneth A. Patterson, Mrs. Eugene Cowles Pomeroy, Mrs. William H. Rankin, Mrs. Helen B. Reynolds, Mr. Walter Russell, Duchess de Richelieu, Mme. Viola Gramm-Salzedo, Miss Lila Agnew Stewart, Mrs. Richard Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Parker Stockbridge, Miss Lucille Thornton, Mrs. James A. Thomas, Mrs. Henry Wolcott Warner, Mr. and Mrs. Alan F. Winslow and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parkinson Wood.

Celebrated Russian artists now living in New York were present at the second of a series of teas which was held recently at the Hotel Chatham, to launch the second season of the Russian Opera Foundation.

One new opera, "Coq d'Or," has been added to the proposed repertoire of the Russian Opera Company for its spring season in addition to "Boris Godounow" and "Khovanchina," which were presented last year.

The committee of the Russian Opera Foundation consists of H. I. H. Grand Duchess Marie of Russia, Mrs. John W. Alexander, Mr. Boris Bakhmeteff, Mr. Poultney Bigelow, Mr. Walter W. Birge, Sophie Breslau, Dr. Christian Brinton, Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, Col. William M. Chadbourne, Mr. Walter Leighton Clark, Mr. Paul D. Cravath, Mrs. James Cushman, Mrs. Edgar Northrope Dickson, Princess Simon C. Sidamon Eristoff, Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson, Theresa Helburn, Maj. Stanley H. Howe, Mrs. Joseph Howland Hunt, Mrs. Otto H. Kahn, Mrs. Adolf Ladenburg, Judge and Mrs. Julian W. Mack, Mrs. Edith Morgan, Prince Alexis Obolensky, Prince Serge Obolensky, Maria Ouspenskaya, Mr. and Mrs. George D. Pratt, Col. Francis L. Robbins, Jr., Mrs. Gino Speranza, Mr. William M. Sullivan, and Mr. Allen Wardwell.

Wide interest was evinced in the announcement recently of the engagement of Miss Dorothea McVickar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. McVickar, to Mr. Robert Baxter, of New York, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baxter, of Montreal.

Miss McVickar, who is making her home at 45 Fifth Avenue, was educated in Paris, where she has passed the greater part of her life, her parents having lived abroad for many years. She is a sister of Mrs. Frazier Bartholomay Jelke, whose marriage took place in Baltimore last August; of Mrs. Nelson Fell, of Warrenton, Va.; of Mr. John A. McVickar, of Buffalo; of Mr. Edward S. J. McVickar 2d, of this city, and of Rolf McVickar, who is but seven years of age, and who is with his parents in Paris.

The bride-elect is a great-granddaughter of the late Mr. Edward S. Jaffray, a leading merchant of this city of his day; a granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James McVickar, of this city and Brookside, Ardsley-on-Hudson, and a grandniece of the late Rt. Rev. Nelson McVickar, Bishop of Rhode Island. Messrs. Noel McVickar, James McVickar and Edward S. J. McVickar, of this city, are her uncles, and she is related to many old New York families, among them the Herbert Claiborne Pells, by whom her sister, now Mrs. Jelke, was introduced to society last summer in Newport.

Mr. Baxter is a brother of Mrs. E. Sanderson Child, who is divorced from Richard Washburn Child, one-time Ambassador to Italy, and of Mr. W. R. E. Baxter, of Long Island. He studied at Cornell University and in England. While no definite date has been decided upon for the wedding, he and his bride will make their home in this city following their return from their wedding trip.

SOUTH FLORIDA GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

ALBERT R. HAKES, Dunkirk, N. Y., youngest member of the Old Guard Society of Palm Beach Golfers, won the Annual South Florida Championship, defeating R. M. Steffan, Buffalo, by the wide margin of 8 and 7. Hakes and Steffan have met one another in tournament play before, Hakes defeating Steffan in the western New York amateur in 1930 and Steffan winning from him, 1 up, last summer in Buffalo.

Hakes played some of the best golf of his career in the afternoon round, taking the first four holes with 3's and the remaining five holes with 4's; his score at the turn being 32, three under par, as against Steffan's 39. The match ended on the eleventh hole when Steffan landed his approach shot in a clump of brush and overshot his next one into a trap on the other side of the green, then proceeded to dub the ball. Hakes made the hole in a 3, his second shot on the green and his last, a beautiful long putt, plunking right into the cup.

Steffan ran into hard luck during the afternoon when his pitch shot on the second hole went into a tree and stayed there, forcing him to take a 5 on the hole. After losing the first and second, he continued to lose the third and fourth, evened the fifth and lost the sixth when his drive landed in the trees and forced a 2 to get out. He played par the next three, however, and finished three over par for the nine holes as against Hakes' 32.

The afternoon play was featured by the remarkable putting of Hakes, who took four holes as the result of 15-foot putts running straight to the cup.

The morning round was not such tight golf, Hakes turning in a 39-35-74 and Steffan totalling 40-37-77. Hakes was 1 up at the turn, when Steffan landed in a trap and took a 2 to get out, tallying 5 to Hakes' par 4. They were even to the fourth when Steffan drove out of bounds to make a 6, although he forced Hakes to shoot around a stymie for a 5. The seventh hole was a Jonah to Hakes, his second shot finding a trap and his third running over the green into a hazard opposite, causing him to take a 5 to Steffan's par 4. Steffan lost the next two, but played even with Hakes to the sixteenth when he went 3 down with a 5. The next two were halved, leaving him 3 down at the end of the morning round.

Spingold, New York, defeated C. B. O'Dell, Johnstown, N. Y., 2 and 1; F. W. Gwynne, New York, defeated George A. Eddy, Chicago, by default; E. V. Quinn, Greenwich, Conn., defeated H. S. Moody, Jr., Brookline, 7 and 5; J. Corcoran, Brockton, Mass., defeated P. R. Garrison, Upper Montclair, N. Y., 3 and 2; A. R. Hamerslag, Great Neck, L. I., defeated H. E. Ferguson, Palm Beach, 3 and 2; M. A. Carroll, Oshkosh, defeated S. B. Coxhead, Englewood, N. J., 1 up, 19 holes.

Third Flight—S. L. Feiber, New York, defeated Harry Oakes, Niagara Falls, Ont., 2 and 1; J. H. Dewsnap, White Plains, N. Y., defeated J. G. Conner, Trenton, N. J., 1 up; George T. McCarthy, Sr., Bridgeport, Conn., defeated Charles I. Morton, Brooklyn, 3 and 2; Jack Haid, Brookline, Mass., defeated George H. Keim, New York, 3 and 1; M. W. Sloan, New York, defeated B. A. Jacob, Jr., Staunton, Va., 2 up; Dr. A. R. McDougall, Chicago, defeated Michael Sholtz, New York, by default; R. C. McNeil, Bridgeport, Conn., defeated

J. J. Madden, Brockton, Mass., 1 up, 19 holes; H. C. Frentz, Mamaroneck, N. Y., defeated G. Salant, New York, by default.

Tommy Goodwin, medalist of the South Florida Championship tournament, went down to defeat at the hands of Albert R. Hakes in the second day's match play. Goodwin and Hakes played the best round of the tournament, with Hakes winning, 1 up, and handing in a card of 68, one under Goodwin's par card of 69.

C. A. Durand, Jr., of Brooklyn, N. Y., was defeated by R. M. Steffan, Buffalo, 1 up at the end of 19 holes, and Jack F. Shaw, Great Neck, L. I., who eliminated William B. Langford the day before, was in turn eliminated by William H. Hyde, Ridgeway, Pa., 2 and 1. Jack McCarthy, Boston, defeated Arthur Brown, Boston, 2 and 1.

AMONG THE PALMS

DR. AND MRS. DUDLEY ROBERTS, of New York, accompanied by their attractive daughter, Miss Carolyn Roberts, are among the guests at the Breakers Hotel. They are prominent members of the Easthampton summer colony, where Dr. Dudley and his daughter participate in the activities of the Easthampton Riding and Hunt Club. Their home at that resort is Outabounds, on Further Lane.

* * * *

Mr. Adolph Lewisohn, noted financier, art patron and philanthropist, is spending the winter months at the Breakers. Members of his party include Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ackerman and Mrs. Orland Campbel, who motored south with him, and Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Limburg, of New York, who preceded his arrival by several days. Mr. Lewisohn and his guests stopped to visit for a few days at the Bon Air Vanderbilt in Augusta, and drove over from Tampa recently. In previous visits to Palm Beach he made his headquarters at Whitehall. He has made a number of gifts in the cause of education, among them one to the Columbia University for the School of Mines Building, and the Lewisohn Stadium of City College of New York.

A distinguished visitor at the Breakers was the Hon. John North Willys, United States Ambassador to Poland. He was the honor guest at several dinner parties during his stay in the resort. Mr. Willys was appointed to his diplomatic post in 1930, and since the winter of that year has not resided in the beautiful villa on South Ocean Boulevard, which he purchased from Dr. Preston Pope Satterwhite.

Mrs. James P. Donahue, of New York, is occupying the beautiful pent-house apartment at Whitehall for several weeks. Her guests are Mrs. David Dows and Miss Evelyn Dows, of New York and Charleton Hall, Glen Head, Long Island. Mrs. Donahue was in Palm Beach during the early season and has returned for another visit. She will not open Cielito Lindo, her South Ocean Boulevard residence, this winter.

* * * *

At Whitehall also are Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Snyder, of the Berkshire, in New York, who have taken their usual lake-front suite for the season. They are prominent members of the summer colony at Allenhurst, N. J.

* * * *

Mr. Marshall Neilan, of New York, is a guest at the Mayflower Hotel. Mr. Neilan, who was one of Hollywood's first well known directors, came here from New Orleans, where he has been visiting. He plans to spend much time at his favorite sport, deep-sea fishing.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Durand, of New York, annual visitors at the Royal Poinciana with their daughter, Miss Lillian Durand, were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Celestin A. Durand, of Garden City, L. I., and their son, Celestin A. Durand, Jr., and daughter, Miss Gladys Durand. The Celestin Durands have a villa at Miami Beach and divide their time between the two resorts. Miss Lillian Durand and her cousin make frequent week-end trips to Miami.

* * * *

Mr. R. J. Johnson, of Brooklyn, a season guest at the Mayflower, keeps a boat, the "Hermit," at anchor in Lake Worth and frequently entertains at small affairs aboard it.

* * * *

Mr. Anson W. Hard, of New York, who was down earlier in the season at the Breakers, is spending several weeks at Whitehall. He has spent previous winters at Palm Beach and is an enthusiastic yachtsman, his yacht, "Avalanche," being one of the finest of the many handsome water craft in southern waters.

* * * *

Other season guests at Whitehall include Mr. and Mrs. William F. Stafford, of New York, who are occupying their usual suite of rooms overlooking the lake. Their daughter, Miss Muriel Stafford, who accompanied Mrs. Martin Sweeny south several days prior to her parents' arrival, has now joined them. The Staffords have taken cabana at the Poinciana-Breakers beach.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Brokaw and their daughters, the Misses Edna and Marguerite Brokaw, are among the socially important New Yorkers who recently arrived at the New Palm Beach Hotel to pass the balance of the season. In former years the family occupied La Peruce on Grace Trail, and they are widely acquainted in the resort. The younger daughter, Miss Marguerite Brokaw, made her bow to society at a supper-dance given by her parents at the Ritz Carlton in the winter of 1930-31. When in the north the Brokaws divide their time between their New York apartment and their estate at Oyster Bay, L. I. Among the clubs to which they belong in the south are the Gulf Stream, the Bath and Tennis and the Everglades.

Judge Robert C. O'Connell, his brother, Dr. John T. O'Connell, and their mother, Mrs. John T. O'Connell, arrived from Chicago last week for their annual sojourn at the New Palm Beach Hotel, and on this occasion were accompanied by Mrs. Camillo Volini and her attractive daughter, Miss Virginia Volini, who have been absent from Palm Beach for several seasons. In former years they were members of the cottage colony, and they have a wide circle of friends on the island.

* * * *

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. O'Brien have arrived from their home in Brooklyn, N. Y., for their annual visit to the Royal Poinciana, where they joined their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Burton E. O'Brien, and their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ferdinand J. von Sieghardt, who preceded them to the resort. Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien are among the "regulars" at the Royal Poinciana, as they have been coming here for 26 years. They have hosts of friends among the hotel guests and among the members of the cottage colony. Their visit here follows a sojourn in California, where they found the weather distinctly cold and unpleasant. In fact, they found no warm weather at all until they came to New Orleans on their way to Palm Beach. Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien will remain at the Poinciana for several weeks.

The Cocoanut Grove of the Royal Poinciana is proving more popular as the season advances. Many new people are attracted to the Grove and many of the old comers are very proud not to have missed a single tea for one, five or more seasons. Mr. Jack Hobby is always waiting to greet the guests and the obliging waiters remember the favorites tables of returning patrons of the Grove.

The Howard Lanin orchestra, directed by Jimmy Lanin, furnishes as much enjoyment for the guests who do not dance as those who do. But it is almost impossible to resist the tempting music and the large dance floor is always filled.

One of the most interesting recent parties included a group of young people who were entertained by Mrs. Budd Goodwin. Among them were Miss Helen Hicks, national woman golf champion, Miss Maureen Orcutt, also famous among nationally known golfers, Mrs. C. A. Durand, Miss Lillian Durand, Miss Helen Mitchell, Miss Dorothy Pope, Miss Emily Goodwin, Mr. John Dasso, Mr. Celest Durand, Mr. Tommy Goodwin and Mr. William Casparis. The young folks enjoyed themselves to the full in the delightful surroundings of the Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. William T. Barnum, of New Haven, Conn., entertained in the Cocoanut Grove for their granddaughter, Miss Jean Brooks Barnum, and a Brooklyn guest, Miss Margaretta Love. Mr. and Mrs. Barnum are Poinciana guests in February each year and have many friends in the resort.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. McIntyre, of Hamilton, Ontario, season guests at the Vineta Hotel, gave one of the largest and most brilliant parties of the mid-season last week, when they entertained at a tea and dance at the Patio Marguery. The affair was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Coxhead, who are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Hanson, at their Clarke Avenue villa. At dusk myriads of twinkling lights threaded in the verdant shrubbery glowed softly and turned the patio into a veritable fairyland.

Among those enjoying Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre's hospitality were: Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth C. Warner, Mr. and Mrs. James Reeves, Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Tevander, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Snyder, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Burton O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. H. Richard MacRae, Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey C. Woodworth, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Chandler, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hammerstein, Mr. and Mrs. John Dordan, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred T. Haenlein, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent B. Ward, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Hanson, Mrs. Karl Dolge, Dr. and Mrs. B. B. Sory, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Deakin, Mrs. Archibald McNeil, Mr. and Mrs. W. Jerome Pickering, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Roy MacNicol, Mrs. Edmund von Hasseln, Mrs. Catherine Legget, Mrs. John E. Good, Sr., Mrs. John E. Good, Mrs. Frank Quigley, Miss Eleanor Tevander, Miss Jeanne Smith, Mme. Katherine Enos, Mrs. Russell Fortune, Mrs. George Warren Fuller, Mrs. James C. Kane, Mrs. Nell Kendall, Mrs. Nettie Livermore, Miss Electa Baird, Mrs. John Townley, Miss Zenette Biehl, Mrs. Elsie Parsons, Mrs. William H. Cowen, Mrs. M. E. Doig, Mrs. Porte F. Quinn, Mrs. William Fish, Mrs. Pagel, Mrs. George Magill, Mrs. Charles Everly Carpenter, Mrs. Ethel Mandeville, Mrs. John Helfer, Miss Florence Carpenter, Mrs. Charles Daly, Mrs. Joseph Smith, Mr. William Ruland, Mr. Leo Williams, Mr. Ralph Dodson, Mr. Frederick Karelson, Mr. Reginald H. Murray, Count de Siles, Mr. George Farnum, V. A. Z. Lahargou, Mr. W. G. Wilson, Mr. Cleland van Dresser, Capt. Byron Tate, Mr. John L. Volk, Mr. John Lauther, Mr. Harry Lee Creary, Mr. Howard Kemp, Mr. Lewis Horton, Mr. Vincent Mulford and others.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hopkins, of Baltimore, season guests at the Breakers, were joined recently by Mr. and Mrs. Albert D. Graham, also of Baltimore, who came down to spend a few days here before going to Havana to join friends on a cruise to Kingston, Jamaica, and Nassau. Mr. Graham is prominent in financial circles and chairman of the board of the First National Bank of Baltimore. During their visit Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins gave a dinner-dance for them at the Everglades Club.

* * * *

Mr. J. F. McElwain, of Boston, and his attractive daughter, Miss Mary McElwain, are among the New Englanders spending several weeks enjoying the sunshine and diversions of Palm Beach. Mr. McElwain is a well known manufacturer. Miss Alma Bird, of Boston, came down from the north last week to join Mr. McElwain and his daughter.

* * * *

An interesting foursome wintering at the Breakers includes Mr. and Mrs. John E. Carpenter and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Horton, of New York. They have been annual visitors for a number of years and have scores of friends here. Mrs. Carpenter and Mrs. Horton are sisters.

* * * *

Mr. Richards Vidmer, sports writer of the New York Herald-Tribune, came down to visit Palm Beach during the Artists and Writers golf tournament. Mr. and Mrs. James M. Neville, of Philadelphia, were also at the Royal Poinciana with that talented group. The Nevilles were members of the cottage colony last season and Mr. Neville spent many hours in writing, finding the atmosphere of the resort most conducive to literary work.

IT WAS ONCE PRIMITIVE

WE DROVE about seven miles from the Breakers, along the ocean front, to within a scant mile of the inlet. We passed palatial winter homes with acres of carefully landscaped grounds, rounded the Country Club thronged with the early afternoon group of enthusiasts dressed in the latest sport clothes. We peeped at the walled-in architectural beauties of the Dillman place, curved around the old Rodman Wanamaker house that turns its back disdainfully upon the County Road, preferring to put behind it the hustle and bustle of the world to face, in dignified seclusion, the beauties of the friendly, gossipless, iridescent ocean and on up high above the beach along the break-watered road.

We saw a good deal of the Palm Beach that is known throughout the world as the American Riviera and which has been made the beauty spot of this continent and we saw a good many of the fashionable society folk and financial wizards who have made Palm Beach what it is today and are definitely identified with it. It was the Palm Beach with which the writer has been familiar for many winters, as a mere reporter on the outside looking in, and the only Palm Beach that he thought existed. When he was told scornfully by one of the pioneers that he had been walking around with his eyes closed to much of the charm and beauty of the place, he scoffed. He knew the centers of news, the people who made the news and the people whose every action constituted news and he had seen, or thought he had, most of the charm and beauty of Palm Beach, feminine of course, at the bathing casino, the polo field, at receptions and elsewhere, so he challenged the pioneer to show him something he had not seen and the challenge was accepted.

But, to get back on the road to where we are going. Where were we? Oh, yes, on the ocean drive, approaching the inlet. Well, it seemed an odd thing for her to do but she was in charge of the expedition. So I permitted her to blindfold me. We turned in from the ocean. That was simple enough to fathom, because we lost the ocean breeze, and then soon we struck a dirt or gravel road which we followed for a few rods and then turned south.

"Well," she said. "Here we are!"

Fine, but just where are we?"

"That's for you to say when I take off your blindfold."

She removed it and the writer looked around. He has been here and there and a number of places, but never in Africa nor India, nor even in Borneo. Jungles and the wildness of places thousands of miles from civilization are unfamiliar to him. And yet—Well there he was in a jungle that might just as well have been almost anywhere in the world where jungles are the regular thing and where Palm Beach had never been heard of—and that would have to be a pretty remote place—instead of where he simply knew he must be—actually right in Palm Beach.

He looked ahead. Two sand ruts made a primitive road that stretched dimly ahead, seemingly forcing its way through resisting undergrowth and densely overhung with wild foliage, until it turned or was lost in a wilderness of bamboo, banana, banyan, mulberry and pine trees and cabbage palms.

To the left, hiding all vision for more than a few yards, he faced an impenetrable thicket or miniature forest of widely diversified growths from a single stately royal palm standing sentinel over the scene to century plants, Spanish bayonets and strange cacti with wild hibiscus, wild limes, wild pineapples and brilliant exotic flowers and drooping ferns—struggling for breathing space—and flaming vine and other creepers clinging precariously to the leaves and branches of hardwood trees, including native mahogany, ironwood and inkwood and beefwood trees—as Australians call their pines—banyans, poisonwood and hammock trees, palmettos, red bays and tangled shrubs. It was easy to believe that early settlers found bear, panther and deer here with alligators in the marsh in the middle of the jungle. Seagrape, pigeon plums and the little red berries of the banyan tree, of pleasing acid taste and somewhat like the fig of commerce, suggest food possibilities for wild life.

Waters of a placid, crystal clear lake lapped gently against coral rock, the trunks of palm and banyan trees growing partly submerged and moss-covered stones on the right, a bare six feet from the sand rut road and ten feet below its elevation. Across the lake, shimmering in the sun from a cloudless sky of cobalt blue, the site of the old fort at Riviera suggested thoughts of pirates and Spanish privateers, buried treasure and nights of ribald gayety.

It is more than merely a part of Palm Beach. It is the little bit of what is left at the end of the famous Lake Trail of Nature's raw material out of which the unmatched resort was fabricated.

Driving slowly southward with the hubs of the wheels barely missing the gnarled trunks of strange trees that seemed to protest our intrusion, turning and winding around unexpected and none too easily navigable road bends and ever careful to keep in the sand ruts to avoid disaster, we proceeded for about a mile through this endlessly interesting jungle, finding each rod of progress through this seemingly same but really changing panorama of unsullied beauty a delight to the senses.

Yes, this reporter had missed something worth while in Palm Beach and so have all those who spend their winters here and who have never made the tour of the Lake Trail from Worth Avenue to the Robert Breese estate at its northerly end. It would be best to essay it in a wheel chair because only the most northerly section is possible of vehicular passage.

Young Australian pines planted for a distance of several hundred feet on either side of a wide gravel path mark the first encroachment of civilization, although there is no house nor clearing nearby. Just below this point is the small house and the dock of a fishing club and still a little further on a couple of hundred feet of concrete walk that, with some paved side streets, is all there is of a projected residential development.

More sand road and then a grass-grown stretch and we were stopped by iron uprights closing the roadway. We got out and, walking through another pine-bordered road, reached the outskirts of an extensive estate cut out of the wilderness in 1880 by R. R. McCormick, of Chicago, first of the wealthy northerners to select Palm Beach as a place to spend the winter. Appropriately enough it is named "Reve d'ete" and is truly a dream of summer. Locally, it is called the Garden of Eden and, although it has not been occupied for years since the death of Mrs. Charles I. Cragin, into whose family it passed a long time ago, it is kept in wonderful condition by three colored gardeners. The old yellow house of Colonial architecture is in perfect repair and ready for immediate occupancy, yet the whole place stands now as only a beautiful reminder of the imagination and planning of a man who had faith in Palm Beach when it was only a very small fishing village. Here are tropical growths, trees, shrubs and flowers, indigenous to India, Japan, Australia, Africa and China with the most complete collection of cacti in the United States, the largest and finest specimens of royal palms, the largest traveler's tree, the largest Chinese fan palm and the largest screw pines and the first known to have flowered in this country, with probably the finest collection of crotons outside of a botanical garden. One of the most curious of the trees is a huge and very old banyan that has spread and dropped roots from its limbs in such a manner that its branches and roots form a perfect bridge. What remains of a substantial seawall and a still perfect yacht basin with a shrub- and flower-sprinkled lawn between the seawall and the decorative wrought iron fence of curious design show the thought expended upon the estate.

Backing the car a quarter of a mile, because there was no way of turning, to a cross trail that carried us back to the Ocean Boulevard, we drove south a way to the wide acres of A. F. Huston which have stood without house other than a caretaker's cottage but landscaped and carefully preserved for more than 20 years. We drove from the County Road down a dirt track bordered with pines and palms, suggestive of the mile-long approaches to some of the great Cuban sugar planters' mansions, which drives are lined for the full distance with tall royal palms.

When the dirt road ended, where a home may some day be built, we walked the balance of the way to the lake's edge, down a broad avenue lined with boxwood hedges recently trimmed to perfection. Just south of the Huston place is undeveloped frontage, belonging to the Dillman estate and the unoccupied Russell Hopkins house, close to the grounds of the Country Club.

A man-made trail through undergrowth of extreme density. The royal palms stand like pickets to protect the spectator from the wilderness of a pre-civilization era.

Skirting the club grounds, we next came upon the acres of Balbrook South, occupied by Mrs. Edward Balbach and Mrs. Edward Randolph, with its house high above lake level, its broad verandas overlooking a beautiful sunken garden and the lake. Then came Lake House, property of the Hon. Mrs. Frederick Guest, the property and the estate, Edgewood, of Mrs. Robert Black; Mrs. Helen H. Vail's estate, the Pillars, and Al Poniente, the Joseph Riter estate, joining the winter home of Mrs. Ashton Henry and Miss Cluett with Howard Major's Vicarage, close by.

In the earliest days of Palm Beach, when it was a winter retreat more than a resort, the pioneer northerners seeking refuge from winter weather in the balmy climate of Palm Beach, built on the lake front along the peninsular, reaching from the inlet to the present site of the Everglades Club, because on the ocean side there was only a narrow strip of coral formation. Lake Trail, the oldest road in Palm Beach, came into existence as a means of reaching those homes from the primitive ferry that landed passengers and supplies from the little village of West Palm Beach at a point near where the present ferry runs across the lake.

Land was cheap but labor was scarce and the hauling of building materials a serious problem. Vision, imagination, a dream—call it what you will—spurred the pioneers to fashion out of the forests and jungles winter estates of great landscape beauty which have been the inspiration for more recent homes elsewhere in Palm Beach and to plan and build homes that still stand as mighty good models of what a Florida home should be. When the County Road was built Lake Trail was closed to vehicular traffic and the old Indian trails leading from lake to ocean were developed into usable roads.

When we had strolled past the Duck's Nest, Michael Sholtz' El Paraiso, the John Sanford estate, Mrs. Charles McCullough's place, the Villa Utsee Wewa of James King Clarke and the lake ends of the John S. and Henry C. Phipps estates and stood with our feet almost in the lake waters on the edge of El Mirasol, the Stotesbury place, we closed our eyes upon the view of bustling West Palm Beach, across the lake, and could easily imagine bark canoes paddled by gaily painted Indians upon the calm waters, the call of wild birds behind us, the crackling of a limb as a panther dropped onto it from his noodday napping place, higher in the tree, and the crash and crunch of undergrowth as a stately bear forced his way through in search of wild honey.

Leaving our car on Wells Road, we hailed a wheel chair and made the balance of our journey south under one-boy power. Now we left behind us the old Palm Beach with its jungle wildness, charm of quiet beauty and homes nestling in retiring seclusion and plunged into sharply contrasting surroundings. We passed a big hotel with guests bustling about while others clustered on the dock awaited the arrival of their yachts and came upon a fashion center in the Beaux Arts Building, where gorgeous shops displayed styles in everything wearable a few months ahead of the rest of the world and down past the Beach Club, established in 1895 and still a charmingly lively place during the winter months, past the Poinciana and Whitehall hotels to another street of fashionable shops, Worth Avenue, where our trip ended in front of the Everglades Club.

From the Robert Breese place, at the northern end of Lake Trail, where the owner has simply walled-in and preserved an expanse of the jungle and set his home atop a miniature cliff on the edge of the lake waters, to the more than up-to-date shops, are galleries, automobile salons and architectural beauties of the Worth Avenue section we traveled not only through miles of beauty but traveled as well through striking evidence of the growth of Palm Beach.

Picture to yourself a native Indian, reincarnated if you like, straying from an old Indian trail through the jungle to the heart of the modern Palm Beach, dressed in loin cloth, moccasins and feathered headgear, to encounter seasonal residents dressed in the latest creations from Paris and New York strolling on concrete walks or whizzing by in gas devil-carts. It is an open question which would be the more surprised yet all would be Palm Beachites in the truest sense of the word.

PALM BEACH CLUB ACTIVITIES

NE of the most anticipated events of the season is the annual Romany performance which will be presented tomorrow night (Wednesday, February 24) in the Orange Garden of the Everglades Club, an event which is stimulating much social activity.

"On the Road to Vienna" is the title of this year's musical production, which, according to Mr. and Mrs. George A. Dobyne, who were responsible for organizing the Romany Chorus four years ago, will eclipse even the ambitious production of "I Pagliacci," which was given last year.

"Romany Tom," John Charles Thomas, the eminent baritone who returned last week to join Mrs. Thomas at the home of her mother, Mrs. George A. Dobyne, will sing with his tribe for the first time in four years. Among his selections will be a song composed exclusively for the Romanies by Ernest Charles which has never been sung before. Grand Opera star, premier baritone of the Royal Opera, Brussels, and of the Chicago and Philadelphia Opera companies, to the world at large, in Palm Beach tomorrow, this well loved singer will be just one of the Romanies.

This year the chorus will appear with its own orchestra for the first time. Mrs. Mary Miller Trowsell, violinist, is the leader and those comprising the orchestra are Edna Freund, pianist; Henrietta Idner, Mittie Steen, Nelle Vivian and Jack Lewis, violin; Charlotte Eckler, viola; Sidney Trowsell, mandolin; Lyman Hall, banjo; Pauline Burke Carr, guitar; and Billie McKendrick, mandola.

Once a year the Romany Chorus gives a performance for its fund which provides for musical and artistic instruction, and for incidental expenses, and last year their presentation attracted a large and important assemblage. The prologue for this year entertainment was written and will be spoken by Romany Nance, and the chorus is led by El Capitan Robert Frederick Freund—a glorified chorus, gayer, livelier, more truly Gypsy than ever, singing beautifully and spreading joy with their famous Gypsy smiles. Several of the skits have been composed by the Romanies.

Among patrons and patronesses for the performance are: His Excellency, Doyle E. Carlton, Governor of Florida; Mayor and Mrs. John Shepard, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Stotesbury, Mrs. E. Hope G. Handsomely gowned women and their escorts thronged the Orange Garden of the Everglades Club on the night that "Big Bill" Tilden, world's greatest tennis player, made his appearance under floodlights on the club's courts, playing against Hans Nusslein, German net star, in singles matches; and with Albert Burke opposite Nusslein and Roman Najuch. It was the most brilliant assemblage of the season, and seldom has the Orange Garden appeared more enchanting. A golden moon descending across a starry sky shone on a crowd of socially prominent personages, adding the final picturesque detail to the scene.

Mrs. Henry Morgan Tilford, of New York and Tuxedo Park, was hostess at a large party given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Francis L. V. Hoppin, house guests of Mrs. Theodore Frelinghuysen. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Amory L. Haskell, who are visiting Mrs. Tilford at Oceanic Cottage; Mr. and Mrs. P. H. B. Frelinghuysen, Maj. and Mrs. Elisha Dyer Hubbard, Mr. and Mrs. Pierre L. Barbey, Mr. and Mrs. Howard C. Brokaw and their daughters, the Misses Edna and Marguerite Brokaw; Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. F. McCann, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Pillsbury, Mr. and Mrs. Christopher D. Smithers and their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. James Brown, Mr. James F. Brinkley and Mr. R. Stuyvesant Pierrepont; Mrs. E. H. G. Slater, Miss Annie Urquhart, Messrs. William Henry Harrison, Edward Lowber Welsh, Edward T. Stotesbury, Pierre L. Barbey, Jr., and his house guest, James A. Deering.

Others who entertained on the night of Tilden's appearance at the Everglades Club were Mr. and Mrs. Olaf N. Tevander, of Clarke Avenue, who had more than 100 guests seated with them at a lavishly decorated horseshoe-shaped table placed at the western end of the garden; Mr. and Mrs. Hendy J. Hinde, Mrs. Joseph B. Long, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Dobyne, Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Webb, Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Orr, Miss Helena McCann, Mr. Harry Oakes, Col. and Mrs. Thomas E. Murphy, Mrs. J. J. Callahan, Judge and Mrs.

Harry R. Hyde, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Osborn and Princess Melikov de Somhetie.

Miss Susie McR. Hopkins, of New York and Irvington-on-the-Hudson, recently arrived to occupy a maisonette at the Everglades Club. Miss Hopkins, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Russell Fox Hopkins, made her debut on Christmas Eve at a supper-dance given by her sister, Miss Josephine L. Hopkins, in the main ballroom of the Ritz-Carlton Hotel. The debutante is one of the most attractive and popular members of the younger set in the resort. Last year she resided with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Hopkins, at a villa which they leased on North Lake Trail.

The Bath and Tennis Club attracts representative gatherings of cottagers and their guests during the morning hours, who come to lounge on the sands, entertain at little informal parties in the cabanas, as well as more elaborately in the dining room; swim in the pool and ocean and divert themselves in countless ways, besides playing on the excellent tennis courts. Among those who patronize the Bath and Tennis are Mr. and Mrs. Amory L. Haskell with Mrs. Henry Morgan Tilford, whom they are visiting; Mrs. A. H. Dunston and Miss Barbara Dunston, guests of Mrs. Willey Lyon Kingsley; Mrs. Howard F. Whitney and Mr. and Mrs. G. H.

Godfrey Leslie, Mr. James H. R. Cromwell, Mr. Myron Bloom, Miss Billie Dove, Mr. John L. de Ruyter; Miss Elizabeth Smith, Miss Louise Brewer, Miss Virginia Waller; Mr. and Mrs. Everett W. Cady, of Woodmere, L. I., who arrived to join Mr. and Mrs. Clarence W. Cady; Mr. Nathaniel R. Norris; Mayor and Mrs. John Shepard, Jr., with Mr. and Mrs. William Ferris, Mr. and Mrs. William Ellison and Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Deland; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Slack with Mr. and Mrs. G. Horton Glover; Mr. and Mrs. Frederick S. Wheeler, Mrs. Christopher D. Smithers and Mr. James S. Brinkley.

The Colony-Ambassador Bath Club has been the scene of several enjoyable affairs during the past fortnight, among the largest being the tea given by Mrs. Catherine Legget, of South Palm Beach Avenue, in compliment to her house guest, Mrs. Edmund von Hasseln, of Pelham Manor, N. Y. The entire club was taken over for the event, and both sea-side terrace and main hall were crowded with groups from all over the island who came to meet the visitor, to dance, and to enjoy themselves as only winter vacationists in Palm Beach can.

Mr. William G. Wilson, of Phipps Plaza, chose the Florida Embassy Club recently for a charmingly appointed dinner party which he gave for a large number of friends. Old-fashioned bouquets were given to the feminine guests and the gentlemen received gardenia boutonnieres. Those who attended were Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bade, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Rauh, Mrs. Charles J. McCarthy, Mr. S. M. Minuse, Mrs. Richard Jaeckel, Mrs. P. W. Pitts and Mr. Harry Skillman.

THE past few days at the New Colonial have been marked by the arrival of many visitors and each steamer or airplane brings groups to augment the hotel and cottage colony. Mr. and Mrs. Eugene V. Homans, of Englewood, have joined the honeymoon colony at this hotel. Mrs. Homans was Miss Marian Bennett, daughter of Clarence F. Bennett, president of the Stanley Works at New Britain, Conn., where they were married. Mr. Homans is well known in golfing circles as for five succeeding years he held the New Jersey state championship and in 1930 was runner-up to Bobby Jones in the national amateur championship.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucien H. Tyng arrived this week with Dr. Wendell Mitchell from New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Ellis D. Sard, of Tuxedo Park, came on the Britannic as did Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah D. Maguire, Mrs. Emily H. Wright, Mr. Richard E. Dwight, of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Dulles, of New York, are here with Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Belin, of Washington.

Mrs. Joseph W. Odell, her daughter, Miss Helen Odell, and grandson, Master Dean Bradford, are also late arrivals.

Mrs. Dudley V. Sutphin and her daughter, Miss Elizabeth B. Sutphin, are guests from Cincinnati, accompanied by Miss Margot L. Taft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hulbert Taft.

Mrs. George J. Hill, of Boston, has her daughter, Mrs. E. M. Pickford, with her.

Other recent arrivals include Miss Agnes Clarke and her brother, John S. Clarke, Jr.; Mrs. William Comstock, of New Haven, with Mrs. Comstock Vrendenburgh, of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Scranton, of Scarsdale, have returned this season.

Mrs. Fisher Howe Booth, of Englewood, has joined her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Andrews, at the New Colonial Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. William Otis Gay, of New York, who came on the Caledonia, have their son, Master Philip D. Gay, with them.

Commander Maurice R. Pierce, U. S. N., is here with Henry H. Pierce, and from Philadelphia are Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Rea and Robert, Jr.

The Valentine Day ball in the New Colonial Grill attracted many visitors who came to dine and dance. The largest party was entertained by Sir William and Lady Wiseman.

Miss Muriel Sulley, of England, who is passing the season at the New Colonial, gave a dinner in the grill this week for Capt. and Mrs. C. J. Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Murchie, Miss Langton-Jones and Commander Langton-Jones.

Mrs. James C. Ayer gave a dinner at Ayersdale last week in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolphe L. Agassiz and their house guest, Miss Lillian Mitchell, of Boston. Dinner was served out in the patio of their home, and other guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Bullock, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Vining Davis and Mr. Henry Sherman Adams, editor of Spur.

His Excellency, the Governor and the Hon. Mrs. Bede Clifford are entering actively in Nassau social life and every week entertain a couple of evenings at dinner at Government House. In addition to British officials and their wives and local residents, there is always a number of visitors from the States included. Frequently they bring their guests on to the grill later for dancing.

Among Americans who have recently dined at Government House are Mr. Henry Sherman Adams. Mr. and Mrs. George W. Woolsey, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolphe L. Agassiz, Mr. and Mrs. Forsyth Wickes, Col. and Mrs. Ralph Isham, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frederick Brice, Mrs. John T. McCutcheon, Col. Harold Blanchard, Mr. Alan F. Winslow.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bullock, of Oyster Bay, gave a dinner at Manana, their winter home, for the Governor and the Hon. Mrs. Bede Clifford and their house guests. These include Mrs. Clifford's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Gundry, of East Orleans, Mass.; Commander J. Dugdale; Mr. Eustace Blundell; Dr. James Y. Grant, of Niagara Falls.

Dinner was served on the terrace overlooking the garden and there was a number of guests from the States.

His Excellency, the Governor and the Hon. Mrs. Bede Clifford, accompanied by their guests at Government House Hon. and Mrs. G. H. Johnson, Hon. and Mrs. Harcourt Malcolm, flew to Miami on Tuesday to remain until Friday. Commander Edmondstone, A. D. C., preceded the party by a day to perfect arrangements for their visit.

They will attend on Wednesday the race named in their honor, the Nassau handicap, at Hialeah Park, by Joseph E. Widener, and during their stay will be dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Widener.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Strebeigh gave a luncheon Wednesday at Seamark for Lady Williams-Taylor, her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic N. Watriss. Mrs. Ella Leach, Mr. George MacDonald and Commander Dugdale. On Thursday, Lady Williams-Taylor entertained 60 at dinner in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Watriss at her cottage, the Wave, and later at the Porcupine Club for dancing.

internationally known face specialist and rejuvenation expert.

THE time has come when each individual woman can be her own master in the art of rejuvenation. This great blessing has been achieved by Dr. Bertha Scher for womankind in her latest discoveries. This marvelous treatment in her effective preparations brings to life the dead tissues. Each woman can stay youthful—and the preparations also restore youth.

Dr. Bertha Scher made an exhaustive research in Vienna and as a result discovered a new special herb that grows in Hungary. Her preparations are held responsible for the fame of many of the court beauties in Europe. Dr. Scher is offering to the world this most effective and interesting preparation of her career, and many of her clients are happy and especially pleased to continue their own rejuvenation alone with these unique creams and astringents which she provides. This enables you to stay young indefinitely. For personal interview by appointment at her New York salon, 665 Fifth Avenue, phone Wickersham 2-5251.

MIAMI BILTMORE hotel

CORAL GABLES, MIAMI, FLORIDA

Marcel A. Gotschi, Managing Director

Miami Biltmore Country Club
adjoining the Hotel

Under new ownership and new policies . . with its many improvements . . the special arrangements thru new affiliations for guests' golfing, fishing, tennis, bathing and other sports, the Biltmore will be a colorful center of the southern resort season. Although the Biltmore is the world's most sumptuous resort hotel, built without regard for cost during the "peak" season of all Florida's history, its accommodations are now available at popular rates . . American and European plan.

RONEY PLAZA hotel

MIAMI BEACH, FLORIDA . . . .

Wm. G. McMeekin, Managing Director

N. B. T. Roney
PRESIDENT

London Office: Savoy Hotel. Paris Office: 3 Rue Auber

Open from Thanksgiving Day

Palm Gardens

Innovations this year include reductions in room rates and a la carte dining service . . club breakfasts at sixty cents to a dollar and the Cabana Club Luncheon at a dollar fifty, without sacrificing in the least the traditional European service and niceties of America's finest ocean-front hotel. Pool and surf bathing, without extra charge, and all the pleasures of the Roney Plaza's palm gardens, promenades and beach are privileges of every guest.

The NIGHT CAP of those who know!

MEN about town, whose happy moments are divided between entertaining and being entertained, tell us there is no cold, grey dawn in their lives.

Jitters is their answer. Whether they eat too much, drink too much, smoke too much, a tablespoonful of Jitters in a glass of water before retiring makes them wake up in the morning with head clear, stomach settled and nerves calmed.

All night long, the million little sponges in Jitters are absorbing the toxic poisons that over indulgence brings. When morning comes, there is no trace of the night before. Not a drug; not a laxative—Jitters is simply a product which Nature began and science completed. It has no bad after-effects. Jitters is good on the morning after; better the night before.

EXPAND YOUR FLORIDA VACATION WITH A 2-DAY TRIP ABROAD

See all the West Indies in two days—ride in luxurious 20 and 40 passenger, radio-equipped skyliners with exceeding comfort at 117 miles an hour.

MAKE this the greatest winter trip you ever had. Have real stories to tell the folks back home, the men at the club, about the glorious Spanish Main where pirates used to roam. See all the West Indies in two days since P. A. A. added wings and bullet-speed to the comfort of modern transportation. Cuba, Haiti, Santo Domingo, Porto Rico, Virgin Islands, Antigua, Santa Lucia, and Port of Spain, Trinidad. What a trip! And what a way to make it!

New reduced round trip fares, too. Special all-expense cruises to Havana, Nassau, Jamaica and Panama, including rooms with bath at best hotels, meals, and sightseeing.

Plenty of other places to go, too, with equal speed and comfort. Merida, Yucatan, in 7 hours; Jamaica in 7 hours; Mexico City in 47 hours; South America in 1½ days; Panama in 2 days; Bogota, Colombia, in 2½ days; Rio de Janeiro in 6 days; Lima, Peru, in 4 days; Santiago, Chile, in 6 days; Buenos Aires and Montevideo in 7½ days.

It's easy to get more details, to make reservations. Call your hotel porter, see any travel bureau, or phone our Miami office, 44 Biscayne Blvd. (day or night), Miami 2-4188.

Ask about all-expense air-cruises to Havana, Nassau, Jamaica and Panama. 1 day to 10 days, including rooms with bath at best hotels, meals, and sightseeing.

THE NEW BUICK

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT, BUICK WILL

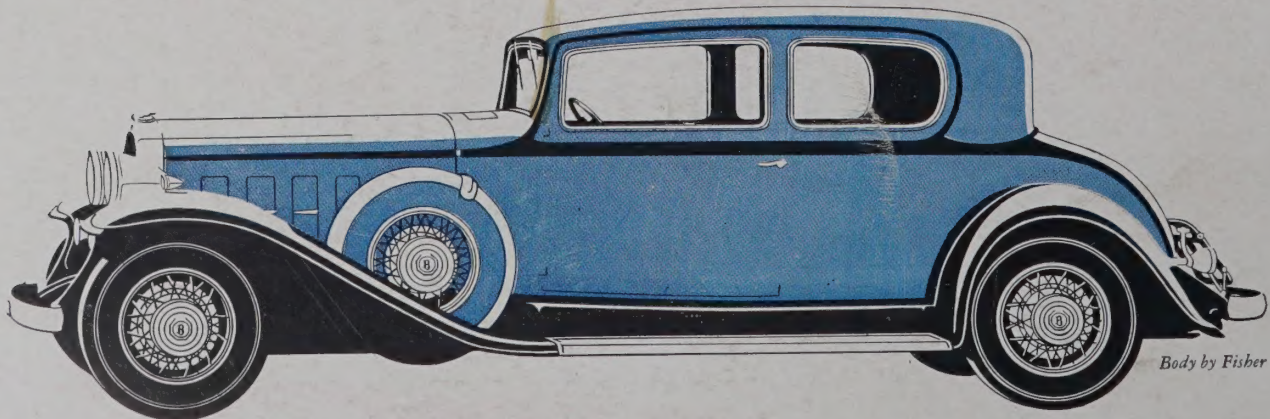

with WIZARD CONTROL

BUILD THEM . . . PRODUCT OF GENERAL MOTORS

AS MODERN AS TOMORROW

The New Buick Eight affords more than a glimpse into the future—it gives more than a mere idea of what the cars of tomorrow will be like. In beauty of line and color; in richness and luxury of appointments—it is indeed as modern as tomorrow. Its smooth and effortless performance, enhanced by such new features of operation as the Wizard Control, also bespeaks tomorrow's advancements. To appreciate fully all that it means to own a new Buick Eight, however, you should enjoy the personal experience of driving it. Then only will you realize the outstanding values it provides in performance and economy; the distinction it affords in appearance and luxury.
